Revision 1 corrects and expands parts of the Cunningham, Cozzens, and Siefke families, especially Frederick, my great-great-granduncle

Introduction

Purpose

This genealogy is a tribute to our family's rich and varied past, created for my children, their spouses, and our grandchildren so they can see where they come from and how earlier lives and choices have shaped their own story. It traces the ancestral and descendant lines of several interconnected families, drawing together records and stories into a single family volume. This is the public version of that effort.

Background

About forty years ago, this research began with two primary resources: Alexander Ross Piper's unpublished research and Charles Donnell's "A Genealogy of Donnell, Langford and Other Families." Over time, as archives opened, records came online, and new connections surfaced, the project expanded into a wider family web. Along the way, three related papers grew out of this research, each prepared in two forms: a family-only version with more detail, and a public version with limited information about living relatives.

Related Publications

The first of these, "West Point Connections – Pipers, Cozzens, Donnells, and Others," follows our Revolutionary War ancestors and their descendants to the present and has been deposited with the United States Military Academy Library and the Rhode Island Historical Society. The second, "Pipers, Cozzens and Pennsylvania Connections," focuses on the pre-Revolutionary Piper line and its East Coast relatives and has been of particular interest to the Bucks County, Pennsylvania Historical Society. The third, "Donnells, Langfords, Knipps, Hibbelers and their Connections," emphasizes the Donnell line and related families and was shared with the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, Texas. This genealogy draws on the same research base but is organized by major family branches for easier reading and contains updated information not included in the earlier works.

The goal here has been to trace ancestors back, where possible, to before the American Revolution, to connect them to their European or earlier roots, and to carry those lines forward to present-day relatives. Rather than searching only for deep roots or famous connections, the emphasis is on documenting a broad network of cousins and in-laws so that the family web is as complete and meaningful as the evidence allows. In some branches—particularly newer lines such as the Fabre and Camarillo families—there are inevitable gaps, and these are noted in the text with the hope that future researchers in the family will fill them.

Readers should expect that some conclusions will be revised as new records are discovered, and corrections, additions, and clarifications from family members are welcome.

Guide to Parts

This genealogy is organized into several major Parts, each centered on a set of closely related families. Within each Part, individual sections are arranged by ancestral couple or key progenitor, following their descendants forward.

Part I: Donnell and Siefke Ancestors
This Part covers the author's paternal and maternal lines. The Donnell section traces great-grandparents and their forebears in the MacDonald, Langford, Knipp, and Hibbeler families, back to European roots and forward through their descendants. The Donnell connection to Glencoe is one controversy which I cannot resolve. The family lore about Langford brothers deserting the British Army after the Revolutionary War has been disproven by genetic analysis. First, there was no ASA; second, the Langford family had lived in the same area of Virginia as Thomas Jefferson when he was born. The Knipp and Hibbeler families came from Prussia after our Civil War.

The Siefke section does the same for the Siefke, Von Dohlen, Piper, Pollock, and Trexler families, incorporating and updating the work of Alexander Ross Piper on the Piper line. The Siefke brothers arrived in about 1835 and were successful in business and law.

Part II: Cunningham and Reed Ancestors
This Part presents Carolyn Cunningham's paternal and maternal heritage. The Cunningham section follows a loyalist-era line beginning with Daniel Cunningham in New York and continuing into Ontario, along with associated Orser, Hartley, and Bonter families. Three of the four lines left the colonies after the Revolutionary War. All were farmers initially.

The Reed section documents a shorter but important line, including the Nash family, and incorporates the Saucier family as the in-laws of a Reed descendant.

Part III: Fabre, Sica, Camarillo, and Maldonado Families
Here the focus shifts to the families of in-laws who married into our children's generation. For son Tyler's in-laws, the Fabre family (with the Castillo connection) and the Sica family (with the Zullo connection) are included. For our daughter's in-laws, the Camarillo family (with the Herrera connection) and the Maldonado family (with the Galvin connection) are presented. These lines add cultural depth and "spice and salsa" to the broader family story, even where the records are not yet as complete.

Part IV: Donnell Cousins' Families
This Part adds the paternal ancestors of the author's Donnell cousins whose families intersect with the Texas Panhandle branch. It includes the Bauer, Roach, and Brewster families, tracing how these lines connect into the Donnell network and rounding out the story of that regional cluster of relatives.

Part V: Piper Cousins and Earlier Piper Ancestors
The final Part brings together additional Piper-related lines. One section covers the Piper cousins' families—Oates, Smith, Reynolds, Fitch, Outram, Buschardt, and Montlaur—many of whom share the connection to the Farm or Peppeneghek. Subsequent sections treat earlier and collateral Piper lines, grouped as "Piper Pennsylvania Families" (Lusk, Elder, Espy) and "More Piper Ancestor Families" (Ross, Biddis, Berlier, Van Dyck, Barkulo, Chrystie, and Ricketts), highlighting the pre-Revolutionary and Civil War-era background of the Piper branch.

How to Approach This Document

Readers do not need to start at the beginning and read straight through. Most will prefer to begin with the Part that contains "their" surname or immediate ancestors, then explore outward to the connecting lines. For those who wish to see how all the branches fit together, the Table of Contents, along with the Index Of Names, will serve as a roadmap to the family's shared past.

Methods and Limitations

The computer program that helps generate this for me automatically connects the different families back to the earliest presented in order. As a result, it reduces a lot of duplication, but not all of it.

The author is constrained by the information available; this work is comprehensive in scope, but never complete. Many parts of the Donnell family documented by Dr. Charles E. Donnell, for example, are not included because they were unknown to me and didn't fit my focus on the Panhandle Donnells.

Some parts of the family have provided more narrative or general input than others and for that I am grateful. I am always looking for more and better information, including pictures both current and old.

The Future

I am happy to admit that after my illness of five years ago that hampered my golf game and eliminated my skiing, this has been a mental lifeline, replacing what I had planned to do in retirement. The addition of a pacemaker recently reminds me, as it should all of us, that we are not on this globe forever.

I expect this to be the last "big" volume, but I will continue to update information as I receive it and, if significant, publish revisions as needed so the family record stays alive.

As an aside, this effort includes about two thirds of the total number of people appearing on my website. The website includes many more pictures, more than 800 total.

Part I – Donnell and Siefke Ancestors

Donnell Ancestors

Generation One

1. Alexander MACDONALD (395) was born circa 1610 in Glencoe, Argyll, Scotland. He married Marcella Helena Archibald (3946), daughter of Thomas Archibald (3953) and Catherine Hay (3948). He was killed at the age of 82 with his wife in the Glencoe Massacre on 13 February 1692.[1]

His official name and title were Alasdair MacIain MacDonald (395), 12th Chief of the Glencoe MacDonald Clan.[2] If he was 80 when he was killed in the Glencoe Massacre, based on reports, then the often reported birthdate of 1630 makes little sense. According to Charles Donnell's account, Scotland was undergoing serious civil and religious strife. The rulers in Scotland had accepted the Roman Catholic faith and many Protestants had begun leaving for Ireland. Soon after, the Irish officially adopted the Catholic faith and the emigrants continued their move westward.

Members of the MacDonald clan who remained were targeted by King William and more than 30 were killed at Glencoe, either outright, or by being left to starve or freeze to death. The elder Alexander MacDonald and his wife were told they would be spared but were killed anyway. Charles' account attributes the massacre to Clan Campbell, but the issue was more complicated.

The MacDonalds and Campbells had competed for the same territory in Scotland for generations, the northwest coast of Scotland and the islands. Their feuds dated back to the 1400's. By the late 1600's, the power of the Campbells had increased, while the MacDonald's power had waned. In fact, Glencoe and the other regions occupied by the MacDonalds were largely surrounded by the Campbells who could make travel difficult if they wanted to.[3]

The Wikipedia page provides a detailed accounting. The MacDonalds had sworn allegiance to King James and, after the Jacobite rebellion had failed, had not sworn allegiance to King William and Queen Mary, for which the penalty was death. Robert Campbell of Glenlyon was the commander of a small force of which some of the soldiers were also Campbells. The total force sent against the MacDonalds was about 400.[4]

There is a different version on the wikitree genealogy site that is much more charitable to Campbell. At the wikitree site, there is a link to a documentary of the Massacre of Glencoe.

The following is extracted from the wikitree site:

> "Alexander, 12th Chief of Macdonald of Glencoe was late in taking his oath of allegiance to King William. As a result, it was decided to make an example out of the clan. A plan was hatched and on February 13, 1692. Alexander along with 37 other clan members were murdered by the Earl of Argyll's Regiment of Foot under the command of Captain Robert Campbell of Glenlyon. ... He was to spare none below the age of seventy. The resulting massacre is remembered not just for its premeditated brutality but for its violation of an unwritten code of conduct: the perpetrators of the deed had enjoyed the hospitality of their victims for twelve days before turning on them. In 1688 the removal of James II and VII in favor of William of Orange had led to the first ever Jacobite uprising. Its leader, Viscount Dundee, died at the battle of Killiecrankie and the rebellion broke up. All that remained was to pacify the Highland chiefs who had joined the enterprise. To this end a proclamation was issued in August 1691 requiring clan chiefs to take the Oath of Allegiance to King William by Hogmanay that year. By the accident of reporting to the wrong official at the last possible moment, Clan MacDonald of Glencoe missed the vital deadline. Secretary of State James Dalymple, Master of Stair, was no friend to the MacDonalds. This was the excuse he had been waiting for. The order for the massacre went ahead. The chief, 33 other men, 2 women, and 2 children were killed. In defiance of his orders Robert Campbell spared the nearly one hundred women and children from slaughter and chose instead to drive them into the dark of a winter nights storm. Of which, all but a few were able to survive.[5]"

Yet another website, "Highland Titles" provides a very balanced description of the events leading up to the massacre.[6] My efforts on the Donnell genealogy builds on the work of Charles E Donnell, “A Genealogy of Donnell, Langford and Other Families”. He collaborated with Emma A and James Arthur Donnell who wrote “The Donnells and their Macdonald Ancestors, A History and Genealogy, 157 to 1927 A. D.”

I have recently discovered another source: "MacDonald McDonald Family Records," by J Montgomery Seaver that was published in 1929. This work identifies our Bryan McDonald as a Lieutenant Bryan McDonald, born in Ireland and a member of the army of King James II. This is certainly a possible ancestry branch. I stayed with our family version for several reasons:

> 1) The MacDonalds of Glencoe had not been doing particularly well and it is unlikely that Alexander MacIan MacDonald would have left his home turf and sired a son in Ireland.
> 2) In his will, Bryan MacDonald spelled his name both MacDonald and MacDonnell, but not McDonald. His will was signed with a mark, not an actual signature, which means his will may have been dictated to a family member or lawyer who was responsible for the spelling. It is unlikely that, even if Bryan spent a year or so in Ireland enroute to the colonies that he would have changed it to McDonald to fit in, then back to MacDonald in the colonies.[7]

Marcella Helena ARCHIBALD (3946) was born in 1625 in Keppoch, Isle of Skye, Scotland. She died on 13 February 1692 in Glencoe, Argyll, Scotland. She was known by her family and friends as Mary (3946).

The three known children of Alexander MacDonald (395) and Marcella Helena Archibald (3946) were as follows:

2 i. Bryan MACDONALD (394) was born on 11 November 1645 in Glencoe, Scotland. He married Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) in 1665 in Aklow, Leinster, Wicklow, Ireland. He died in February 1707 in New Castle, Delaware, USA, at age 61. His estate was probated on 19 March 1707 after the will was written on 23 February 1707. That would establish his death as late February or early March 1707.

ii. John MACDONALD (1782) was born circa 1657. He died circa 1714.

iii. Alexander MACDONALD (1783) was born in 1663. He died in 1707.

2. Bryan MACDONALD (394) was born on 11 November 1645 in Glencoe, Scotland.[8] He married Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) in 1665 in Aklow, Leinster, Wicklow, Ireland.[9] He died in February 1707 in New Castle, Delaware, USA, at age 61.[10] His estate was probated on 19 March 1707 after the will was written on 23 February 1707. That would establish his death as late February or early March 1707.[11]

He was also known as Brian (394).[12] He and Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) emigrated in 1686, after a brief stay (perhaps 2 years) in the north of Ireland, and settled, with their first three children, in Mill Creek Hundred, New Castle, Delaware, USA.[13] This land was initially part of Pennsylvania. From the source:

> Penn's New Castle Warrants records 200 acres to Bryan Mac Donald on Nov. 1, 1689. There was also record of a deed to him for "354 acres and 19 acres over' on Red Clay Creek, dated December 20, 1703. This shows that he was of the better class of immigrants and had money to buy land. Many settlers at this date had insufficient money to pay passage over and bound themselves for a certain length of time to the person who furnished the passage money.[14]

A will discovered by John A. Donnell indicated that Bryan spelled his name both MacDonnell and Mac Donald in the text of the will and signed it MacDonald. Occasionally the spelling adopted the Irish form of McDonald from their time in Ireland.

The variations from the original Mac Donald used by Bryan's descendants include MacDonnell, MacDonald, Donald (just dropped the Mac), Donnald, Donneld, and McDonald.[15]

Mary Jane Combs DOYLE (396) was born in 1647. She died in 1709.

The seven known children of Bryan MacDonald (394) and Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) were as follows:

3 i. John MACDONNELL (397) was born in 1679 in Glencoe, Scotland. He died in 1755 in New Castle, Delaware, USA.

4 ii. William MCDONNELL (393) was born in 1681 in Glencoe, Scotland. He married Mary (?) (3573). He died in January 1730.

iii. James MACDONALD (398) was born in 1683 in Glencoe, Scotland. He died after 1751.

5 iv. Colonel Bryan MACDONALD II (514) was born in November 1686 in Mill Creek Hundred, New Castle, Delaware, USA. He married Catherine Robinson (3121), daughter of James Robinson (3122), in 1715 in Delaware, USA. He died on 21 May 1757 in Botetourt, Virginia, USA, at age 70.

v. Mary MACDONALD (515) was born in 1689 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. She married (?) Danger (3120). She died after 1707.

vi. Richard MACDONALD (1760) was born in 1691 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. He died in 1730.

vii. Anabel MACDONALD (516) was born in 1693 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. She married Andrew (?) (4161) on 25 November 1751 in Wilmington, New Castle, Delaware, USA. She died on 11 April 1800 in Peters Township, Franklin, Pennsylvania, USA.

Generation Three

3. John MACDONNELL (397) was born in 1679 in Glencoe, Scotland. He died in 1755 in New Castle, Delaware, USA.[16]

John MacDonnell is the progenitor and primary interest of the authors of "The Donnell History" and "The Donnells - The Family in America.[17]" From the source:

> John, the eldest son of the immigrant, Bryan, called himself, "MacDonnell" and settled in Cumberland County, Pa., where he left four children, Thomas, James, John and Samuel. Of these, Thomas resided in Pennsylvania; James residence not known; and John and Samuel settled in South Carolina. It is from the Pennsylvania line that many of the name of Donnell in Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa trace their descent.[18]

[17]Emma A and James Arthur Donnell, The Donnells, p. 43.

[18]Donnell, Donnell-Langford, p. 7.

He settled in Big Spring, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA, in 1735.[19] He was mistakenly identified as Thomas (397) in the book "The Donnell History" published in 1912.

Known children of John MacDonnell (397) all born New Castle, Delaware, USA include these four:

i. Samuel MACDONNELL (402) was born after 1690.

ii. James MACDONNELL (400) was born after 1690.

iii. John MACDONNELL (401) was born after 1690.

6 iv. Thomas MACDONNELL (399) was born circa 1715. He died in 1775.

4. William MCDONNELL (393) was born in 1681 in Glencoe, Scotland.[20] He married Mary (?) (3573). He died in January 1730.[21]

He settled in Cecil County, Maryland. William dropped the "Mac" and picked up the "Mc". His three sons dropped the "Mc" completely.

He moved to Cumberland County, then part of Lancaster County about 1743, then on to Guilford County, Carolina.

He bought 320 acres on North Buffalo in 1760 from Thomas Donnell and settled here.[22]

The three known children of William McDonnell (393) and Mary (?) (3573) were as follows:

7 i. Thomas DONNELL Sr (392) was born circa 1712 in Delaware, USA. There is a possibility that it may have been Ireland. He married Jane Latham (404) in 1743 in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, USA. He died in 1795 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was likely buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA, but it is not confirmed.

8 ii. James DONNELL Sr (421) was born in 1725 in Ireland. He married Margaret Edminston (422), daughter of William Edminston (423). He died in 1796 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

9 iii. Robert DONNELL Sr (408) was born in 1728 in the North of Ireland. He married Mary (?) (403). He died in 1816.

He was also known as McDonald (514). He moved in 1745 to Botetourt, Virginia, USA.[26] Note: In this report, Bryan used the surname McDonald and the genealogy connects back to an Alexander McDonald of Ireland. See my prior note on Alexander MacDonald and the origins of the Bryan MacDonald line.

The nine known children of Colonel Bryan MacDonald II (514) and Catherine Robinson (3121) were as follows:

i. Richard MACDONALD (4150) was born in 1716.

ii. James MACDONALD (4151) was born in 1718.

iii. Edward MACDONALD (4152) was born in 1720. He died in 1760. Killed by Indians.

iv. Joseph MACDONALD (4153) was born on 4 April 1722 in Mill Creek Hundred, New Castle, Delaware, USA. He married Elizabeth Ogle (4154) on 17 February 1754 at Del Holy Triity Church in Wilmington, New Castle, Delaware, USA. He died in May 1809 in Blacksburg, Montgomery, Virginia, USA, at age 87. He was buried at the McDonald/Bane Cemetery in Montgomery, Virginia, USA.

v. Rebecca MACDONALD (4155) was born in 1724.

vi. Catharine MACDONALD (4156) was born in 1727.

vii. Mary MACDONALD (4157) was born on 19 January 1730. She married Tobias Smith (4158).

viii. Bryan MACDONALD Jr (4159) was born in 1732.

ix. Pricilla MACDONALD (4160) was born in 1734.

Generation Four

6. Thomas MACDONNELL (399) was born circa 1715 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. He died in 1775 in Big Spring, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[27]

Known children of Thomas MacDonnell (399) include these six:

i. Moses DONNELL (3136).

ii. John DONNELL (3134).

iii. Thomas DONNELL (3135).

iv. Samuel DONNELL (3137).

v. Alexander DONNELL (3138).

10 vi. James DONNELL (1761) was born in 1739 in Hopewell, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Catherine Gibson (1762), daughter of Samuel Gibson (3124), in 1764. He died in 1784 in Kentucky, USA. He and Catherine Gibson (1762) were buried together in the Fall of 1784 at North Bank of the Licking River in Bourbon, Kentucky, USA.

7. Thomas DONNELL Sr (392) was born circa 1712 in Delaware, USA. There is a possibility that it may have been Ireland.[29] He married Jane Latham (404) in 1743 in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, USA. He died in 1795 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was likely buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA, but it is not confirmed.

In 1737, Thomas Donnell Sr (392) and Jane Latham (404) moved to Pennsylvania. From a genealogy by Susan Murphy, undated, titled "Donnell Family": Thomas and his brother Robert are on the tax rolls for

From the source:

> "In 1741 the neighborhood was visited by a minister named George Whitefield. Thousands of [parishioners] throughout the area heard his message, which was strongly influenced by the emotionalism of John Wesley. So powerful was his preaching that it aroused great dissension within the churches, many of them, including Nottingham, splitting into two separate congregations, referred to as the "Old Side" (conservatives) and the "New Side" (followers of Whitefield).

In about 1750 a group of members of the "Old Side" church at Nottingham formed a company to negotiate with the English Lord Granville, who owned vast tracts of land in Carolina. As a result, 21,120 acres along North Buffalo and Reedy Fork Creeks, in what would become Guilford County, North Carolina, were set aside for members of the Nottingham Company. About 1753 the first families arrived to take up their grants, going by way of the Great Wagon Road through Maryland and Virginia to the Carolina back country in covered wagons. At least seventeen families eventually arrived to settle on the Nottingham Company's grant.[31]"

From Rankin, to remind those of us who grew up in relative prosperity:

"Our ancestors were real pioneers. All this section between North Buffalo and Reedy Fork Creeks was heavily covered with oak, chestnut, hickory, and poplar timber and thick underbrush. Even as late as 1781, after the Guilford Court House battle. General Greene, in reporting that battle to Congress, says: "The greater part of this country is a wilderness, with a few cleared fields interspersed here and there."

Their first job was to clear the land and build their homes. Only a few acres could be cleared per year, and their first homes were the rudest log cabins. Their food must have been very plain and without any variety. They were having a hard time those first few years.

We have no local history describing their living conditions, but we have John Hill Martin's history which gives a minute description of the early living conditions of the first settlers in Pennsylvania. He relates that their homes were small one-room log cabins with one door and one small window and the window had no glass, just a wooden shutter. The cabins were covered with thatch or clapboards. The chimneys were usually built of sticks and mud. The floors were dirt. Their food, to a large extent, was the flesh of wild animals, and that without salt most of the time. Both men and women usually wore clothes and hats made from the skins of wild beasts. Their shoes were made from raw hides. Their furniture was hand made from rough materials. The coverings for their beds were usually the pelts of deer, beavers, bears, and wolves. No doubt this is a pretty good description of the living conditions of our ancestors for the first few years after they settled here in a wilderness. We do know their cabins were very crude and that the floors were dirt.

> Wild animals were numerous, and they could secure their meat by killing buffaloes, bears, deer and squirrels. Wild fowls were plentiful, such as turkeys and quail; and also wild geese and wild pigeons in their season. Even as late as one hundred years ago the wild pigeons were still so numerous in their migration season that in passing over, they would at times hide the sun like a big cloud. The creeks were well stocked with fish. This would have been a veritable paradise for sportsmen, but our ancestors hunted and fished more for their food supply than for sport.
> Their patches of wheat were cut with a small hand sickle, flailed from the straw, then separated from the chaff by pouring it from a platform on a windy day; and both wheat and corn were pounded into meal, or ground with a small hand mill, like our old coffee mills. With such crude methods of harvesting and handling wheat they could raise only small patches. Wheat bread was a rarity to be enjoyed only for breakfast on Sunday morning. Corn was the main crop and supplied bread for the family and feed for the stock.[32]

The Buffalo Presbyterian Church was located just north of the center of Greensboro, North Carolina and its location has been absorbed as the city expanded. Thomas was a ruling elder.[33] Thomas had a tavern, probably a stopping place for travelers, in his home in 1754. In 1756 Thomas was Captain of a company in the Rowan County regiment of militia. From 1756 until at least 1770, he was a Justice of the Peace.[34] In 1760, Thomas sold three hundred twenty acres of land to his brother James on the North Buffalo.[35] Rankin, in the History of the Buffalo Church, has a lengthy discussion of the Revolutionary War. In North Carolina, most of the fighting was between the English loyalists (Toreys) and the colonists who were Whigs. It was more like gang or clan warfare than organized militias. Participation of the Donnells, especially Thomas's sons was extensive. Most of his sons were in companies organized by Captain William Donnell or his brother Major John Donnell.

Rankin, discussing the Battle at Guilford Courthouse, wrote that the members of the Presbyterian congregations (Buffalo and Alamance) who were able bodied all fought for or in support of Major General Nathanael Greene. Many joined him later through the end of the war.[36]

Jane LATHAM (404) was born in 1718 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA.[37] She died in 1784 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[38] She was buried at the Alamance Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[39]

The 11 known children of Thomas Donnell Sr (392) and Jane Latham (404) were as follows:

i. James DONNELL (405) was born in 1744 in Pennsylvania, USA. It is assumed that the children born before the move to the Nottingham Colony in North Carolina were born in Pennsylvania. He married Agnes Denny (424), daughter of William Denny Sr (425) and Anne (?) (2488). He died in 1811 in Tennessee, USA.

11 ii. Hannah DONNELL (406) was born in 1746 in Pennsylvania, USA. She married Alexander McKnight (2484). She married George Denny (446), son of James Denny Sr (449) and Mary Agnes Aldren (1887), on 23 February 1775 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. She died in 1803.

12 iii. Major John DONNELL (407) was born on 4 January 1748 in West Nottingham, Chester, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Hanna Meek (1885) circa 1771. He married Elizabeth Denny (1886), daughter of James Denny Sr (449) and Mary Agnes Aldren (1887), on 1 November 1781 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He died on 7 May 1822 in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA, at age 74. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA. Their double stone reads in part, "They were both pious and exemplary members of the church at this place."

13 iv. Captain William DONNELL (78) was born in 1749 in Pennsylvania, USA. He married Nancy Jane Denny (448), daughter of James Denny Sr (449) and Mary Agnes Aldren (1887), on 26 July 1775 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He died on 22 December 1822 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

v. Robert DONNELL (427) was born on 10 August 1752 in Pennsylvania, USA. He married Elizabeth Donnell (3429), daughter of Robert Donnell (The Second) (435) and Mary Jane Jackson (436), on 26 July 1775 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He died on 15 February 1816 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA, at age 63.

vi. Thomas DONNELL Jr (409) was born in 1754 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He married Margaret King (3296) in 1786.

14 vii. Andrew DONNELL (410) was born on 17 April 1757 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He married Nancy Agnes Brawley (451), daughter of John Brawley (452), on 29 September 1779 in Rowan, North Carolina, USA. He married Mary Creswell (453) on 24 November 1819 in Rowan, North Carolina, USA. He died on 24 December 1835 in Rowan, North Carolina, USA, at age 78.

15viii. George DONNELL Sr (411) was born on 4 July 1759 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He married Isabella Kerr (518), daughter of David Kerr (519) and Catherine (?) (4059), on 6 August 1784. He died in 1839 in Lebanon, Wilson, Tennessee, USA.

ix. Jane DONNELL (517) was born in 1761 in Rowan, North Carolina, USA. She married William Scott (3297) in 1791. She died in 1828. She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

x. Latham DONNELL (412) was born circa 1763 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He married Lydia Forbis (2493), daughter of Arthur Forbis (3159) and Lydia (?) (3160). He married Charlotte Mitchell (2486), daughter of Adam Mitchell (4060). He died in 1828 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

xi. Alexander DONNELL (413) circa 1764. He died in 1773 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

8. James DONNELL Sr (421) was born in 1725 in Ireland.[40] He married Margaret Edminston (422), daughter of William Edminston (423). He died in 1796 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[41] He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[42]

He joined his brother Thomas in the Nottingham Colony in North Carolina in about 1760. He was a farmer.[43]

Margaret EDMINSTON (422) was born in 1740.[44] She died after 1784 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[45] She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

The eight known children of James Donnell Sr (421) and Margaret Edminston (422) were as follows:

i. Jean DONNELL (4171).

ii. James DONNELL (4173) died in 1796.

iii. Margaret DONNELL (428) was born in 1761 in Rowan, North Carolina, USA. She married John Cunningham Jr. (466), son of John Cunningham (4162) and Mary (?) (4163), in 1786. She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

iv. Hannah DONNELL (430) was born on 15 February 1775. She married James Denny (3411) in 1799. She died in 1800. She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

16 v. Thomas DONNELL (432) was born in 1777 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He married Nancy Rankin (464), daughter of John Rankin (465) and Hannah Carson (4122), on 28 January 1801 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He died on 20 March 1845 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

vi. Elizabeth DONNELL (431) was born in 1781. She died in 1802. She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

vii. Mary DONNELL (433) was born in 1782 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. She married Joseph Rankin (467), son of John Rankin (465) and Hannah Carson (4122), in 1805. She died on 23 September 1827 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. She was buried at the Alamance Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

17viii. Samuel Edminston DONNELL (434) was born on 25 June 1783. He married Anna Rankin (468), daughter of William Rankin (469) and Jane Chambers (4147), in 1800. He died in 1858. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

9. Robert DONNELL Sr (408) was born in 1728 in the North of Ireland.[46] He married Mary (?) (403).[47] He died in 1816.

He joined his brother Thomas in the Nottingham Colony in North Carolina in about 1753. Because there were two Robert Donnell's in the Colony, and he was first to arrive, he was known as "Robert, The First.[48]" He secured two sections, one on North Buffalo and one on Reedy Fork. He first located on North Buffalo Creek and later moved to Reedy Fork. In 1786 he bought one thousand acres on Big Troublesome Creek in Rockingham County.[49] Rankin notes that the four Donnells must have been closely related. Thomas Sr and Robert Sr were brothers. James Sr and Robert (the Second) may have been nephews.[50]

The five known children of Robert Donnell Sr (408) and Mary (?) (403) were as follows:

i. Thomas DONNELL (417) was born in 1754.

18 ii. Mary DONNELL (418) was born in 1756. She married James Denny (458), son of William Denny Sr (425) and Anne (?) (2488), in 1772. She married John McAdoo (459) in 1782. She died in 1782. She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

iii. William DONNELL (420) married Martha Denny (460), daughter of William Denny (461).

iv. Robert DONNELL (4170).

v. John DONNELL (3568) was born in 1753. He married Sarah Donnell (3430), daughter of Robert Donnell (The Second) (435) and Mary Jane Jackson (436), in 1779 at Guilford College in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He died in 1803 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

Generation Five

10. James DONNELL (1761) was born in 1739 in Hopewell, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[51] He married Catherine Gibson (1762), daughter of Samuel Gibson (3124), in 1764. He died in 1784 in Kentucky, USA. He and Catherine Gibson (1762) were buried together in the Fall of 1784 at North Bank of the Licking River in Bourbon, Kentucky, USA.[52]

He immigrated in 1767 to Botetourt, Virginia, USA, then to Westmoreland, Pennsylvania in 1775. He then moved to Kentucky in 1784, where he and his wife died in an epidemic.[53] James Donnell served as a Frontier Ranger and a Private at various times during the American Revolution. As a Frontier Ranger he served from 1778 to 1783 on occasion with Shrader's Rangers, Northern Levies in Bedford County, Pennsylvania, under Lieutenant Jacob Creamer. He also served as a Private in the Revolutionary Army as indicated in the records in the Pennsylvania Archives.

He then moved to Kentucky in 1784, where he and his wife died in an epidemic.

Catherine GIBSON (1762) died in 1784 in Kentucky, USA.

The seven known children of James Donnell (1761) and Catherine Gibson (1762) were as follows:

i. Thomas DONNELL (1763) was born on 11 June 1765 in Carlisle, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Nancy Barr (3123) on 16 June 1789. He died in December 1833 in Decatur, Indiana, USA, at age 68.

ii. Samuel DONNELL (1777) was born on 23 November 1769 in Augusta, Virginia, USA. He married Hannah Quiett (3147), daughter of James Quiett (3148), on 8 August 1793.

19 iii. Elizabeth DONNELL (1764) was born in 1767 in Big Spring, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA. She married James McCoy (1765) in Hinkston Station, Kentucky, USA. She married John Donnelson (1767).

20 iv. Margaret DONNELL (1778) was born in 1772 in Botetourt, Virginia, USA. She married Samuel Knox (3139) after 12 December 1790 in Carlisle, Kentucky, USA.

v. Martha DONNELL (1780) was born circa 1778 in Pennsylvania, USA. She married John Stevens (3146).

vi. James DONNELL (1779).

21 vii. James DONNELL (1781) was born on 20 June 1780 in Westmoreland, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Mary Quiett (3149), daughter of James Quiett (3148), on 2 October 1802. He died on 17 December 1813 at age 33 of an epidemic known as the "cold plague."

11. Hannah DONNELL (406) was born in 1746 in Pennsylvania, USA.[54] She married Alexander McKnight (2484).[55] She married George Denny (446), son of James Denny Sr (449) and Mary Agnes Aldren (1887), on 23 February 1775 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[56] She died in 1803.

Alexander MCKNIGHT (2484) was born circa 1737. He died in 1774.

The only known child of Hannah Donnell (406) and Alexander McKnight (2484) was:

i. Robert (?) (4069).

George DENNY (446) was born circa 1745. He died on 5 January 1816.[57]

There were no known children of Hannah Donnell (406) and George Denny (446).

12. Major John DONNELL (407) was born on 4 January 1748 in West Nottingham, Chester, Pennsylvania, USA.[58] He married Hanna Meek (1885) circa 1771.[59] He married Elizabeth Denny (1886), daughter of James Denny Sr (449) and Mary Agnes Aldren (1887), on 1 November 1781 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[60] He died on 7 May 1822 in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA, at age 74.[61] He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA. Their double stone reads in part, "They were both pious and exemplary members of the church at this place.[62]"

He served as a Captain and later a Major in the Guilford County Regiment of Militia in the Revolutionary War. His SAR registry number is #A033155.

He was a company commander in the Battle of Camden under the command of Colonel John Peasley, where he survived a defeat of the unit by Cornwallis. A George Donnell, possibly his younger brother, was listed as a known sergeant.[63]

From "The Donnells," citing an effort by Inez Hannaford:

> "During the Revolutionary War, there was an epidemic of smallpox in Guilford County. The British Army had brought it to the neighborhood. One of the Rankins, a young soldier who had been captured by the British, escaped and headed for home. By the time he got there, he was very sick, but the many relatives and friends who came to welcome him home did not recognize the disease until many had been exposed . It spread through the Buffalo Church congregation, and one of those who became infected was John's wife Hannah.

> Inez Hannaford writes, "When his first wife Hannah Meek was on her death bed with small pox, Elizabeth Denny, a very true friend who had just recovered from the same malady, came to care for her. Hannah told Elizabeth she was going to die and wanted her to take her place. She also told her husband that was her wish. About six months after her death, they were married.[64]"

From the source:

> "Major John lived on a 400 acre "plantation" on North Buffalo Creek, not far from the residence of his parents. He was a ruling elder in Buffalo Presbyterian Church.
>
> The Guilford County Court records show that in Nov 1781, he was appointed guardian of one Martha Thompson. In Feb 1783, he became guardian to Robert McKnight, orphan son of his brother-in-law Alexander McKnight.
>
> Like most well-off land owners in the South at that period, Major John owned slaves. The first census in 1790, in which he is shown living near his brothers Andrew and James, indicates that he had one slave at that time. It also shows eleven other people in his household, five male and six female, which corresponds with his known children by both marriages. The 1800 census shows three slaves, and the children only of the second marriage, the others having left home by then. The 1815 tax list shows that he owned 1086 acres of land, valued at $3250. When he wrote his will in 1822, he bequeathed four slaves, George, Alice, Charity, and Bill.
> His will, written less than two months before his death at the age of 74, provided for Elizabeth's support from the home farm, which he bequeathed to the youngest son Levi. The widow was also to have most of the livestock and household furniture, and a "Negro man named George". The married sons and oldest daughter Jane, having undoubtedly received their portions of the estate at the time their marriage, were left one dollar each. Daughters Hannah, Nancy, and Mary received $100 each. The unmarried daughters Betsy, Sarah, and Ruth received larger bequests, including cash, land, and slaves, and son Levi got the plantation, with of course the obligation to support his mother.[65]"

There is a plaque memorializing him at Alamance Presbyterian Church Cemetery, but his actual burial location is the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery.[66] and friends as Peggy (524).[140] Margaret went to Missouri with her two sons Rufus and Calvin and daughter Martha.[141]

The five known children of William Preston Donnell (525) and Margaret Frances Foster (524) were as follows:

i. Doscia DONNELL (1787) was born circa 1799 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. She married (?) Patterson (1788).

29 ii. Levi DONNELL (1789) was born circa 1801 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Francina (?) (1790).

30 iii. Martha DONNELL (1791) was born circa 1803 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. She married Levi Morrison (1793).

iv. William Rufus DONNELL (1792) was born in 1805. He married Ibbie Foster (1794). He died in 1862. He was buried in Sarcoxie, Missouri, USA.

31 v. John Calvin DONNELL (69) was born on 3 August 1807 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Margaret L. Hancock (70) on 19 October 1833. He married Martha Safrona Witherspoon (1795), daughter of John Witherspoon (3844) and Mary Polly McKnight (3845), on 5 September 1836. The date of the separation of John Calvin from his first wife Margaret Hancock and his marriage to Martha are not clear. He died on 15 September 1862 in Hickory, Missouri, USA, at age 55. He was buried at the Dickerson-Donnell Cemetery in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.

25. John DONNELL (526) was born in 1785 in Nottingham Colony, Guilford, North Carolina, USA. There are other reports that he was born in 1775.[142] He married Elizabeth Davidson (2597) in 1810.[143] He died on 18 June 1864 in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[144] He was buried at the Walker-Wright Cemetery in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[145]

Circa 1796, John Donnell (526) moved to Wilson, Tennessee, USA, with his father's family. He then moved to Missouri in 1849.[146]

Elizabeth DAVIDSON (2597) was born on 20 August 1793 in North Carolina, USA.[147] She died in 1867 in Hunt, Texas, USA.[148] She was buried at the Donelton Cemetery in Lone Oak, Hunt, Texas, USA.[149] She moved in 1865 to Hunt, Texas, USA, with her sons James and Alfred.[150]

The nine known children of John Donnell (526) and Elizabeth Davidson (2597) were as follows:

i. Cynthia Ann DONNELL (2607) married (?) Alexander (2609). She married Josiah Denny (2610).

ii. Mary DONNELL (2604) married Stewart Young (2605). She died in Throckmorton, Texas, USA.

iii. Martha DONNELL (2606) was born in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. She married (?) Alexander (2608).

32 iv. James Davidson DONNELL (2598) was born on 15 February 1812 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Juliet Waters (2617), daughter of Shelah Waters (2627) and Nancy Turner (2628), on 23 August 1832 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Martha Ann Doak (2622) circa 1853. He died on 28 February 1878 in Eliasville, Young, Texas, USA, at age 66. He was buried at the Donnell Cemetery in Young, Texas, USA.

v. Leander Newton DONNELL (2599) was born in 1814 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He died on 9 June 1875 in Fredericktown, Madison, Missouri, USA. He was buried at the Masonic Cemetery in Fredericktown, Madison, Missouri, USA.

33 vi. William Wilson DONNELL (2600) was born on 24 October 1823 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Edith L Harris (2631) on 17 December 1846 in Hickory, Missouri, USA. He married Cynthia Jane Davis (2611), daughter of Reverend Thomas Davis (1786) and Jane Virginia Latham Donnell (537), on 5 January 1853 in Hickory, Missouri, USA. He married Josephine Dixon (2636) on 21 April 1869 in Collin, Texas, USA. He died on 12 September 1887 in Throckmorton, Throckmorton, Texas, USA, at age 63. He was buried at the Ridgeview West Memorial Park in Frisco, Collin, Texas, USA.

vii. Amzi Morrison DONNELL (2601) was born on 11 June 1826 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He died in 1868 in Missouri, USA.

34viii. Alfred Portervine DONNELL (2602) was born on 30 September 1829 in Lebanon, Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Bettie Martha McKinney (2639). He died on 25 December 1896 in Van Alstyne, Grayson, Texas, USA, at age 67.

ix. Samuel Madison DONNELL (2603) was born on 21 October 1831 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.

26. James Marcellous DONNELL (3420) was born on 29 July 1786 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[151] He married Louisa E Maxwell (3438).[152] He died on 5 March 1845 in Rush Tower, Jefferson, Missouri, USA, at age 58.[153]

Charles E Donnell identifies James Donnell's wife as Elizabeth, which is a fit if Louisa's middle name was Elizabeth.

This is not undisputed. A potential woman, Jane Staples has been identified, but the results are inconclusive.[154]

Louisa E MAXWELL (3438) was born on 26 March 1791 in Cave Spring, Green, Missouri, USA.[155] She died on 8 February 1844 in Polk, Green, Missouri, USA, at age 52.[156] She was buried at the Union Grove Cemetery #2 in Goodnight, Polk, Missouri, USA.[157] Although this information is taken from FindaGrave, a usually reliable source, Green County, Missouri, at the time of Louisa's supposed birth was under the control of the Spanish and largely inhabited by Indian tribes, including the Osage, Shawnee, and others. It was not under the control of the USA until the Louisiana Purchase in 1803.

The five known children of James Marcellous Donnell (3420) and Louisa E Maxwell (3438) were as follows:

35 i. John Marcellous DONNELL (3422) was born on 24 October 1803 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He married Jane McClane (3439) on 8 February 1829. He married Jane Wills (3440) in March 1848. He died on 1 January 1860 in Jackson, Green, Missouri, USA, at age 56. He was buried at the Union Grove Cemetery in Goodnight, Polk, Missouri, USA.

ii. Martha R DONNELL (3423) was born on 5 July 1811 in North Carolina, USA. She died on 17 June 1897 in Missouri, USA, at age 85. She was buried in Goodnight, Polk, Missouri, USA.

iii. Anne DONNELL (3424) was born in 1812.

iv. Jane Martin DONNELL (3425) was born in 1813 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

v. William Albert DONNELL (3426) was born on 21 September 1815 in Jefferson, Missouri, USA. He died on 31 March 1873 in Hematite, Jefferson, Missouri, USA, at age 57.

27. Jane Virginia Latham DONNELL (537) was born on 11 June 1810 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[158] She married Reverend Thomas Davis (1786) on 20 December 1827 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[159] She died on 4 November 1888 in Collin, Texas, USA, at age 78.[160] She was buried at the Ridgeview West Memorial Park in Frisco, Collin, Texas, USA.[161]

She and Reverend Thomas Davis (1786) were dismissed from their church in 1842, indicating their move to Hickory County, Missouri. He opened the first store in Lewisville, Texas, likely after the Civil War.[162]

Reverend Thomas DAVIS (1786) was born on 20 December 1809 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[163] He died on 3 August 1867 in Collin, Texas, USA, at age 57.[164] He was buried at the Ridgeview West Memorial Park in Frisco, Collin, Texas, USA.[165] They moved to Hickory County, Missouri in 1842.[166]

i. Elizabeth Mary DAVIS (2732) was born on 8 March 1831 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. She married William Woodrum (4385) circa 1850. She died on 5 May 1917 in Collin, Texas, USA, at age 86. She was buried at the Ridgeview West Memorial Park in Frisco, Collin, Texas, USA.

36 ii. Cynthia Jane DAVIS (2611) was born on 15 November 1833 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. iv. Mary L DAVIS (4388) was born in 1840 in Lebanon, Wilson, Tennessee, USA. She married Henry Charles Pitman (4390) on 18 June 1857. She died on 3 August 1922 in Vernon, Missouri, USA. She was buried at the Deepwood Cemetery in Nevada, Vernon, Missouri, USA.

v. Samuel Robert DAVIS (2730) was born on 4 July 1844 in Hermitage, Hickory, Missouri, USA. He married Ora Elizabeth McKinney (4391) on 1 October 1872 in Denton, Texas, USA. He died on 22 December 1905 in Collin, Texas, USA, at age 61. He was buried at the Ridgeview West Memorial Park in Frisco, Collin, Texas, USA.

vi. Eli Pentacost DAVIS (2731) was born on 29 November 1846 in Hickory, Missouri, USA. He married Henrietta Alice Daws (4389) in 1886. He died on 22 June 1902 in Throckmorton, Throckmorton, Texas, USA, at age 55. He was buried at the Throckmorton Cemetery in Throckmorton, Throckmorton, Texas, USA.

Generation Seven

28. Elizabeth DONNELSON (1770) married James Jack (1774).[167]

i. Reverend Andrew JACK (1775).

29. Levi DONNELL (1789) was born circa 1801 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[168] He married Francina (?) (1790).[169]

He left in 1840 from Tennessee, USA, based on a dismissal letter from the Spring Creek Church.

The three known children of Levi Donnell (1789) and Francina (?) (1790) were as follows:

i. Elizabeth Margaret DONNELL (2507) was born on 25 May 1828.

ii. Artimissa Francina DONNELL (2508) was born on 23 January 1831. She married B. F. Hagood (4450).

30. Martha DONNELL (1791) was born circa 1803 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[170] She married Levi Morrison (1793).

The three known children of Martha Donnell (1791) and Levi Morrison (1793) were as follows:

i. William Levi MORRISON (2510) was born in 1835.

ii. Amzi MORRISON (2511) was born in 1835.

iii. Margaret Jane MORRISON (4056) was born on 22 December 1836 in Virginia, USA. She married Benjamin Hall Massey (4055), son of Eli Massey (4054) and Mary Davis (4058), on 9 January 1858. She died on 12 March 1918 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA, at age 81.

31. John Calvin DONNELL (69) was born on 3 August 1807 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[171] He married Margaret L. Hancock (70) on 19 October 1833.[172] He married Martha Safrona Witherspoon (1795), daughter of John Witherspoon (3844) and Mary Polly McKnight (3845), on 5 September 1836. The date of the separation of John Calvin from his first wife Margaret Hancock and his marriage to Martha are not clear.[173] He died on 15 September 1862 in Hickory, Missouri, USA, at age 55.[174] He was buried at the Dickerson-Donnell Cemetery in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[175]

He was also known as Calvin (69). Charles Donnell spends some effort discussing the background for those who came from North Carolina and through Tennessee "…the colony as a whole, was torn all to pieces by the Civil War. The Donnells and Davises and Morrisons could no more help going into the Confederate cause than they could have been some other religious belief or been called by some other name. It was the way they were bred and raised. It was part of their being. They were honest, believed in freedom, which included State Rights, and there was nothing left for them to do but go with the Confederacy."

John Calvin Donnell was killed by two members of the "Home Guard" in Missouri when he expressed his sympathy for the Confederacy. Two sons and other relatives served in the Confederate Army.[176,177]

Margaret L. HANCOCK (70) was born in 1812. She died on 18 August 1834 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA,, possibly during childbirth. She was also known as Milly (70).

The only known child of John Calvin Donnell (69) and Margaret L. Hancock (70) was:

37 i. Margaret L. DONNELL (71) was born on 18 August 1834 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. She married Ephraim Foster Halbert (1534), son of Joel B. Halbert (1626) and Tirzah Sherril (1627), on 13 September 1855 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. She died on 6 May 1898 in Mankato, Kansas, USA, at age 63. She was buried at the Hermitage Cemetery in Hermitage, Hickory, Missouri, USA.

Martha Safrona WITHERSPOON (1795) was born on 17 January 1811 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. Reeves Donnell's Bible lists the birthdate as 7 January.[178] She died on 15 February 1897 in Hickory, Missouri, USA, at age 86.[179] She was buried at the Dickerson-Donnell Cemetery in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[180] She was also known as Safronia, Sophronia (1795). After her husband's death, and the theft of her grain by Federal Soldiers, she took five children and moved to Springfield to be closer to her brothers. After the end of the war, she returned to Hickory County.

She then traded her property for land owned by Norville Dickenson, her son-in-law, in Benton County, Missouri.

Her daughters married two of Norville's sons. Her sons married Langford daughters. This will keep genealogists who rely on genetic testing confused.[181]

The seven known children of John Calvin Donnell (69) and Martha Safrona Witherspoon (1795) were as follows:

i. Alexander Leo DONNELL (72) was born on 6 October 1837 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He died in May 1862 at an unknown location as a Confederate soldier. He was buried at the Elmwood Cemetery in Memphis, Tennessee, USA.

38 ii. Lemuel Amzi DONNELL (73) was born on 6 March 1839 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Eliza Ann Cunningham (1535), daughter of James Cunningham (2391) and Mary Jane Eubank (2392), on 6 March 1867 in Washington, Arkansas, USA. He died on 2 February 1911 in Seymour, Baylor, Texas, USA, at age 71. He was buried at the Masonic Cemetery in Seymour, Baylor, Texas, USA.

She died on 25 September 1914 in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA, at age 70. She was buried at the Walker-Wright Cemetery in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.

41 v. John William DONNELL (77) was born on 6 May 1848 in Hickory, Missouri, USA. He married Sarah Mildred Langford (1578), daughter of William Thurman Langford (67) and Sarah Ann Bailey (68), on 13 January 1873 in Benton, Missouri, USA. He died on 23 January 1927 in Briscoe, Texas, USA, at age 78. He was buried at the Silverton Cemetery in Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA.

42 vi. Isabella Serafine DONNELL (76) was born on 6 May 1848 in Hickory, Missouri, USA. She married John William Holley (1657), son of John D. Holley (1658), on 25 April 1869 in Hickory, Missouri, USA. She died on 10 June 1936 in Benton, Missouri, USA, at age 88. She was buried at the Concord Cemetery in Warsaw, Benton, Missouri, USA.

43 vii. Alfred Pierce DONNELL (30) was born on 20 September 1850 in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA. He married Elizabeth Frances Langford (66), daughter of William Thurman Langford (67) and Sarah Ann Bailey (68), on 25 February 1875 in Benton, Missouri, USA. He died on 12 April 1942 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 91, ten days after breaking his leg. He was buried on 13 April 1942 at Silverton Cemetery in Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA, Plot Org.N.Side #21.

32. James Davidson DONNELL (2598) was born on 15 February 1812 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[182] He married Juliet Waters (2617), daughter of Shelah Waters (2627) and Nancy Turner (2628), on 23 August 1832 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[183] He married Martha Ann Doak (2622) circa 1853.[184] He died on 28 February 1878 in Eliasville, Young, Texas, USA, at age 66.[185] He was buried at the Donnell Cemetery in Young, Texas, USA.[186]

In 1841, James Davidson Donnell (2598) and Juliet Waters (2617) moved to Hickory, Missouri, USA, with their family and joined Calvin (69) and Rufus Donnell (1792), his cousins, and the sons of William Donnell, Jr (525). The State of Missouri provided extraordinary inducements for settlers including large tracts of land.[187,188] Davidson, with his brother William W (2600), built the first steam mill in Hickory County on the head of Turkey Creek just north of Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[189] He became a prosperous farmer and planter there, owning slaves, and at the time of the Civil war he and three of his sons enlisted in the Confederate Army.[190] He and Alfred Portervine Donnell (2602) served together in Company D of the 11th Missouri Infantry during the Civil War. Many of the Donnells served in the Confederate Army under Colonel Sterling Price. This included James Davidson Donnell, his sons, his step-soon Robert Foster, and his brother William W. (2600)

Most of what they gained in Missouri was lost because of the Civil War.[191] In 1865, James Davidson Donnell (2598) moved to Hunt, Texas, USA. Davidson with his sons Bill and Tom built another mill, which they sold. They moved to Young County, Texas in May of 1876 where they built another mill on the Clear Fork of the Brazos.

There is an excellent narrative of the family at

Juliet WATERS (2617) was born on 31 July 1812 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[194] She died on 10 March 1852 in Hickory, Missouri, USA, at age 39.[195] She was buried at the Walker-Wright Cemetery in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[196]

The three known children of James Davidson Donnell (2598) and Juliet Waters (2617) were as follows:

i. Wilson Lee DONNELL (2618) was born in October 1833.

ii. William Leander DONNELL (2619) was born on 25 October 1836 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Sarah Rebessa Robertson (2650), daughter of Richard J Robertson (2651) and Sarah D Foster (2767), on 17 March 1867 in Sulphur Springs, Hopkins, Texas, USA. He died on 25 July 1914 at age 77. He was buried at the Donnell Cemetery in Young, Texas, USA.

He served in the Missouri State Guard from 20 August 1861 to 21 June 1865 responsible for moving supplies of food and ammunition.

He later re-enlisted in Company H, 6th Infantry Regiment, 8th Division, Missouri State Guard. After re-enlisting in Company H, Donnell's unit fought in the Battle of Pea Ridge (March 7–8, 1862). This Confederate defeat in Arkansas was a turning point in Missouri's control. After the Battle of Pea Ridge and the reorganization of Confederate forces, he joined the 11th Missouri Infantry, a Confederate regiment. Donnell marched with the 11th Missouri Infantry in Louisiana in the Red River Campaign (March–May 1864). Donnell's diary ends in August 1864 with the 11th Missouri Infantry receiving marching orders, assumed to mean dismissal.

Donnell suffered severe illness rather than wounds. In June 1863, he wrote, he was "so reduced in flesh I can scarcely walk," recovering in the Arkansas countryside with a vegetable diet until June 28. During the Battle of Helena (July 4, 1863), he was near the battle, but ill and recovering in the countryside, rejoining his unit on July 5 after the Confederate loss.[248] Donnell captured his cousin Sam Reynolds and buried his brother Alexander in Memphis's Elmwood Cemetery on May 24, 1862.

In February 1864, Donnell joined this secret order of Southern sympathizers, Knights of the Golden Circle, noting discussions about recognizing each other in battle. This reflects his commitment to the Confederate cause beyond the battlefield.

Toward the end of his diary, Donnell wrote an acrostic poem about camp life, spelling out his name with the first letter of each line. He concluded, "Let all who read these lines of mine E'er think there's truth in every line… Let the first letter of each line be combined And in the word my name you shall find." This creative outlet reveals a reflective side amid the war's hardships.[249]

After the war was over, he settled in Washington County Arkansas, where he taught school. He moved to Texas in 1875, first stopping in St. Jo; after a year or two he moved to Palo Pinto County. The in the Spring of 1879, he started to Colorado.[250] According a published description:

> "... during the civil war, Lemuel walked from Gainesville to Texarkana, Texas, thus he was well aware of the rich fertile Texas soil, and after the war's end he and Eliza loaded all their belongings into 2 covered wagons and headed south to the great state of Texas. After traveling approximately 10 days, Lemuel and his family camped and rested alongside the red river near the Paris township in Lamar County, Texas and from there they turned westward and traveled along a dirt trail which later became US highway 82. After several additional days, Lemuel and > Eliza arrived in the small town of St. Jo in Palo Pinto County, Texas and after arriving there they found the citizens to be honest, sincere, and extremely hospitable. Because of the warm reception afforded them by the citizens of St. Jo, Lemuel and Eliza then remained there for approximately one year.

> Lemuel's education qualified him to be a schoolteacher and while residing in St. Jo, Texas, he taught and assisted in the work of the Presbyterian church. It is unknown how long Lemuel and Eliza resided in St. Jo, however, after residing there for approximately one year, they then moved further west in Palo Pinto County, Texas and there, resided until sometime in 1879.
> Prior to 1879, Lemuel and Eliza intended to head westward to the state of Colorado, and after residing in Palo Pinto country for approximately one year they again packed their belongings into 2 covered wagons and headed westward toward the mile high state. During their journey to Colorado, Lemuel and Eliza's wagons were pulled by their prized Clydesdale horses, and during this journey they also took with them 10 cows with heifer calves. While residing in Palo Pinto county, one of Lemuel and Eliza's mares gave birth to twin colts and prior to their departure, Lemuel tied the 2 horse colts named "Jim" and "Bob" to the rear of the covered wagons, and he and Eliza Ann then headed westward to the state of Colorado.[251]"

His journey to Colorado stopped in Seymour, Texas. He built the first stone house, taught the first school in his basement, and was the superintendent of the first Sunday school. He was also the first Justice of the Peace and later a county commissioner.[252] In the 1900 Census, he listed his occupation, tongue-in-cheek, as a boardinghouse keeper. In addition to his wife, his daughter, her husband and three grandchildren lived with him. Lemuel Amzi took some humorous liberty as the census "enumerator.[253]"

Eliza Ann CUNNINGHAM (1535) was born on 13 June 1841 in Sugar Creek, Barry, Missouri, USA.[254] She married Jones Bailey Forsythe (1536) on 19 December 1858 in Barry, Missouri, USA.[255] She died on 8 September 1937 in Seymour, Baylor, Texas, USA, at age 96. She was buried at the Masonic Cemetery in Seymour, Baylor, Texas, USA.[256]

Alfred Pierce Donnell, 1911

43. Alfred Pierce DONNELL (30) was born on 20 September 1850 in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[279] He married Elizabeth Frances Langford (66), daughter of William Thurman Langford (67) and Sarah Ann Bailey (68), on 25 February 1875 in Benton, Missouri, USA.[280] He died on 12 April 1942 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 91, ten days after breaking his leg.[281] He was buried on 13 April 1942 at Silverton Cemetery in Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA, Plot Org.N.Side #21.[282]

From Charles Donnell's genealogy:

> "A. P. Donnell was deprived of a school education, as was his brother John, but he read a lot and kept up with every phase of life as long as he lived, which was nearly 92 full years. He with his mother and family moved to Seymour, Texas, where Uncle Amzi had lived since 1879.[283]"

From Lemuel Alexander Donnell's unpublished memoir, in 1889, on leaving Missouri for Texas:

> "... a man showed up and wanted to trade for the [Missouri] farm. I do not think he had much trouble getting it. The price was one span of mares (Bird and Fan), one hack, and $350...At this time, there were no paved roads. Neither were there any bridges, and in fording some river, … My folks were good people, well-liked, and for five miles there were neighbors collected in groups wishing us well on our move. My father was the first to leave that country in ten years. ...There was no straight > laid-out roads at that time. They just went from one town to the other. The whole country was just wild country.

> A lot of people traveling would lose their horses to Indians, and when they did, they never got them back. To avoid this, they would tie all the horses in a group under some trees and hang a lantern high above them, and someone would stand guard with a shotgun."

The rest of the route included Red River, Wichita Falls and finally Seymour. After the 1990 New Year:

> "...they moved to a little house in the northeast part of town. That spring a herd of big Longhorn steers passed right in front of our house. They were about ten steers wide and three miles long.
> The railroad was building down from Wichita Falls, and Seymour was on quite a boom. Pa worked for a building contractor, and Mother boarded the workmen.[284]"

On 20 September 1891, Alfred Pierce Donnell (30) and Elizabeth Frances Langford (66) moved to Silverton where AP traded for a half-section of land. At the time there was just one store. A neighbor had to forfeit a half section, which AP acquired giving him eventually a section and a half.

They were instrumental in establishing the town and the Presbyterian Church there.[285] He was a prominent farmer and stockman in Briscoe County, Texas, where he spent 51 years of his life.[286]

Thomas Franklin Donnell, c 1870

44. Thomas Franklin DONNELL (2621) was born on 21 September 1838 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[290] He married Fannie Robertson (2652), daughter of Richard J Robertson (2651), on 10 January 1861 in Hickory, Missouri, USA.[291] He died on 8 May 1906 in Young, Texas, USA, at the home of his son, W. T. Donnell at age 67.[292] He was buried at the Donnell Cemetery in Young, Texas, USA.[293]

Paraphrased from his obituary written by Reverend W. H. McCullough:

> In 1854, at about 16 years of age, Thomas began working as a clerk for R. I. Robertson's dry goods business in Cross Timbers, Hickory County, Missouri, and stayed with the firm for two years. In 1856, at age 18, he left that job and went into business with his brother, W. L. Donnell, in Hermitage, the county seat of Hickory County. There they operated a general merchandise store and were successful until the Civil War began in the spring of 1861. After about five years in business, the brothers closed the store and enlisted in the army.

On July 3, 1861, he and his brother W. L. Donnell enlisted in Company D, 11th Missouri Infantry. He served for the duration of the war in the Trans-Mississippi Department under General Sterling Price and took part in all of that department's major battles.

Thomas entered the army as a private, but because he performed well in every role he was given, he quickly earned the respect and confidence of his superior officers and was promoted to lieutenant. He commanded Company D at the battles of Mansfield and Pleasant Hill, Louisiana. Thomas reached the field on the second day at Pleasant Hill. As the sun was setting and darkness was falling over the dead and wounded, he led his men in a charge against an enemy battery. As he reached the mouths of the enemy guns, he was severely wounded. This occurred in early 1865. He did not take part in any further battles and never fully recovered from the effects of that wound. He lay on the battlefield all night without medical attention. At the end of the war in 1865, he was paroled at Shreveport, Louisiana.

Because of the postwar conditions, Thomas never returned to Hermitage. The business he had left behind at the start of the war had been completely destroyed.[294]

After the war, in 1865, Thomas and his wife, his father, and his brother W. L. Donnell gathered what belongings they could and moved to Texas with no money. Thomas settled in Hunt County in 1865, first farming, then building a cotton gin, and later adding a mill. After about eleven years in these enterprises, he moved in 1876 with his family, his brother, and his brother's wife to Young County. They settled on the Clear Fork of the Brazos, later known as Eliasville. Before leaving Hunt County, Thomas's father lost his second wife, and he also came to this area with his sons.

About four years after arriving there, Thomas bought an interest in a mercantile business in Terrell, Kaufman County, Texas, while W. L. stayed in Eliasville to manage their business. After about eighteen months in Terrell, Thomas's wife died. Following her death, he closed his business there, returned to Young County, and resumed his partnership with W. L., which continued successfully for the rest of his life.

After their mother's death, Thomas's children found a devoted and loving mother figure in "Aunt Sallie," the wife of W. L. Donnell. Since Aunt Sallie was their mother's sister, she felt a special responsibility for the children and cared for them as her own.

Although Thomas arrived in Texas without any money, over time he prospered enough to leave his children a comfortable inheritance and urged them to use it wisely, responsibly, and in support of the Christian faith.[295]

From Emma and James Donnell's book:

> "For a period of over forty years the enterprise of the Donnell family has been the one persistent and conspicuous feature in the affairs and history of the Eliasville community in Young County. They were cattlemen, having 10,000 cattle and developed a 4,000-acre ranch for their herds in pioneer times. They built at Eliasville the first grist and flour mill, which served the needs of cattlemen and settlers for miles around. In more recent years they have continued to be extensive land owners, bankers, and business men.[296]"

Fannie ROBERTSON (2652) died in 1881 in Eliasville, Young, Texas, USA.

The seven known children of Thomas Franklin Donnell (2621) and Fannie Robertson (2652) were as follows:

i. Emma DONNELL (2658) was born circa 1864. She married L A Morgan (2659). She died in 1935.

ii. Richard D DONNELL (4426) was born circa 1866.

64 iii. William Thomas DONNELL (2653) was born on 25 September 1868 in Lone Oak, Hunt, Texas, USA. He married Maria Belding (2743), daughter of Henry Belding (2695) and Wary Wilder (2696). He died on 3 October 1944 in Graham, Young, Texas, USA, at age 76. He was buried at the Donnell Cemetery in Young, Texas, USA.

65 iv. George Leo DONNELL (2657) was born on 21 October 1870 in Hunt, Texas, USA. He married Francess Lydia Belding (2693), daughter of Henry Belding (2695) and Wary Wilder (2696), on 5 November 1896. He died on 25 November 1926 at age 56 in Garza County Texas, in a car accident while returning home to Eliasville for Thanksgiving. He was buried at the Donnell Cemetery in Young, Texas, USA.

From the source:

> He came from Tennessee (to Missouri) in 1838. He moved to Texas in 1865 and to Oklahoma in 1901. The history of Young County, TX states "He was among the first settlers to arrive on the northern prairie. The large family of Donnell necessitated a large home, which at the time was the most pretentious in that section. Here in the Donnell home the first Sunday school services were held, and for one year school was conducted in its big rooms.[328]"

Nancy Richardson (1525), on 3 June 1903 in Briscoe, Texas, USA.[398] He married Laura Ina Brown (1526), daughter of Pettus Franklin Brown (1527) and Bettie Nairne (1528), on 15 March 1934 in Hereford, Texas, USA.[399] He died on 21 July 1949 at the Neblett Hospital in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 73.[400] He was buried at the Silverton Cemetery in Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA.[401]

He immigrated from Missouri as a small boy on 19 July 1891 to Seymour, Texas, USA.[402] He was licensed to practice medicine 21 January 1908 and filed to practice in Tulia on 15 November 1915.[403] From The New Encyclopedia of Texas:

> Dr. Charles Donnell was educated in schools of Baylor County, Texas, after which he became a student at the State Normal School of Warrensburg, Missouri, and later the medical department of the Fort Worth University, graduating with the M. D. degree, in the class of 1905. Since that time he has attended clinics in Chicago and elsewhere. Following his graduation, Doctor Donnell commenced practicing medicine in McLean, Texas, remained there 11 years, and built up a large practice. In 1916 he moved to Silverton, Texas practiced medicine and surgery for five years, and in 1921 came to Canyon. In addition to his medical practice and his interests in his registered cattle, Doctor Donnell is one of the most active civic workers of this city and has aided much in the development and upbuilding of Canyon since he has been a resident.

He was known by his family and friends as Pop (3895). LAD wrote a memoir, at the urging of his son Overton, in about 1966 that was typed by Marie Donnell in about 1984.

In his memoir, he recalls his grandmother, likely Elizabeth Francis Langford (86):

> "I was about nine years old then, I guess, and had never seen [a fiddle], and the music they made I shall never forget. I was so carried away with it that I said to my Grandmother that I wanted Pa to get me a fiddle so that I could learn to play. She thought the fiddle was part of the Devil's domain, and by me wanting to learn to play it, that I must be possessed. So she called Pa in, and they prayed that I could be relieved of such an evil thought. I never did learn to play it, but I wish now that I had. …
> My Father's people were Scotch-Irish and very religious people. My Grandmother was the most devout person I have ever known. When Sunday came, it was observed to the letter. If someone had fired a gun, the whole place would have exploded. If we did not have enough wood cut to go from bed until morning, it had to be that way.[414]"

In September 1891, Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) moved to Silverton from Seymour with his parents, brothers and sisters. From LAD's recollections in the Canyon News:

> "During the summer of 1891, the Donnells made a prospecting trip to the plains. That summer had had lots of rain and was a beautiful country. The lakes were full of water and grass was half knee-high. Pa came home with his mind made up to move. In September we arrived in Silverton." Donnell remembers.
> "Dad had at that time one wagon, one hack, five just common work stock, two colts, cows and calves. Coming by way of Matador, we pulled up the Caprock east of old Della Plains."
>
> When the Donnell family arrived in Silverton, "Dad ate his lunch, and said he was going into town, then just one store. The town was already plotted out, however. Returning to the wagon, he said, 'I've got us a place."
> "The property was located 3-4 miles northwest of where we were camped then." ...
> "When we arrived at the property, we found a dugout, 10x12, two stacks of hay, and new wire fence."
> "We put everything we could in the dugout, using it for a kitchen, dining room and parlor."

[414]Lemuel Alexander Donnell, Memoir of Lemuel Alexander Donnell.

"The wagon was bedroom number one, while the hack, with 1x12 boards added to it, made bedroom number two for the boys."

"We wintered just fine, but I remembered there were a few nights when it would be stormy, very dark and snowing, with the wind from the north. We would hold to each other's hands to keep from getting separated going from the dugout to the hay stack," Donnell says.

"We had to have food, fuel, and some kind of social activity. To get a sack of flour, we had to go to Amarillo, a six-day trip. We would leave Monday morning and get back Saturday after noon.[415]"

Early in the memoir, he reflected on his family:

"I was the middle child. The oldest boy was the smart one. Sam, the second, was average, and I was the nut. My father and older brother never looked at me, but that I could sense their thoughts. All the time I was in his [Pa's] home, I did everything he asked me to do. I would do lots of things I thought he wanted done, but I never got any credit for it. I never got his respect. I was always treated as an inferior something. If you treat one as dirt, he becomes dirt."

That comment provides context for some of the other incidents he writes about.

Pop recalled:

"I went to school until I was eighteen. Grammar, history, and all other studies did not mean much to me, but arithmetic and algebra were my hobbies. The last year in school we went through Ray's Algebra-Arithmetic. Mr. D. C. Lowe was our teacher. We had a very interesting class. After we finished Ray's, he had us get a new book—Sutton and Kimbrow's Practical Arithmetic. We worked every problem in it.

At the close of this session, Mr. Lowe took a cashier position in a new bank and invited me to come with him and learn the banking business. I stayed about five months. Then when I was twenty, I went to Draughn's Banking Business College at Fort Worth and stayed four months and finished. There I got all the education I wanted—all I needed. ...

My older brother Charles and I never could do one thing without getting into a jam in some way. He was so much more intelligent than I was that he would just tell me and I could do the work.

It was a cold morning with a little snow. Pa wanted to use his wagon, so he sent us out to grease it. I got the wrench. He (Chas.) got the bucket of grease. I took off the nut. He had a big paddle of grease in his hand. He says, "Take it off," meaning the wheel. I was small and couldn't budge it, but I tried. He wore a big boot that he used to kick me in the seat of the pants with. Then he yelled again, "Take it off!" I was doing my best, but it was not enough. He gave me a nasty look and pulled that paddle of grease across my face, starting with my mouth, across my cheek, and filling my ear full. I stepped back, falling backward over the wagon tongue into a snowbank. We were not very far from the house, so Pa heard the commotion and came to the door. He said, "What is the matter?" My brother says, "Lem is having one of his mad spells". I went to Pa with my face. I thought Pa would whip him, but he did not. He thought it was funny." ...

It was in the spring of '92 that Pa sent us boys down [into the Tule Canyon] to get a load of wood. It turned out to be a wet afternoon. We got our wood—what we thought we could pull out—and started up the climb. This hill was red clay, and the rain had made the roadbed slick.

We started up the hill with Charles riding on the wagon, Sam at one wheel with a rock, and I at the other with another rock. We started, went a few feet, and he stopped. We jammed our rocks behind the wheels. We made it alright until we were nearly out. He called on his team. Old Fan would not pull. That was about two hours until dark. We were hanging on the side of this mountain, depending on these rocks to hold the load we had.

Charles went to crying. He would cry a while, then he would try to make the team pull. He would go and rub her nose and talk and plead with her to pull us out of this mess. She would not. We had to stay with the outfit. Darkness began to settle around. We did not know what we would do. All at once she raised her head and began to nicker. Chas grabbed the lines, and out we went. I always figured she realized that it was feeding time and that she had better get home.

It took ten loads of wood a year to do the family, so we had to watch the woodpile and not let it get too low. One winter, in making our trips to the canyon, there always were panther tracks. The whole winter they were there. We never did see one as we were always there during daylight.[416]"

The brothers Lemuel (3895) and Sam (32) grew up working side by side in the cattle business, doing the same jobs and sharing the same daily life. They slept in the same bed, ate at the same table, broke colts in turn, and handled ranch work together so closely that people often did not distinguish between them by name. Lem considered Sam a steady, sensible, and well-liked man, a slightly better rider, but noted that Sam never boasted or tried to claim superiority, and that they always worked in complete harmony.

Starting from a small family bunch of cattle and limited means, they gradually expanded by taking on leased grass and improving newly acquired land in Swisher County with corrals, a one-room house, and windmills, then moving most of the cattle there. They built up both cattle and horse herds-sorting colts into cow horses, roping horses, or work horses-and, through steady labor and saving, helped bring the family holdings to seven sections of land, about forty head of horses and mules, and roughly four hundred head of cattle.[417]

From LAD's memoir, paraphrased:

> In early July, during a spell of dead calm when there was no wind to power the mill, Sam and I worked late into the night to repair it so the wind pump would draw water again. While we were fixing the mill around eleven o'clock, Sam accidentally stepped on a nail. By the next morning, his foot was badly infected [with tetanus], and he could no longer ride, so I hitched up the buggy and took him home to mother. Sam never returned to work. About a week later, while I was away delivering 120 steers to a buyer fifty miles off, word came that Sam's condition had worsened. After riding nearly a full day and night to get back, I arrived just as he was slipping away. Sam suffered several convulsions, then told his mother he had seen Jesus and was going "up higher." Soon after, he died.
> The funeral was held the next afternoon—plain but dignified, a typical cowboy burial. A hearse drawn by four white horses led the procession, with two mounted cowboys riding on each side. When it ended, I returned alone to their camp twelve miles away. Inside the house, I found Sam's coat, hat, and a nearly new pair of boots waiting where he had left them. Sam had owned a section of land and about a hundred head of cattle but had never married, so his estate went to our father. I received nothing except the memory of their years of work and companionship.[418]

After Sam's death in 1906, LAD entered into partnership with his brother Charles in an effort to retain the family's cattle and land holdings. LAD took charge of managing the outfit while Charles supplied funds and paid the hired help. Within a year, however, the family's property began to fragment. Their father deeded land to the daughters, and through a series of ill-advised transactions by the husbands—one involving a lumber company and another bartering for calves—LAD lost control of both one owned and one leased section. By early 1909, discouraged by his father's interference with hired hands, LAD decided to liquidate the cattle operation.

[418]Lemuel Alexander Donnell, Memoir of Lemuel Alexander Donnell.

> "In the summer of 1907, we had kept our yearling steers, and I got money and bought until I had 141 two-year-old steers. These were a good lot of cattle and, in the spring of 1908, I sold these cattle to two men at McLean, Texas, and I was to deliver them a distance of about 130 miles. The cattle were in the east edge of Swisher County, and they had to go six miles north of McLean.
> We had the two men that bought the cattle, a fourteen-year-old boy, and myself. We drove cattle down by Silverton, then into the Red River breaks, where we had to cross Red River, then on by the way of Clarendon.
>
> In crossing the river, I got my horse in a bad mess of quicksand. I was riding a good horse-a sorrel with stocking legs and a blaze face-a powerful horse. I called him Simon. He had to make three or four lunges to get through. I came out with my boots full. I did nothing about it and rode until noon. I stepped off on the ground.
> My feet were packed with dry sand. The moisture had evaporated. No chance to get my feet out, so they poured my boots full of water. They then would lift me up by my feet and let the water run out, and after a few treatments like that, I was able to get my boots off."

By September 1909, he had sold off the herd but still held title to his section in Swisher County. That year, he purchased eighty acres from a tract adjoining the town of Silverton and acquired $750 in bank stock, marking his shift toward town investments. The Swisher County land was improved and rented out as of January 1910, ending his full-time residence at the ranch. Meanwhile, his father built a new home in Silverton, and L.A.D. constructed a barn and planted trees on his nearby eighty-acre property. By late 1909, he was living in Silverton with his parents.

> "So now I am thirty years old. I have never married. I had had a few love affairs but nothing serious. Half a dozen of the homegirls had proposed to me, but I never did take them serious. So in the beginning of 1910, I owned one section of land in Swisher County, eighty acres near Silverton, my bank stock, and my town property in Silverton, Texas. I was Sunday School Superintendent and sang bass in a quartet, and had a job as bookkeeper in the bank. So far so good.[419]"

He and Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) arrived in December 1924 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, on a cold and snowy day from Silverton in an open cab Ford truck. In 1929, Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) and Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) moved the family to their property 3.5 miles west of Canyon, which was the family home for 35 years. He was primarily a cattleman, specializing in breeding, raising, and selling registered polled Hereford cattle.[420]

My recollections:

> Mother and Pop Donnell were hard working ranchers. I think I spent a few weeks every summer at their place west of Canyon. Then there were nearly daily excursions into town for shopping or to go to a Saturday movie matinee. The movie theater was the only air conditioning unless we stopped to visit Aunt Kate. Trips to town always had the benefit of a soda pop or ice cream cone. And there was the occasional drive-in movie.
> Not much to do for a kid, except to accompany Pop on his daily trip to count cows. The fun part of that was the challenge of jumping out of a rolling car to run ahead and open the barbwire gate, then jumping back in on the other side. He counted his cows every trip just to be sure none were missing.
>
> Pop was pretty quiet but loved his Friday night "wrassling" on TV. He, being a real cowboy, was a very good harmonica player. And told stories about places he never wanted to go again: getting cattle out of the quicksand or escaping a flash flood in a canyon.
> Mother Donnell was very involved with the Presbyterian Church. She had an upright piano that we kids would bang on but it only got played if Aunt Kate came over.

Henrietta Donnell, 1911

Henrietta Marion KNIPP (3896) was born on 17 December 1888 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. She died on 31 March 1965 at LaCasa Canyon Convalescent Home in [420]The Canyon News Centennial Edition, 29 June 1989, IV-1.

Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 76. She was buried on 2 April 1965 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[421]

In 1908, Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) moved to Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA. From Keith's article:

> "She came to Silverton to teach school about the time that Daddy came back to work there. She had taught in schools closer to her home but was lured to the Plains by her sister, Kathryn Knipp, who taught near the Vigo community. I believe they came by rail to Estelline, but I know they rode the stagecoach from that point to Silverton. My father found the young woman he wanted for a wife when he met Henrietta. ...My mother thought she was marrying a banker, but the love of the land was in my father's blood. When I was in my third year, they moved back to Daddy's improved section in Swisher County.[422]"

Beginning in 1924, Henrietta Marion Knipp was the teacher in a one-room school in Canyon, Texas

She was the President of the Parent Teacher Association, the West Side Home Demonstration Club and the Canyon Women's Book Club. She was very active in the Presbyterian church, serving in the choir and teaching Sunday School.

She had a stroke 1 November 1956 at the age of 67. From Keith's article:

> "Tragedy came to our family when Mother suffered a major stroke in November 1956. She lay paralyzed and speechless for more than 8 years. During that sad time we saw in Mother a courage and strength which sustained us all. Her mind remained alert, she was always cheerful; and though we shed many tears together and separately, she was an inspiration to all who came in contact with her.
> Mother's illness took a terrible toll on Daddy who was 9 years her senior. Those were such sad and lonely years for him.[423]"

From his Obituary:

> Upon graduation and commissioning in the Cavalry, he was assigned to the 10th Cavalry for duty with the Punitive Expedition in Mexico. One year later, he transferred to the Field Artillery and shortly thereafter was dispatched to Europe with the Allied Expeditionary Force. He commanded the 16th Field Artillery.
>
> He returned to West Point, in 1937, as Commanding Officer of the Field Artillery Detachment.
> As World War II broke out, he headed for Europe as Commanding General, 4th Infantry Division Artillery. At the last minute, however, he in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, by the Reverend John R. Sharp.[564] She died on 3 July 1980 in Manhattan, Kansas, USA, at age 67 of cancer.[565] She was buried at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.

From Keith's article:

> "We were in the Alexander School district, but we regularly attended Sunday School and Church at Rock Creek.
> Because of the flu epidemic I was not allowed to start to school in 1918. I can remember Uncle Charlie, who was by this time a well qualified medical doctor, bringing the mail and other necessities and putting them out at the gate. My parents conversed with him at a distance, and we escaped the flu that year. The next year we all had the flu. I remember how sick we all were, but we all lived.
> I started to school in 1919 at Alexander in the second grade. I had no problems in missing the first grade, for my mother had seen to it that I was well taught.
>
> In 1921 my mother was hired to teach the Alexander School.
> In December 1924 our parents moved to Canyon where we children might be able to get an education. With that move my happy and innocent childhood ended. I was thrust into a completely new and different world. I graduated from Canyon High School in 1929 and immediately started to college. I had been editor of the high school paper the last two years, and my love was languages and journalism. Knowing there was not going to be any way I could finance 4 years of college in those depression years, I was advised to major in primary education and get a permanent certificate to teach school. In 1931 I went to the Johnson School in the Bauer community to teach....
> When I came there to teach, he [Clarence (39)] lost no time in getting to know the new teacher, and we were soon dating. We were married in my parents' home on November 11, 1932 by the Reverend John R. Sharp, the same minister who had married my parents."

The college at the time was West Texas State Teachers College. (Note: The name started as West Texas Normal College in 1909, was changed to West Texas State Teachers College (1923–1949), West Texas State College (1949–1963), West Texas State University (1963–1990), and in 1990 to West Texas A&M, part of the Texas A&M University System.).[566]

From Keith's article

> For the next 8 years we lived on a section of land belonging to Grandpa Bauer....
>
> We were looking for land where we could irrigate and have a home of our own. Our search brought us to Swisher County. We purchased land, did extensive work on the house, and moved on November 2, 1940....Those were such happy years for us marred only by the sadness of World War II. There are no happier years than those when your children are growing up and lifelong friendships are formed. In 1947 we moved into our first new home....We sold the farm to D. S. Burelsmith in 1955 and moved into Tulia where we built another new home.
> The day after [Vance's] graduation we came to Bentonville, Arkansas and bought the property... It may never again be my privilege to live in Texas. Arkansas has been good to us, we love it here. I was born a Texan, and I will die a Texan! My heart remains in Swisher Co., for there I spent the happiest years of my life.[567]

Alton Parker Donnell, c 1945

88. Alton Parker DONNELL (9) was born on 29 May 1916 at the Donnell Home in Swisher, Texas, USA.[569] He married Marie Dorothea Siefke (7), daughter of Herman Siefke Jr (14) and Marjorie Wheaton Piper (13), on 26 October 1940 at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. He died on 25 February 1991 at St. Anthony Hospice in Amarillo, Potter, Texas, USA, at age 74. He was buried on 2 March 1991 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[570]

His birth certificate shows the name of Lemuel Alton Donnell (9). It was later amended on September 24, 1916 to reflect Alton Parker, but not recorded by the clerk until May 1917.[571] He was educated in a one-room schoolhouse by his mother, graduated from Canyon High School in 1932, then attended West Texas State University for three years. He had enough credits for a degree in mathematics or chemistry.

He received his appointment to the United States Military Academy from Representative Marvin Jones who represented the Texas Panhandle from 1917 to 1941.[572] He graduated from the United States Military Academy, Class of 1940, as the 11,801st graduate and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant. on 11 June 1940 in West Point, Orange, New York, USA.

Alton Parker Donnell (9) was assigned to the 21st Engineer Regiment (Aviation) where he was stationed at Bluie West I, Greenland, building the airfield. He was promoted to First Lieutenant on October 10th, 1941, and to Captain on February 1st, 1942. In July 1942, Alton Parker Donnell (9) was reassigned to the North Atlantic Division Engineer office in New York, with station at Bluie East II, Greenland building airfields.

He was promoted to Major on 8 February 1943.

He trained to become an Army pilot at a variety of sites, including San Antonio, Texas; Chickasha, Oklahoma; Garden City, Kansas; Pampa, Texas; Orlando, Florida; and Fort Worth, Texas from June 1943 until January 1944.

In his second solo in a B-24 Liberator, he was flying as the copilot with Second Lieutenant William Bendon as pilot. One engine caught fire and another "went out" immediately after takeoff from Fort Worth Army Airfield, Fort Worth, Texas, USA. Both he and Bendon were able to "escape injury by leaping out as the big plane hit the ground." The aerial engineer Sergeant Jesse Dye died in the crash.

He was assigned as a Pilot to the 372nd Air Base Squadron at Peterson Field, Colorado, and the 9th Bomb Group (Very Heavy) at Dalhart, Texas to May 1944. He was then assigned to the 6th Bomb Group (VH) and the 24th Bomb Squadron (VH) at Grand Island, Nebraska where he transitioned to the B-29.[573] He deployed with the 24th Bomb Squadron to Tinian Island in the Pacific where he flew 19 combat missions over Japan in the B-29.

Alton Parker Donnell (9) and Alton Parker Donnell Jr (1) was flying as a co-pilot on April 22, when an engine caught fire on takeoff. They attempted to land, but the crash knocked several crewmen unconscious. He was pulled from the wreckage by the pilot Lt. Dean Mutch. He was awarded a Purple Heart, but tried to refuse it, saying they should have done a better job of landing the plane. After one of his last combat missions, he diverted to fly over Hiroshima to witness the destruction soon after the detonation of Little Boy.

He commanded the 1st Bomb Squadron of the 9th Bomb Group and later served as the deputy group commander through December 1945. In 1946, he was assigned to the Manhattan Project as a declassification officer, and stationed in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. He considered that a nearly impossible job but had the opportunity to meet many of the Manhattan Project scientists.

On 2 October 1946, he was assigned as an intelligence officer in the Manhattan Project and later to the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project in Washington, District of Columbia, USA.

In 1948, he resigned his commission and began work for the Kellogg and later the Vitro Corporation where he managed several chemical and nuclear projects in New York City, New York. He also participated in the Eisenhower administration's Atoms for Peace Project as an analyst, attempting to determine what progress other nations had made in nuclear weapons and power.

In 1954, he became the Vice President and General Manager of Atomic Power Development Associates, the research subsidiary of Detroit Edison supporting the Fermi fast-breeder reactor project. In August 1954, Alton Parker Donnell (9) and Marie Dorothea Siefke (7) lived at 1267 Balfour Road in Grosse Pointe Park, Wayne, Michigan, USA, until about 1973. In 1973, he returned to the federal government, serving on the Federal Power Commission and later the Department of Energy until he retired in 1980. He returned to the private sector where he worked for Overseas Advisory Associates until 1984 after which he returned to the family property in Canyon, Texas.[574]

The account of his final mission has been researched at Fold 3 at Ancestry.com and is summarized below:

> On D-Day, June 6, 1944 during Mission Detroit, Mission #28 his CG4 Waco-type glider ... departed Ramsbury, United Kingdom, being towed by C47-A flown by pilots Lt Myers and Lt Frederick.
> His co-pilot was Flight Officer Leslie A. Reynolds also of the 84th Troop Carrier Squadron. The passengers were Sgt. Raynor M. Wilson and Pvt. Lecil A Drummond, both of the 80th Anti-aircraft Battalion.
>
> Their mission was to transport a jeep, anti-tank ammunition, and other equipment to Ste-Mère-Eglise, about 5 miles inland from Utah Beach.
> In an investigation (Missing Air Crew Report #10890), the tow pilots believed Carey Brewster's glider was either "...released or shot off about 16 miles from the landing zone. This meant that the glider landed in enemy territory with few, if any, friendly troops in the vicinity."
> The report also states that the landing glider struck the top of an apple tree at the landing, killing the pilot. The copilot was hospitalized and eventually returned to England with amnesia. The enlisted men were both killed in combat within 10 days of D-Day.[594]

"Mike devoted his life to his children and the children of others. Friends and colleagues recollect his students focusing on his every word and how warm, comfortable, and genuine classroom discussions were as they evolved under his guidance. Using his keen intelligence and his inimitable and insightful sense of humor, Mike helped his students, family, and friends find their better selves.

Ever faithful to butter, Mike nurtured those he loved with versatile and adventurous meals. He delighted in casting flies on the banks of a stream, grousing at opponents over a cribbage board, and babying the Cleome in his garden. Amongst all his delights, however, his greatest joy was time spent with his daughters.[647]"

Descendants of Harry Langford (3648)

Generation One

160. Harry LANGFORD (3648) was born on 12 June 1563 in Elstead, Surrey, England.[662] He married Elizabeth Dawes (3649) on 15 October 1592 in Abbots Ann, Hampshire, England.[663] He died in 1600 in Surrey, England.[664]

Most recently the Langford family has been expanded by a discovery by genetic testing of a 3rd cousin of mine. William Langford of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. We share a common G-G-grandfather William Thurman Langford. He was genetically connected to a Langford descendant in Virginia. I have expanded the Langford branches to include him and to take the Langfords back to the emigration of Edward Langford to the colonies.

Uncle Charles Donnell's assertion of the family lore that brothers Asa and Jonathan Langford deserted the British Army was incorrect. First, there was no Asa.

Several generations of Langfords shared Albemarle County, Virginia with the likes of Thomas Jefferson who was born there and built Monticello there. The city of Charlottesville is the county seat.

The only known child of Harry Langford (3648) and Elizabeth Dawes (3649) was:

161 i. William LANGFORD (3632) was born on 24 March 1597 in Broughton Parrish, Hampshire, England. He married Patience Hughe (3633) in 1636 in Wilmington, New Castle, Delaware, USA. He died on 1 January 1665 in Chichester, Sussex, England, at age 67.

Generation Two

161. William LANGFORD (3632) was born on 24 March 1597 in Broughton Parrish, Hampshire, England.[665] He married Patience Hughe (3633) in 1636 in Wilmington, New

Alfred Pierce Donnell, 1911

Alfred Pierce DONNELL (30) was born on 20 September 1850 in Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[780] He died on 12 April 1942 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 91, ten days after breaking his leg.[781] He was buried on 13 April 1942 at Silverton Cemetery in Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA, Plot Org.N.Side #21.[782] From Charles Donnell's genealogy:

> "A. P. Donnell was deprived of a school education, as was his brother John, but he read a lot and kept up with every phase of life as long as he lived, which was nearly 92 full years. He with his mother and family moved to Seymour, Texas, where Uncle Amzi had lived since 1879.[783]"

From Lemuel Alexander Donnell's unpublished memoir, in 1889, on leaving Missouri for Texas:

> "... a man showed up and wanted to trade for the [Missouri] farm. I do not think he had much trouble getting it. The price was one span of mares (Bird and Fan), one hack, and $350...At this time, there were no paved roads. Neither were there any bridges, and in fording some river, … My folks were good people, well-liked, and for five miles there were neighbors collected in groups wishing us well on our move. My father was the first to leave that country in ten years. ...There was no straight laid-out roads at that time. They just went from one town to the other. The whole country was just wild country.
> A lot of people traveling would lose their horses to Indians, and when they did, they never got them back. To avoid this, they would tie all the horses in a group under some trees and hang a lantern high above them, and someone would stand guard with a shotgun."

The rest of the route included Red River, Wichita Falls and finally Seymour. After the 1990 New Year:

> "...they moved to a little house in the northeast part of town. That spring a herd of big Longhorn steers passed right in front of our house. They were about ten steers wide and three miles long.
>

Will Langford, 2024

207. Will LANGFORD (3645) is still living.

Generation One

208. Johann Henrich KNIPP (4550) was born on 27 February 1751 in Niederholzklau, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia. He married Anna Elisabetha Gudelius (4551), daughter of Johannes Gudelius (4553) and Anna Catharina (?) (4554), on 10 January 1777 in Oberholzklau, Westfalen, Prussia. He died on 3 December 1820 in Alchen, Westphalia, Prussia, at age 69.

Anna Elisabetha GUDELIUS (4551) was born on 8 September 1748 in Siegen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia. She died on 24 October 1809 in Siegen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia, at age 61.

The three known children of Johann Henrich Knipp (4550) and Anna Elisabetha Gudelius (4551) were as follows:

209 i. Johannes Henrich KNIPP (3043) was born on 14 May 1778 in Siegen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia. He married Anna Margaretha Haas (3044), daughter of Johann Henrich Haas (4558) and Maria Margaretha Wurmbach (4559), on 13 February 1804. He died on 11 August 1837 in Alchen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia, at age 59.

ii. Hermannus KNIPP (4556) was born in 1781. He died in 1783.

iii. Anna Maria Catharina KNIPP (4557) was born in 1786. She died in 1846.

Generation Two

209. Johannes Henrich KNIPP (3043) was born on 14 May 1778 in Siegen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia. He married Anna Margaretha Haas (3044), daughter of Johann Henrich Haas (4558) and Maria Margaretha Wurmbach (4559), on 13 February 1804.[870] He died on 11 August 1837 in Alchen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia, at age 59.

The Knipps were a large family in Germany. The first known immigrant was Heinrich Knipp (108). Based on letters, he considered himself a disappointment to his father. He may have deserted the Prussian Army after striking an officer.

With the help of my mother, who kept everything, and Mary Katrina (Knipp) Robbins (35), who was aware that her father's letters home were intact and had them translated, much of the Knipp family has been reconstructed.

At different times Donnells have visited with Tante Maria Knipp (3057) in Netphen, Germany.

Anna Margaretha HAAS (3044) was born on 20 February 1780 in Oberholzklau, Westfalen, Prussia.[871] She died on 10 December 1865 in Siegen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia, at age 85.[872]

The five known children of Johannes Henrich Knipp (3043) and Anna Margaretha Haas (3044) were as follows:

i. Philip KNIPP (4560) was born in 1806. He died in 1880.

210 ii. Johann Henrich KNIPP (1825) was born on 13 January 1809 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia. He married Maria Katherine Daub (1826), daughter of Johannes Daub (3591) and Anne Katherine Jung (3590), on 16 March 1834 in Roedgen, Germany. He married Henrietta Koelsch (3058) in 1847 in Roedgen, Obersdorf, Siegen, Westfalen, Prussia. He died on 9 January 1881 in Germany at age 71.

iii. Elisabeth KNIPP (4552) was born on 18 June 1811 in Alchen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia. She died on 15 June 1874 in Alchen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia, at age 62.

iv. Anne Katherine KNIPP (4555) was born on 19 July 1815 in Wilnsdorf-Roedgen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia.

v. Friedrich KNIPP (3592) was born on 20 May 1820 in Wilnsdorf-Roedgen, Siegen-Wittgenstein, Nordrhein-Westfalen, Prussia. He married Marie Catherine Panthoefer (3593) on 5 January 1845 in Roedgen, Westfalen, Prussia.

Generation Three

210. Johann Henrich KNIPP (1825) was born on 13 January 1809 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia. He married Maria Katherine Daub (1826), daughter of Johannes Daub (3591) and Anne Katherine Jung (3590), on 16 March 1834 in Roedgen,

Germany.[873] He married Henrietta Koelsch (3058) in 1847 in Roedgen, Obersdorf, Siegen, Westfalen, Prussia.[874] He died on 9 January 1881 in Germany at age 71.[875,876]

Heinrich Knipp is the father of Heinrich (Henry) Knipp, the progenitor of the Texas Knipps below. Henry is, apparently, the only one of this family who emigrated, and did so under apparently strained circumstances, as he asks his brother Jacob to apologize to his father for him.[877] In a letter to the family of Henry Knipp (108), b 1842, from his godson and nephew Adolph Heinrich Knipp, dated 14 December 1904, Adolph Heinrich discusses the living descendants of Heinrich (1825) of a second marriage. These include (Anglicized in the translation) William, Adolfine, Gustav, August, and Robert. In a later letter, Adolf Heinrich stated that Johann and Henrietta had eight children all of whom were dead by 1950. There is one missing.

The five known children of Johann Henrich Knipp (1825) and Maria Katherine Daub (1826) were as follows:

i. Friederich Rudolph KNIPP (1832).

211 ii. Jacob KNIPP (1827) was born on 15 December 1834 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia. He married Anna Christine Daub (3045) on 29 April 1860 in Roedgen, Germany. He died on 1 August 1903 at age 68.

iii. Agnese Louise KNIPP (1843) was born on 22 February 1839 in Roedgen, Obersdorf, Siegen, Westfalen, Prussia.

212 iv. Heinrich KNIPP (108) was born on 17 September 1842 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia. He married Amelia Meyer (1377) on 1 March 1875 in Milam, Texas, USA. He married Katherine Hibbeler (282), daughter of William Henry Hibbeler (1834) and Sophia (?) (3512), in May 1884 in Milam, Texas, USA. He died on 28 October 1904 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 62. He was buried at the Cameron Pioneer Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.

v. Gustaf Adolf KNIPP (1833) was born on 12 February 1844.

He married Amelia Meyer (1377) on 1 March 1875 in Milam, Texas, USA.[879] He married Katherine Hibbeler (282), daughter of William Henry Hibbeler (1834) and Sophia (?) (3512), in May 1884 in Milam, Texas, USA.[880] He died on 28 October 1904 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 62.[881] He was buried at the Cameron Pioneer Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[882]

He was also known as Henry (108). He emigrated in 1868 to New York City, New York, USA, on the steamer Bavaria that departed Germany on 2 May 1868.

According to Knipp family lore, he had been in the Prussian Army, struck an officer and needed to leave the country.[883,884] From Louise Robbins Davis' letter:

> A Lutheran pastor was securing passage for a group of immigrants who wished to come to America, and Henry Knipp, whose family was financially able to provide funds for his passage, persuaded his parents to let him join the group. As he suffered at times intensely from the after effects of a shoulder wound inflicted during the Franco-Prussian War, his parents decided that perhaps a change to a milder climate might prove beneficial. So Henry Knipp, whose German relatives and ancestors were made up largely of school teachers and doctors, began his long journey to a pioneer country where teachers and doctors were scarce indeed, but whose descendants were to labor in professions of law, engineering, and teaching for more than half a century.

He arrived in Cameron, Texas in 1869, by way of Chicago where he fished the Great Lakes. He joined a group of men making their way down the Mississippi to New Orleans.

He moved to Rockdale after March 1875, then to Round Rock, Texas where he lost his house to a fire on 7 May 1877.[885,886]

[886]Letter, Louise Robbins Davis to Alton Donnell, 25 January 1987.

Louise Robbins Davis wrote that after his first wife Amelia died very young:

> Through the kindness of neighbors and the help of a housekeeper Henry kept his family together for a year and then he met Kathryn Hibbler, whose family had migrated to America the year before...Kathryn was only seventeen years of age at the time of her marriage to Henry.
>
>
> By training, Henry studied woodcraft... These were early days in Texas, and the only mode of transportation was by heavy wagon train. Only the hardest oak and toughest hickory could take the punishment inflicted by heavy loads on rough, roadless treks across the country.
> In those days, horse-shoeing and other blacksmith work were equal in importance to the making of wagon wheels and wagon beds, and the first shop of its kind operated in Cameron was that of Knipp and Meyers. (Lou Meyers being a cousin of Amelia.) ...

He had been a carpenter, cabinet maker, wagon maker and worked on the railroad line to Mexico, at times returning infrequently to his family.[887] Also lore: At one point during the marriage of he and Katherine Hibbeler (282), he raised his hand to beat her, and she reached behind her and picked up the poker. On his deathbed, he is supposed to have said, "Whatever you do, don't let her hit me with the poker".[888]

Amelia MEYER (1377) was born circa 1855 in West Prussia. She died on 30 March 1883 in Cameron, Texas, USA, of tuberculosis. She was buried at the Cameron Pioneer Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[889]

The three known children of Heinrich Knipp (108) and Amelia Meyer (1377) were as follows:

215 i. Helena KNIPP (1378) was born on 9 January 1876. She married Thomas Samuel Hoy (2306) on 30 June 1897 in Milam, Texas, USA. She died on 8 March 1969 in San Antonio, Bexar, Texas, USA, at age 93.

Katrina Knipp, c 1896

Katherine HIBBELER (282) was born on 1 September 1866 in Oldenburg, Germany.[890] Several years after her husband passed, she married Peter J Leavson (1836) in Texas, USA.[891] She died on 16 December 1937 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 71.[892] She was buried at the Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[893] She spelled her name in a variety of ways: "Katie, Katrina, Katheryn, Catherine (282)" In one her first letters that she wrote home on behalf of Henry, she spelled it Katharina.[894,895] She emigrated in 1878 from Northern Germany with her parents arriving in Galveston, Texas then moving on to Brenham, Texas.[896] After her mother's death and when Katrina was about 16, the family moved to Cameron, Texas where they could all find work.

> "Her father and brother worked in a farm or in the blacksmith shop. Her little sister, Annie, went to work for Dr. and Mrs. Powell where she worked, but lived like a daughter, until she married and moved away. She appeared on the census of 1910 at 100 Buckhalts Road in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. Living with her were children Otto, Henrietta, Earnest, and Fred; her father Henry Hebler; Matilda Myer; and Gordon Lankford. Spelling in census forms is usually poor, so Matilda may be a niece of Henry's first wife.[898]

The five known children of Heinrich Knipp (108) and Katherine Hibbeler (282) were as follows:

218 i. William W KNIPP (109) was born on 21 February 1885 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. He married Dixie (?) (2297). He died on 15 June 1937 in Houston, Harris, Texas, USA, at age 52. He was buried on 17 June 1937 at the Rose Hill Memorial Park in Corpus Christi, Nueces, Texas, USA.

219 ii. Mary Katrina KNIPP (35) was born on 2 November 1886. She married Wallace Coffee Robbins (1384), son of Arthur Robbins (2309) and Mary Ann Coffee (2310), on 8 June 1908 in Milam, Texas, USA. She died on 8 March 1982 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA, at age 95. She was buried in Oak Hill Cemetery, Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.

220 iii. Henrietta Marion KNIPP (3896) was born on 17 December 1888 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. She married Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895), son of Alfred Pierce Donnell (30) and Elizabeth Frances Langford (66), on 2 May 1911 at Hotel Tulia in Tulia, Swisher, Texas, USA. She died on 31 March 1965 at LaCasa Canyon Convalescent Home in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 76. She was buried on 2 April 1965 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.

221 iv. Ernest August KNIPP (110) was born on 22 May 1892 in Cameron, Texas, USA. He married Emma Ray Raymonds (1385) in 1919 in Harris, Texas, USA. He died on 17 September 1970 in Houston, Harris, Texas, USA, at age 78.

222 v. Fred Charles KNIPP (111) was born on 26 July 1896 in Cameron, Texas, USA. He married Francis Garland Royall (2222), daughter of Cynthia W Royall (3082), on 9 December 1923. He died on 28 March 1949 at age 52. He was buried at the Presbyterian Cemetery in Lynchburg, Virginia, USA.

213. Wilhelm KNIPP (3047) was born on 25 June 1863 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia. He married Anna Marie Otto (3053) on 20 November 1890.[899] He died on 12 October 1937 in Netphen, Germany, at age 74.

The four known children of Wilhelm Knipp (3047) and Anna Marie Otto (3053) were as follows:

i. Otto KNIPP (3054) was born on 15 September 1891. He married (?) Gonterman (3103). He died on 20 July 1967 in Netphen, Germany, at age 75. He was buried at the Evangelical Church Cemetery in Netphen, Germany.

ii. Wilhelm KNIPP (3055) was born on 24 October 1893. He was a German soldier, killed in action in World War I, circa 1918.

iii. Paul KNIPP (3056) was born on 10 May 1897. He ate poison mushrooms and died.

iv. Maria KNIPP (3057) was born on 23 April 1900 in Netphen, Germany. She died on 14 December 1984 at Am Kirchrein 2 in Netphen, Germany, at age 84.

214. Adolf Heinrich KNIPP (3048) was born on 5 February 1866.

Adolf is the author of the letter in 1949 to his cousin Katherine describing the family that stayed behind in Germany.

This is the primary source for determining the children of Johann Heinrich (1825) and his two wives. The family was apparently not in touch after Henry Knipp died in 1904 until 1949 after two world wars. He discusses the family through the wars:

> You enquired how we fared during the war. I was [over the age limit] in the first World War so I didn't have to go. ...My brother Wilhelm had three sons. Two were at the University in Marburg and one in high school. Two were killed right at the beginning in France; the third, an officer, was wounded and was a prisoner of war in France for two years. After he came home he continued with his studies and is now an M.D. in a large city in our community.
> Two of my sons died a few years before the Second World War: one at the age of 4, the other 17 years old. My only living son Walter was in it from the beginning. He died in 1946, a war casualty. So now I only have my married daughter, Berta, who lives in this vicinity.

[899]Wilhelm Knipp, online https://gedbas.genealogy.net/person/show/1221271694. Hereinafter cited as Wilhelm Knipp.

> The only son of my sister Emilie was a flier in the war. He crashed and injured his lungs. He spent two years in the hospital. He is well again and is now City Manager in a small town near Siegen. His mother (my sister) died in 1943. A year later her house was completely ruined by a bomb... Fate has been pretty hard on us.
> We live in the province Westfalen. At first we had American occupational forces but now we have English...As you have probably read in your newspapers, everything is rationed. It is not as bad for us in the country as it is for those in large cities. At least we have potatoes and bread. A farmer gets three zentner (one zentner equals about 220 pounds, I believe) potatoes per person per year as against one or two zentner per person for people living in the city. If we did not have America and Canada's help we certainly would starve.[900]
>
> Russia has taken possession of about one-third of Germany and has driven the people from the eastern provinces into western Rheinland and Westfalen. We are, therefore so very crowded. We had to take a farmer and his family into our home. They did not have a thing; only the clothes they had on their bodies. The harvest of peas and beans was very small because of the extreme drought. Such small amounts of coffee, rice and tobacco that are being sent in to Germany all go to the black market and we are not able to buy them.

i. Walter KNIPP (3104) died in 1946.

ii. Berta KNIPP (3105).

215. Helena KNIPP (1378) was born on 9 January 1876. She married Thomas Samuel Hoy (2306) on 30 June 1897 in Milam, Texas, USA. She died on 8 March 1969 in San Antonio, Bexar, Texas, USA, at age 93.[901]

She was also known as Lena (1378).

Thomas Samuel HOY (2306) was born circa 1872 in Texas, USA. He died on 6 March 1923 in San Antonio, Bexar, Texas, USA.

The three known children of Helena Knipp (1378) and Thomas Samuel Hoy (2306) were as follows:

i. Thomas Samuel HOY (2307) was born on 20 December 1902 in Texas, USA. He died in 1982.

iii. Lena HOY (1822) was born circa 1908. She died in 1984.

216. Charles Henry KNIPP (1379) was born on 24 January 1878 in Round Rock, Williamson, Texas, USA.[902] He married Maidie Moody (1381) in 1906.[903] He died on 24 June 1927 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA, at age 49.[904] He was buried at the Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[905]

Charles Henry Knipp (1379) was a carpenter and mechanic.[906,907]

Maidie MOODY (1381) died in 1911.

i. Charles Moody KNIPP (1382).

217. Otto Powell KNIPP (1380) was born on 25 November 1879 in Round Rock, Williamson, Texas, USA.[908] He married Evangeline Esther (Eva) Schrap (1823), daughter of C. F. (Christian) Schrap (2230) and Helen C Schuster (2231), on 21 July 1917 in Dodge Center, Minnesota, USA.[909] He died on 4 July 1965 in Raymondville, Willacy, Texas, USA, at age 85.[910] He was buried at the Raymondville Memorial Cemetery in Raymondville, Willacy, Texas, USA.[911]

He was a lumberman and owner of Raymondville Lumber and Hardware. He was also a carpenter, building many homes in the Corpus Christie area.[912]

Eva Schrap, c 1910

Evangeline Esther (Eva) SCHRAP (1823) was born on 19 November 1887 in Milbank, Grant, South Dakota, USA.[913] She died on 2 November 1973 in Raymondville, Willacy, Texas, USA, at age 85.[914] She was buried at the Raymondville Memorial Cemetery in Raymondville, Willacy, Texas, USA.[915] Evangeline Esther (Eva) Schrap (1823) was born in Dakota Territory, raised on her father's farm. She attended the University of Minnesota and became a teacher.[916]

The only known child of Otto Powell Knipp (1380) and Evangeline Esther (Eva) Schrap (1823) was:

224 i. Phillip Frederick KNIPP (1824) was born on 15 April 1918 in Kingsville, Kleberg, Texas, USA. He married Lavada Charlene Miller (2225) on 30 June 1940 in Mission, Texas, USA. He died on 15 January 2009 in Harlingen, Arlington, Texas, USA, at age 90. He was buried on 18 April 2009 at the Raymondville Memorial Cemetery in Raymondville, Willacy, Texas, USA.

218. William W KNIPP (109) was born on 21 February 1885 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[917] He married Dixie (?) (2297).[918] He died on 15 June 1937 in Houston, Harris, Texas, USA, at age 52.[919] He was buried on 17 June 1937 at the Rose Hill Memorial Park in Corpus Christi, Nueces, Texas, USA.[920]

From research documented in FindaGrave: Death certificate identifies wife as Mrs. Dixie Knipp and father as Henry Knipp, a native of Germany. It lists an 1883 birth date, though headstone shows 1885. WWI draft card is under the name William Willie Knipp

220. Henrietta Marion KNIPP (3896) was born on 17 December 1888 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. She married Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895), son of Alfred Pierce Donnell (30) and Elizabeth Frances Langford (66), on 2 May 1911 at Hotel Tulia in Tulia, Swisher, Texas, USA.[932] She died on 31 March 1965 at LaCasa Canyon Convalescent Home in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 76. She was buried on 2 April 1965 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[933]

In 1908, Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) moved to Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA. From Keith's article:

> "She came to Silverton to teach school about the time that Daddy came back to work there. She had taught in schools closer to her home but was lured to the Plains by her sister, Kathryn Knipp, who taught near the Vigo community. I believe they came by rail to Estelline, but I know they rode the stagecoach from that point to Silverton. My father found the young woman he wanted for a wife when he met Henrietta. ...My mother thought she was marrying a banker, but the love of the land was in my father's blood. When I was in my third year, they moved back to Daddy's improved section in Swisher County.[934]"

She and Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) arrived in December 1924 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, on a cold and snowy day from Silverton in an open cab Ford truck. Beginning in 1924, Henrietta Marion Knipp was the teacher in a one-room school in Canyon, Texas

She was the President of the Parent Teacher Association, the West Side Home Demonstration Club and the Canyon Women's Book Club. She was very active in the Presbyterian church, serving in the choir and teaching Sunday School.

She had a stroke 1 November 1956 at the age of 67.

From Keith's article:

> "Tragedy came to our family when Mother suffered a major stroke in November 1956. She lay paralyzed and speechless for more than 8 years. During that sad time we saw in Mother a courage and strength which sustained us all. Her mind remained alert, she was always cheerful; and though we shed many tears together and separately, she was an inspiration to all who came in contact with her.
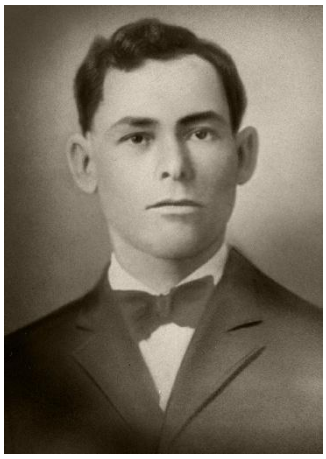
> Mother's illness took a terrible toll on Daddy who was 9 years her senior. Those were such sad and lonely years for him.[935]"

In 1929, Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) and Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) moved the family to their property 3.5 miles west of Canyon, which was the family home for 35 years.



Lemuel Alexander Donnell, 1911

Lemuel Alexander DONNELL (3895) was born on 28 November 1879 in Warsaw, Benton, Missouri, USA.[936] He died on 29 October 1968 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 88, two weeks after having a stroke.[937] He was buried on 31 October 1968 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[938] He was known by his family and friends as Pop (3895). LAD wrote a memoir, at the urging of his son Overton, in about 1966 that was typed by Marie Donnell in about 1984.

In his memoir, he recalls his grandmother, likely Elizabeth Francis Langford (86):

> "I was about nine years old then, I guess, and had never seen [a fiddle], and the music they made I shall never forget. I was so carried away with it that I said to my Grandmother that I wanted Pa to get me a fiddle so that I could learn to play. She thought the fiddle was part of the Devil's domain, and by me wanting to learn to play it, that I must be possessed. So she called Pa in, and they prayed that I could be relieved of such an evil thought. I never did learn to play it, but I wish now that I had. …

My Father's people were Scotch-Irish and very religious people. My Grandmother was the most devout person I have ever known. When Sunday came, it was observed to the letter. If someone had fired a gun, the whole place would have exploded. If we did not have enough wood cut to go from bed until morning, it had to be that way.[939]"

In September 1891, Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) moved to Silverton from Seymour with his parents, brothers and sisters. From LAD's recollections in the Canyon News:

"During the summer of 1891, the Donnells made a prospecting trip to the plains. That summer had had lots of rain and was a beautiful country. The lakes were full of water and grass was half knee-high. Pa came home with his mind made up to move. In September we arrived in Silverton." Donnell remembers.

"Dad had at that time one wagon, one hack, five just common work stock, two colts, cows and calves. Coming by way of Matador, we pulled up the Caprock east of old Della Plains."

When the Donnell family arrived in Silverton, "Dad ate his lunch, and said he was going into town, then just one store. The town was already plotted out, however. Returning to the wagon, he said, 'I've got us a place."

"The property was located 3-4 miles northwest of where we were camped then." ...

"When we arrived at the property, we found a dugout, 10x12, two stacks of hay, and new wire fence."

"We put everything we could in the dugout, using it for a kitchen, dining room and parlor."

"The wagon was bedroom number one, while the hack, with 1x12 boards added to it, made bedroom number two for the boys."

"We wintered just fine, but I remembered there were a few nights when it would be stormy, very dark and snowing, with the wind from the north. We would hold to each other's hands to keep from getting separated going from the dugout to the hay stack," Donnell says.

[939]Lemuel Alexander Donnell, Memoir of Lemuel Alexander Donnell.

> "We had to have food, fuel, and some kind of social activity. To get a sack of flour, we had to go to Amarillo, a six-day trip. We would leave Monday morning and get back Saturday after noon.[940]"

Early in the memoir, he reflected on his family:

> "I was the middle child. The oldest boy was the smart one. Sam, the second, was average, and I was the nut. My father and older brother never looked at me, but that I could sense their thoughts. All the time I was in his [Pa's] home, I did everything he asked me to do. I would do lots of things I thought he wanted done, but I never got any credit for it. I never got his respect. I was always treated as an inferior something. If you treat one as dirt, he becomes dirt."

That comment provides context for some of the other incidents he writes about.

Pop recalled:

> "I went to school until I was eighteen. Grammar, history, and all other studies did not mean much to me, but arithmetic and algebra were my hobbies. The last year in school we went through Ray's Algebra-Arithmetic. Mr. D. C. Lowe was our teacher. We had a very interesting class. After we finished Ray's, he had us get a new book—Sutton and Kimbrow's Practical Arithmetic. We worked every problem in it.
> At the close of this session, Mr. Lowe took a cashier position in a new bank and invited me to come with him and learn the banking business. I stayed about five months. Then when I was twenty, I went to Draughn's Banking Business College at Fort Worth and stayed four months and finished. There I got all the education I wanted—all I needed. ...
>
> My older brother Charles and I never could do one thing without getting into a jam in some way. He was so much more intelligent than I was that he would just tell me and I could do the work.
> It was a cold morning with a little snow. Pa wanted to use his wagon, so he sent us out to grease it. I got the wrench. He (Chas.) got the bucket of grease. I took off the nut. He had a big paddle of grease in his hand. He says, "Take it off," meaning the wheel. I was small and couldn't budge it, but I tried. He wore a big boot that he used to kick me in the seat of the pants with. Then he yelled again, "Take it off!" I was doing my best, but it was not enough. He gave me a nasty look and pulled that paddle of grease across my face, starting with my mouth, across my cheek, and filling my ear full. I stepped back, falling backward over the wagon tongue into a snowbank. We were not very far from the house, so Pa heard the commotion and came to the door. He said, "What is the matter?"

[940]The Canyon News, 20 May 1965, 14.

> My brother says, "Lem is having one of his mad spells". I went to Pa with my face. I thought Pa would whip him, but he did not. He thought it was funny." ...
> It was in the spring of '92 that Pa sent us boys down [into the Tule Canyon] to get a load of wood. It turned out to be a wet afternoon. We got our wood—what we thought we could pull out—and started up the climb. This hill was red clay, and the rain had made the roadbed slick.
>
> We started up the hill with Charles riding on the wagon, Sam at one wheel with a rock, and I at the other with another rock. We started, went a few feet, and he stopped. We jammed our rocks behind the wheels. We made it alright until we were nearly out. He called on his team. Old Fan would not pull. That was about two hours until dark. We were hanging on the side of this mountain, depending on these rocks to hold the load we had.
> Charles went to crying. He would cry a while, then he would try to make the team pull. He would go and rub her nose and talk and plead with her to pull us out of this mess. She would not. We had to stay with the outfit. Darkness began to settle around. We did not know what we would do. All at once she raised her head and began to nicker. Chas grabbed the lines, and out we went. I always figured she realized that it was feeding time and that she had better get home.
> It took ten loads of wood a year to do the family, so we had to watch the woodpile and not let it get too low. One winter, in making our trips to the canyon, there always were panther tracks. The whole winter they were there. We never did see one as we were always there during daylight.[941]"

The brothers Lemuel (3895) and Sam (32) grew up working side by side in the cattle business, doing the same jobs and sharing the same daily life. They slept in the same bed, ate at the same table, broke colts in turn, and handled ranch work together so closely that people often did not distinguish between them by name. Lem considered Sam a steady, sensible, and well-liked man, a slightly better rider, but noted that Sam never boasted or tried to claim superiority, and that they always worked in complete harmony.

Starting from a small family bunch of cattle and limited means, they gradually expanded by taking on leased grass and improving newly acquired land in Swisher County with corrals, a one-room house, and windmills, then moving most of the cattle there. They built up both cattle and horse herds-sorting colts into cow horses, roping horses, or work horses-and, through steady labor and saving, helped bring the family holdings to seven sections of land, about forty head of horses and mules, and roughly four hundred head of cattle.[942]

From LAD's memoir, paraphrased:

> In early July, during a spell of dead calm when there was no wind to power the mill, Sam and I worked late into the night to repair it so the wind pump would draw water again. While we were fixing the mill around eleven o'clock, Sam accidentally stepped on a nail. By the next morning, his foot was badly infected [with tetanus], and he could no longer ride, so I hitched up the buggy and took him home to mother. Sam never returned to work. About a week later, while I was away delivering 120 steers to a buyer fifty miles off, word came that Sam's condition had worsened. After riding nearly a full day and night to get back, I arrived just as he was slipping away. Sam suffered several convulsions, then told his mother he had seen Jesus and was going "up higher." Soon after, he died.
> The funeral was held the next afternoon—plain but dignified, a typical cowboy burial. A hearse drawn by four white horses led the procession, with two mounted cowboys riding on each side. When it ended, I returned alone to their camp twelve miles away. Inside the house, I found Sam's coat, hat, and a nearly new pair of boots waiting where he had left them. Sam had owned a section of land and about a hundred head of cattle but had never married, so his estate went to our father. I received nothing except the memory of their years of work and companionship.[943]

After Sam's death in 1906, LAD entered into partnership with his brother Charles in an effort to retain the family's cattle and land holdings. LAD took charge of managing the outfit while Charles supplied funds and paid the hired help. Within a year, however, the family's property began to fragment. Their father deeded land to the daughters, and through a series of ill-advised transactions by the husbands—one involving a lumber company and another bartering for calves—LAD lost control of both one owned and one leased section. By early 1909, discouraged by his father's interference with hired hands, LAD decided to liquidate the cattle operation.

> "In the summer of 1907, we had kept our yearling steers, and I got money and bought until I had 141 two-year-old steers. These were a good lot of cattle and, in the spring of 1908, I sold these cattle to two men at McLean, Texas, and I was to deliver them a distance of about 130 miles. The cattle were in the east edge of Swisher County, and they had to go six miles north of McLean.

[942]Lemuel Alexander Donnell, Memoir of Lemuel Alexander Donnell.
[943]Lemuel Alexander Donnell, Memoir of Lemuel Alexander Donnell.

> We had the two men that bought the cattle, a fourteen-year-old boy, and myself. We drove cattle down by Silverton, then into the Red River breaks, where we had to cross Red River, then on by the way of Clarendon.
> In crossing the river, I got my horse in a bad mess of quicksand. I was riding a good horse-a sorrel with stocking legs and a blaze face-a powerful horse. I called him Simon. He had to make three or four lunges to get through. I came out with my boots full. I did nothing about it and rode until noon. I stepped off on the ground.
> My feet were packed with dry sand. The moisture had evaporated. No chance to get my feet out, so they poured my boots full of water. They then would lift me up by my feet and let the water run out, and after a few treatments like that, I was able to get my boots off."

By September 1909, he had sold off the herd but still held title to his section in Swisher County. That year, he purchased eighty acres from a tract adjoining the town of Silverton and acquired $750 in bank stock, marking his shift toward town investments. The Swisher County land was improved and rented out as of January 1910, ending his full-time residence at the ranch. Meanwhile, his father built a new home in Silverton, and L.A.D. constructed a barn and planted trees on his nearby eighty-acre property. By late 1909, he was living in Silverton with his parents.

> "So now I am thirty years old. I have never married. I had had a few love affairs but nothing serious. Half a dozen of the homegirls had proposed to me, but I never did take them serious. So in the beginning of 1910, I owned one section of land in Swisher County, eighty acres near Silverton, my bank stock, and my town property in Silverton, Texas. I was Sunday School Superintendent and sang bass in a quartet, and had a job as bookkeeper in the bank. So far so good.[944]"

He was primarily a cattleman, specializing in breeding, raising, and selling registered polled Hereford cattle.[945]

My recollections:

> Mother and Pop Donnell were hard working ranchers. I think I spent a few weeks every summer at their place west of Canyon. Then there were nearly daily excursions into town for shopping or to go to a Saturday movie matinee. The movie theater was the only air conditioning unless we stopped to visit Aunt Kate. Trips to town always had the benefit of a soda pop or ice cream cone. And there was the occasional drive-in movie.

Not much to do for a kid, except to accompany Pop on his daily trip to count cows. The fun part of that was the challenge of jumping out of a rolling car to run ahead and open the barbwire gate, then jumping back in on the other side. He counted his cows every trip just to be sure none were missing.

Pop was pretty quiet but loved his Friday night "wrassling" on TV. He, being a real cowboy, was a very good harmonica player. And told stories about places he never wanted to go again: getting cattle out of the quicksand or escaping a flash flood in a canyon.

Mother Donnell was very involved with the Presbyterian Church. She had an upright piano that we kids would bang on but it only got played if Aunt Kate came over.

The four known children of Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) and Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) were as follows:

i. Keith Louise DONNELL (36) was born on 20 September 1912 in Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA. She married Clarence Joe Edward Bauer (39), son of Jochem John Albert Bauer (40) and Rebecca Jane Dietrich (65), on 11 November 1932 at The Donnell's home in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, by the Reverend John R. Sharp. She died on 3 July 1980 in Manhattan, Kansas, USA, at age 67 of cancer. She was buried at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA. (see # 87).

ii. Alton Parker DONNELL (9) was born on 29 May 1916 at the Donnell Home in Swisher, Texas, USA. degree in mathematics from Lamar University, and worked as an engineer/consultant for Dupont SRW until his retirement.

After Jean passed away after 55 years of marriage, he reached out to long forgotten friends to fill the hours of his newfound loneliness. It was then he connected to his high school girlfriend, Julie (Gremmels) Ford, who had also just lost her husband. The two were a high school "item" in Lynchburg, Virginia from 1948-1952, after which they both graduated and went on to pursue their passions and careers. The romance with Julie was rekindled almost immediately, over 65 years since they'd last seen each other, and he moved to be with her in West Virginia. He fell in love with not only Julie, but also the town, the weather, and the social options.[990]

Generation One

240. William Henry HIBBELER (1834) was born circa 1836 in Germany.[998] He married Sophia (?) (3512) circa 1864. He died circa 1912 in Milam, Texas, USA.

William Henry Hibbeler (1834) was a farmer. He was also spelled Hibler, Hibbiler, and Hebler (1834). He immigrated in 1878 to Galveston, Texas, USA.[999]

Sophia (?) (3512) was born circa 1836.[1000] She died circa 1880. Because of Sophie's ill health, the family decided to move from northern Germany

> "...hoping that the warm dry climate would help control her terrible bouts with "chills and fever"...Everyone thought Katerina's mother was responding favorable to the better climate even though she continued to have attacks of chills and fever. Very little was known about the cause and cure of malaria at that time. However she lasted less than a year in her new home. One day, Katerina, her brother and her father were working in the field when the little sister called frantically from the back door. Sensing tragedy, Katrina leaped two rows at a time back to the house. Her mother was dead! Lying on the kitchen floor! The baby crawling about her crying and wimpering!.[1001]"

The three known children of William Henry Hibbeler (1834) and Sophia (?) (3512) were as follows:

241 i. Katherine HIBBELER (282) was born on 1 September 1866 in Oldenburg, Germany. 241. Katherine HIBBELER (282) was born on 1 September 1866 in Oldenburg, Germany.[1002] She married Heinrich Knipp (108), son of Johann Henrich Knipp (1825) and Maria Katherine Daub (1826), in May 1884 in Milam, Texas, USA.[1003] Several years after her husband passed, she married Peter J Leavson (1836) in Texas, USA.[1004] She died on 16 December 1937 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 71.[1005] She was buried at the Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[1006]

She spelled her name in a variety of ways: "Katie, Katrina, Katheryn, Catherine (282)" In one her first letters that she wrote home on behalf of Henry, she spelled it Katharina.[1007,1008] She emigrated in 1878 from Northern Germany with her parents arriving in Galveston, Texas then moving on to Brenham, Texas.[1009] After her mother's death and when Katrina was about 16, the family moved to Cameron, Texas where they could all find work.

Katrina worked for a while in the Hefley home, but she soon went to work in the home of Henry Knipp, a forty-three-year-old widower with three small children. Two years later, Henry and Katrina married and had five children of their own.[1010]"

Also lore: At one point during the marriage of she and Heinrich Knipp (108), he raised his hand to beat her, and she reached behind her and picked up the poker. On his deathbed, he is supposed to have said, "Whatever you do, don't let her hit me with the poker".[1011] She appeared on the census of 1910 at 100 Buckhalts Road in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. Living with her were children Otto, Henrietta, Earnest, and Fred; her father Henry Hebler; Matilda Myer; and Gordon Lankford. Spelling in census forms is usually poor, so Matilda may be a niece of Henry's first wife.[1012]

Heinrich KNIPP (108) was born on 17 September 1842 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia. He married Amelia Meyer (1377) on 1 March 1875 in Milam, Texas, USA.[1013] He died on 28 October 1904 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 62.[1014] He was buried at the Cameron Pioneer Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[1015] He was also known as Henry (108). He emigrated in 1868 to New York City, New York, USA, on the steamer Bavaria that departed Germany on 2 May 1868.

According to Knipp family lore, he had been in the Prussian Army, struck an officer and needed to leave the country.[1016,1017] From Louise Robbins Davis' letter:

> A Lutheran pastor was securing passage for a group of immigrants who wished to come to America, and Henry Knipp, whose family was financially able to provide funds for his passage, persuaded his parents to let him join the group. As he suffered at times intensely from the after effects of a shoulder wound inflicted during the Franco-Prussian War, his parents decided that perhaps a change to a milder climate might prove beneficial. So Henry Knipp, whose German relatives and ancestors were made up largely of school teachers and doctors, began his long journey to a pioneer country where teachers and doctors were scarce indeed, but whose descendants were to labor in professions of law, engineering, and teaching for more than half a century.

He arrived in Cameron, Texas in 1869, by way of Chicago where he fished the Great Lakes. He joined a group of men making their way down the Mississippi to New Orleans.

He moved to Rockdale after March 1875, then to Round Rock, Texas where he lost his house to a fire on 7 May 1877.[1018,1019] Louise Robbins Davis wrote that after his first wife Amelia died very young:

> Through the kindness of neighbors and the help of a housekeeper Henry kept his family together for a year and then he met Kathryn Hibbler, whose family had migrated to America the year before...Kathryn was only seventeen years of age at the time of her marriage to Henry.
>
> By training, Henry studied woodcraft... These were early days in Texas, and the only mode of transportation was by heavy wagon train. Only the hardest oak and toughest hickory could take the punishment inflicted by heavy loads on rough, roadless treks across the country.
> In those days, horse-shoeing and other blacksmith work were equal in importance to the making of wagon wheels and wagon beds, and the first shop of its kind operated in Cameron was that of Knipp and Meyers. (Lou Meyers being a cousin of Amelia.) ...

He had been a carpenter, cabinet maker, wagon maker and worked on the railroad line to Mexico, at times returning infrequently to his family.[1020]

(2084) and Gesche Gesine Wohlers (3030).[1071] He died on 16 November 1899 at age 81 at the home of his nephew Herman Siefke.[1072] He was buried on 18 November 1899 at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.[1073]

In 1835, Frederick Siefke (2080) and Herman Siefke (966) were in the wreck of the Orpheus with brother Henry off of the coast of Port au Prince, Haiti. They were cast ashore - they found employment and became friends of Burgher Jan, Dutch (or German) Consul who in 1837 arranged for them to go to New York via Savannah - he provided letter of reference to John Jacob Astor.[1074]

Frederick Siefke (2080) and Meta Heins (2081) adopted her niece Wilhelmina Dorothea Von Dohlen (134) after her mother died when she was four years old.

From his obituary:

> "Frederick went with George W. Elder, and Carnick and Sons' shipping merchants of New York. Early in the [18]50's he started a wholesale and retail grocery store at Grand and Worster Streets. During the [American Civil] war he made much money in speculations in bread stuffs and provisions. His deals were sometimes large. His financial success was marvelous, for he was a man of slight education. He claimed much of his good fortune was due to his wife, who died in 1891.
> Mr. Siefke retired from business in 1870, and was reputed a millionaire, owning much of the property in the Eighth Ward of New York City, where he lived on Sullivan Street.[1075]

Frederick Siefke fell mentally ill, apoplectic, in about 1888. His competence was challenged in court by his nephew Henry who tried to have him declared insane and was ultimately successful, forcing his holdings into management by a committee of Farmer's Loan and Trust Company. The trust company appointed a committee for "Frederick Siefke, the insane retired grocer, who has an estate of $200,000." Wilhelmina Siefke, wife of Herman Siefke, his nephew, was appointed Committee of his person.[1076] The proceeding which began soon after he became ill, were delayed significantly because Frederick was not made available, apparently hidden away in New Jersey by Herman. During the proceedings on March 15, 1893, Henry offered a $100 reward for anyone one who could produce Frederick at trial. On the same day, appearing in an afternoon edition, Herman commented to a reporter that Henry, then a liquor dealer, and Caroline made their living "…keeping a dive in New York." Caroline sued Herman for slander.[1077]

From his obituary, likely written by Herman, there was a clear sense of pleasure that Frederick outlived his nephew Henry:

> "... He has lived with his nephew, Herman, who married his adopted daughter, also a niece by marriage. His home has been in Bay Ridge and his life has been quiet, he having outlived the nephew who sought to get possession of his property.
> In his later years he was fond of making presents. He gave one hundred gold watches to friends and favorite relatives.[1078]"

National Guard inspector of rifle practice, an office he would serve in until 1880, when the regiment was mustered out of New York State service (he remained as a supernumerary officer until discharged in 1883).

A successful coal and wood merchant, he served a term in the New York State legislature before being elect to represent New York's 7th District in the United States House of Representatives. He served a single term from 1897 to 1899, and was not a candidate for re-election.[1100]

The two known children of Christina Siefke (2239) and John Herman George Vehslage (2240) were as follows:

i. John VEHSLAGE (2552).

256 ii. Christina VEHSLAGE (2553) was born in 1864. She married E. G. Schroeder (2554) in 1888. She died in 1955. She was buried at the All Faiths Cemetery in Middle Village, Queens, New York, USA.

252. Henry SIEFKE (2241) was born in 1848.[1101] He married Caroline Christiana Ropke (2242), daughter of (?) Ropke (2252) and (?) Pope (2251), on 14 May 1873.[1102] He died on 10 June 1899 at 307 West Twenty-sixth Street in New York City, New York, USA.[1103] He was buried on 14 June 1899 at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.[1104]

He worked in real estate, the liquor business and was a lawyer. He sued his uncle Frederick, helped his wife sue her mother, and was accused by his cousin Herman of running a "dive" in New York. He left a will on 11 August 1899 in New York City, New York, USA. As published by the New York Times, with edits for brevity:

> "... By the conditions of the will a valuable piece of property on the northwest corner of Eighth Avenue and Twenty-sixth Street goes to his son, Henry Siefke, twenty-two years old, to the exclusion of the Astor estate, which has watched for years the disposal of the property, in the hope that a stipulation by which the land was originally given into the Siefke family as a marriage gift from William B. Astor might be broken, and the property revert to the Astor heirs.
> Another clause in the will restores to the testator's brother, John Jacob Siefke of Jersey City, all rights he once had in his father's cemetery plot in Greenwood, worth $30,000.

> How John Jacob Siefke came to lose his rights in the Siefke burial plot brings to light an interesting story in the life of Alderman Henry Siefke, who left a fortune of $500,000. Henry Siefke, the founder of the family of the present generation, was a favorite servant of William B. Astor, grandfather of William Waldorf Astor. In the Astor family was also a maid servant, Annie. When Henry Siefke and Annie fell in love and sought the sanction of William B. Astor in marriage, it was willingly given, and to further show his approval he gave the young couple a plot of land at the corner of Eighth Avenue and Twenty-sixth Street, on which to build a home. This plot measured 100 by 50 feet. The only stipulation in the gift was that it must always descend to an heir in direct descent who bore the family name. A failure in this respect should cause a reversion of the land to the Astor estate.
> When the father of Alderman Henry Siefke and John Jacob Siefke was living, he showed a marked preference for the former, and left him, on his death, practically all the property, cutting off John Jacob with little or nothing. Then began a bitter fight between the brothers, in which John Jacob agreed to relinquish his rights in the family burial plot in consideration of the transfer of certain bonds and mortgages. Henry, it is said, was anxious to bar his brother from the family plot, so bitter was the feeling. The filing of the will, however, shows that Henry relented, and restored to his brother all the rights in the burial ground he once had.
> Mrs. Siefke gets a third interest in the estate for her lifetime on condition that she does not marry again. In that case she loses all interest in the estate.[1105]"

Caroline Christiana ROPKE (2242) was born in 1853 in Brooklyn, Kings, New York, USA.[1106] She died in 1902. She was buried at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.[1107] Caroline married Henry Siefke (2244) the nephew of Frederick (2075) and a cousin of Herman (133).

Caroline Siefke was accused of attempting to poison her mother Mrs. Pope and her brother John P. Ropke. (Things are a bit confusing because both Caroline and her mother were married multiple times.) On 31 August 1878, she prepared a “Pot Cheese” and had a young man John Blankmeyer, 13, deliver it to her mother’s house, claiming it was prepared by Mrs. Cook, a maid of Mrs. Ropke, who often sent gifts delivered by her son. Mrs. Siefke told John to tell her mother that Mrs. Cook’s son was ill and could not deliver it himself like usual. She promised him 10 cents to deliver the package and another 15 cents after it was done. She was gone when he returned. He later identified her in court.[1108] Caroline was no stranger to the court system. She was not on good terms with her mother because she had an ongoing suit against her, filed by her husband Henry, to get more out of an inheritance. It's not clear how that suit came out.

Her mother, too, was the finagling kind. She married Mr. Pope, then she, the new Mrs. Pope, had him sign over the property he owned at marriage so they could take out a loan on it, then promptly divorced him leaving him destitute.[1109] Caroline sued her husband's cousin Herman for slander. There is no indication how this was settled.[1110] On 11 December 1896 Caroline allegedly surprised a burglar in the hallway of her home who, by her son's description, "…squirted some kind of liquid into her face with a bulb, which he held in his hand. Then he tore her diamond earrings from her ears, and a gold breast pin from the neck of her dress. My mother fell screaming to the floor. The man ran downstairs and dashed out the front door." Although Caroline was sure it was carbolic acid, when reporters arrived she refused to see them because "she was too much prostrated." Henry, by then having left the liquor business and become a real estate agent, was tending to a sick horse in the basement and was unaware of the incident. Caroline apparently recovered fully and there was no mention whether an insurance policy was involved.[1111] After her husband Henry, then an alderman, died, Caroline sued her son Henry to get more out of the estate than Henry the elder had included in his will. The will cut off her future income from the estate significantly should she remarry, and the court removed that clause, giving her one-third of the estate with the rest going to her son and his descendants.[1112]

The two known children of Henry Siefke (2241) and Caroline Christiana Ropke (2242) were as follows:

i. Anna Elizabeth SIEFKE (2243) was born circa October 1867. She died on 8 September 1868. She was buried on 10 September 1868.

257 ii. Henry SIEFKE (2244) was born circa 1876. He married Emma Windolph (2245) circa 1898. He died on 11 April 1923. He was buried on 14 April 1923.

Herman Siefke, c 1910

253. Herman SIEFKE (133) was born on 14 April 1852 in Manhattan, New York, New York, USA.[1113] He married Wilhelmina Dorothea von Dohlen (134), daughter of Fritz Henrich Von Dohlen (968) and Johanna Heins (969), in 1881.[1114,1115] He died on 31 March 1923 at 148 74th Street in Brooklyn, Kings, New York, USA, at age 70.[1116] He was buried on 3 April 1923 at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.[1117]

He lived in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA, for more than 30 years.

He was one of the most prominent residents of Bay Ridge, Brooklyn. He was one of the founders of the Bay Ridge Lodge of Freemasons and was known as the "father of the lodge." He was a veteran of the 71st Regiment and had held a commission as a Captain in the Old Guard of New York, a veteran's organization. It is likely he was also later promoted to Major in the same organization. He was president of the Ridge Club for several terms.

He was one of the organizers of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shephard, of which his son-in-law, the Reverend Charles D. Trexler (960), was the pastor.

At the time of his death, he was in the real estate business in Manhattan.[1118] On 8 July 1918, Herman Siefke (133) was the Chairman of the War Committee of the Citizens Association of Bay Ridge and Fort Hamilton, headquartered at the Ridge Club. He

11,801st graduate and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant. on 11 June 1940 in West Point, Orange, New York, USA.

Alton Parker Donnell (9) was assigned to the 21st Engineer Regiment (Aviation) where he was stationed at Bluie West I, Greenland, building the airfield. He was promoted to First Lieutenant on October 10th, 1941, and to Captain on February 1st, 1942. In July 1942, Alton Parker Donnell (9) was reassigned to the North Atlantic Division Engineer office in New York, with station at Bluie East II, Greenland building airfields.

He was promoted to Major on 8 February 1943.

He trained to become an Army pilot at a variety of sites, including San Antonio, Texas; Chickasha, Oklahoma; Garden City, Kansas; Pampa, Texas; Orlando, Florida; and Fort Worth, Texas from June 1943 until January 1944.

In his second solo in a B-24 Liberator, he was flying as the copilot with Second Lieutenant William Bendon as pilot. One engine caught fire and another "went out" immediately after takeoff from Fort Worth Army Airfield, Fort Worth, Texas, USA. Both he and Bendon were able to "escape injury by leaping out as the big plane hit the ground." The aerial engineer Sergeant Jesse Dye died in the crash.

He was assigned as a Pilot to the 372nd Air Base Squadron at Peterson Field, Colorado, and the 9th Bomb Group (Very Heavy) at Dalhart, Texas to May 1944. He was then assigned to the 6th Bomb Group (VH) and the 24th Bomb Squadron (VH) at Grand Island, Nebraska where he transitioned to the B-29.[1175] He deployed with the 24th Bomb Squadron to Tinian Island in the Pacific where he flew 19 combat missions over Japan in the B-29.

Alton Parker Donnell (9) and Alton Parker Donnell Jr (1) was flying as a co-pilot on April 22, when an engine caught fire on takeoff. They attempted to land, but the crash knocked several crewmen unconscious. He was pulled from the wreckage by the pilot Lt. Dean Mutch. He was awarded a Purple Heart, but tried to refuse it, saying they should have done a better job of landing the plane. After one of his last combat missions, he diverted to fly over Hiroshima to witness the destruction soon after the detonation of Little Boy.

He commanded the 1st Bomb Squadron of the 9th Bomb Group and later served as the deputy group commander through December 1945. In 1946, he was assigned to the Manhattan Project as a declassification officer, and stationed in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. He considered that a nearly impossible job but had the opportunity to meet many of the Manhattan Project scientists.

On 2 October 1946, he was assigned as an intelligence officer in the Manhattan Project and later to the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project in Washington, District of Columbia, USA.

[1175] Fort Worth Star Telegram, 18 December 1943, p.2.

In 1948, he resigned his commission and began work for the Kellogg and later the Vitro Corporation where he managed several chemical and nuclear projects in New York City, New York. He also participated in the Eisenhower administration's Atoms for Peace Project as an analyst, attempting to determine what progress other nations had made in nuclear weapons and power.

In 1954, he became the Vice President and General Manager of Atomic Power Development Associates, the research subsidiary of Detroit Edison supporting the Fermi fast-breeder reactor project. In 1973, he returned to the federal government, serving on the Federal Power Commission and later the Department of Energy until he retired in 1980. He returned to the private sector where he worked for Overseas Advisory Associates until 1984 after which he returned to the family property in Canyon, Texas.[1176]

USA, at age 70.[1228] He was buried on 3 April 1923 at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.[1229] He lived in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA, for more than 30 years.

He was one of the most prominent residents of Bay Ridge, Brooklyn. He was one of the founders of the Bay Ridge Lodge of Freemasons and was known as the "father of the lodge." He was a veteran of the 71st Regiment and had held a commission as a Captain in the Old Guard of New York, a veteran's organization. It is likely he was also later promoted to Major in the same organization. He was president of the Ridge Club for several terms.

He was one of the organizers of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shephard, of which his son-in-law, the Reverend Charles D. Trexler (960), was the pastor.

At the time of his death, he was in the real estate business in Manhattan.[1230] On 8 July 1918, Herman Siefke (133) was the Chairman of the War Committee of the Citizens Association of Bay Ridge and Fort Hamilton, headquartered at the Ridge Club. He visited his son Herman, Jr. (14) on board the U.S.S. South Carolina and delivered an eloquent speech.

The six known children of Wilhelmina Dorothea von Dohlen (134) and Herman Siefke (133) were as follows:

i. Frederick SIEFKE (970) was born on 15 November 1881 in Greenwich Village, New York, USA. He died on 25 April 1957 at Burke Sanitarium in White Plains, Westchester, New York, USA, at age 75. He was buried on 29 April 1957 at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. (see previous).

ii. Adelaide Joan SIEFKE (971) was born on 6 November 1883. She died on 4 August 1885 at age 1. She was buried on 6 August 1885 at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. (see previous).

iii. Christine Henrietta SIEFKE (959) was born on 19 February 1887. Ashen is a small village 8 miles north-of-west of the historic town of Sudbury and Great Cornard, south of the River Stour, the Essex/Suffolk border.[1234]

Known children of John Piper (821) include:

281 i. John PIPER (819) was born circa 1675 in Ashen, Essex, England. He married Lucinda (?) (820) before 1697. He died before 1738.

Generation Four

281. John PIPER (819) was born circa 1675 in Ashen, Essex, England.[1235] He married Lucinda (?) (820) before 1697. He died before 1738.

He went to the north of Ireland from England about 1720.[1236]

Lucinda (?) (820) was born circa 1677. She was also known as Widow Piper and Janet (820).[1237] She emigrated with her son from Ireland to the American colonies before 1735. She purchased what became known as Widow Piper's Tavern before 1736. It became the site of the First Court of General Sessions of the Peace in Cumberland County. Four terms of the court were held there until the court was moved to Carlisle, the newly selected county seat.[1238]

The only known child of John Piper (819) and Lucinda (?) (820) was:

282 i. James PIPER (491) was born in 1698 in Kilmore, Down, Ireland. He married Margaret P Cleland (492), daughter of James Cleland (1750) and Margaret James (1751), on 30 July 1723 in Ballywoolen, Ireland. He died in May 1772. He was buried in Newville Cemetery, Newville, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.

Generation Five

282. James PIPER (491) was born in 1698 in Kilmore, Down, Ireland.[1239] He married Margaret P Cleland (492), daughter of James Cleland (1750) and Margaret James (1751), on 30 July 1723 in Ballywoolen, Ireland.[1240] He died in May 1772. He was buried in Newville Cemetery, Newville, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[1241] His estate was probated on 6 June 1772.[1242]

He emigrated circa 1738 to the American colonies from the north of Ireland with his family and his mother, 'Widow' Piper. He settled in what was later called West Pennsboro township. He was a "representative man" and head of a prominent family.[1243]

Note that his will was written in 1771 and probated in 1772, making the date on the grave marker unlikely. James gave:

> To his wife Margret [v. the more common spelling Margaret] and daughter Sarah – "a comfortable maintenance during her life and likewise my daughter Sarah if it please God to continue her affliction".

January 1816 in Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 86.[1247] He was buried at the Piper Cemetery in Cypher, Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA.[1248]

Circa 1738, he emigrated with his family from Ireland and lived for a time at Shippensburg. He was a Lieutenant in the Second Battalion of the Pennsylvania Provisional Regiment during the French and Indian Wars (1754-1763). He had previously been with Colonel Armstrong at the Battle of Kittenany.[1249] On 20 June 1763, he was commissioned a lieutenant in the Second Battalion of the Pennsylvania Provincial Regiment after he served conspicuously during the French and Indian War. He had previously been with Colonel Armstrong at the battle of Kittanning. From the source:

> "Prior to 1771 he moved to Bedford County and settled upon the stream now known as Piper's Run. A log fort was erected at the southern end of Black Oak Ridge, near Piper's house, and at various times during the revolution was occupied by troops sent to protect the settlers.[1250]

He was one of the Provincial Justices of Bedford County in 1773. At the outset of the War for Independence he was an outspoken patriot and represented Bedford County in the Provincial Conference held at Carpenter's Hall, Philadelphia which called the first constitutional convention on 18 June 1776.[1251]

In July 1776, he commanded the 1st Battalion of Bedford Associators and was in active service. On the 21st of March 1777, he was commissioned Lieutenant of the County, a position he filled for a period of three years, during the most trying period of the war. The Committee of Safety, on 21 October appointed him one of the Commissioners to seize the effects of traitors.[1252]

In 1777 (as is supposed from a date upon a brick in the chimney) Piper erected a substantial stone house (known as Fort Piper) of two stories, to which many settlers, at various periods, fled for refuge. John Piper lived there until his death in 1816. Fort Piper was believed to have been burned by arson in 1926.

From 27 November 1779, he represented Bedford County in the Supreme Executive Council. Major General John Michael Piper (344) was a member of the General Assembly from 1785 to 1789 and was opposed to the calling of the Convention of that year to which he was elected a member.[1253] On 6 November 1787, his residence in Philadelphia which he occupied while attending the Assembly, was stoned by a mob to show their opposition to the Constitutional Party of which he was a member.[1254] Under the Constitution of 1790, of which he was one of the framers, he was commissioned a Justice of the Peace, and on 2 June 1796, one of the Associate Judges of Bedford County.[1255] In 1797, Major General John Michael Piper (344) was selected a Presidential Elector.[1256] On 25 April 1801, Major General John Michael Piper (344) was commissioned a Major General of the Pennsylvania Militia.[1257] On 3 November 1801, Major General John Michael Piper (344) was elected a member of the State Senate from the Huntington, Bedford and Somerset District. He was reelected in 1803.

At the time of his death a local paper gave this testimony:

> "Mr. Piper was firmly attached to the principles of the Revolution, in which he bore his share with great credit as an officer, and the cause of political freedom, which was based on the revolution, found him an undeviating and ardent supporter. ... As a father he was peculiarly affectionate and indulgent, as a friend he was generous and sincere, and as a companion, polite, sociable and cheerful.[1258]"

Elizabeth Jane LUSK (345) was born on 2 September 1748 in Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[1259] She died on 20 August 1822 in Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 73.[1260] She was buried at the Piper Cemetery in Cypher, Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA.[1261] She was also known as Catharine Elizabeth (345).[1262]

Prison Ship Martyrs Monument, Brooklyn, New York

284. Lieutenant Colonel James PIPER (1741) was born circa 1735 in the North of Ireland.[1263] He married Lucinda Long (1744). He died after 27 August 1776 at a Prisoner of War Ship in Long Island, New York, USA.[1264] He was memorialized by the Prison Ship Martyrs Monument in Brooklyn, New York.[1265]

He immigrated circa 1750 with his father's family to Northumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[1266] He lived in 1772 in Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA. Two years after the founding of the county, there was an insurrection of the early settlers "west of the mountains." The reason for the insurrection was apparently the government's attempt to control or tax whiskey. This would not be settled for twenty years until President Washington settled the "Whiskey Rebellion" by force.

However, James Piper was elected to fill the position of county commissioner after the first county commissioners declined to act against the insurrectionists. Piper objected when two commissioners claimed seats unlawfully. The result was a split of the county and the creation of Westmorland county. This was known as "Dunmore's War.[1267]" He enlisted in the First Rifles, Continental Regiment, Pennsylvania Line, and was commissioned Lieutenant-Colonel, March 13, 1776.

James Piper was commanding the First Battalion of Miles' Pennsylvania Rifle Regiment and was engaged at the battle of Long Island, August 27, 1776.

On 20 July 1763, Captain William Piper (1747) was commissioned a Captain in the Second Battalion, Pennsylvania Regiment and served under Colonel Bouquet in the campaign of 1764, and received for his service in the French and Indian Wars two tracts of land. He moved his family from Shippensburg to the larger tract of land including the mouth of Delaware Run where they built a log house on the site of the current village of Dewart.

In the 1775 account of Rev. Phillip V. Fithian, an Irish missionary, it was called "Warrior Run". The reverend preached at the site of the unfinished Warrior Run meeting house, which was burned by Indians on 28 July 1779.

It is not known how long Captain Piper remained on the farm, but it was believed > ...that they fled with other settlers in the big runaway of June 1778, to escape the fury of the Indians, and his improvements were probably burned, as the savages swept the valley as with the besom of destruction. It is likely that their flight continued until they reached protection among friends at Shippensburg and there remained."

Note: besom is a synonym for broom.[1272] He was appointed Collector of the Excise in November 1779.

> John C. Piper of Reynolds township, for forty years a resident of Lee County, met a violent death at his home Friday evening. Mr. Piper had been to Steward and reached home at dark. He tied his horse in his stall but in attempting to leave the barn was pushed under another horse by the one he had tied. The horses were biting and pushing one another and when Mr. Piper fell, the horse trampled upon him. Mr. Piper's son heard the disturbance and got his father from under the horse. It was found that the old gentleman was badly injured and Dr. Gardner, of Steward, was summoned. Mr. Piper died before the physician arrived. His skull was crushed and his left side was broken in over his heart. Mr. Pier has been a prominent man in Reynolds and was highly esteemed. Although 75 years of age, he was very active, and during the last few years, has been an

Colonel Alexander Moore Piper, c 1865

301. Alexander Moore PIPER (509) was born on 11 May 1828 in Carlisle, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[1373] He married Adelaide Cozzens (508), daughter of William Brown Cozzens (104) and Jane Davidson (107), in November 1870.[1374] He died on 22 February 1902 at the Park Avenue Hotel in New York City, New York, USA, at age 73.[1375] He was buried on 26 February 1902 in United States Military Academy Cemetery, West Point, Orange, New York, USA, Location XXII, A, 06.

His first school years were spent at Mr. Alfred Armstrong's Academy, and he was for a short time at Dickenson College. His last years were with Captain Alden Partridge's Pennsylvania Military Institute. (Captain Partridge had graduated from the Military Academy in 1806, was the Superintendent of the Military Academy from 1814 to 1816, and was court martialed for refusing to leave when his replacement Colonel Sylvanus Thayer arrived.) While a pupil at this school, he received his appointment to the Military Academy on 1 March 1847 by Representative Alexander Ramsey of Pennsylvania.

Captain Partridge said that he was academically prepared to enter the Second (Junior) class, which was not allowed. He was admitted on 1 July 1847 at the age of 19.[1376] On 1 July 1851 Alexander Moore Piper (509) graduated from the United States Military Academy. He was the 1498th graduate. He ranked number five in his class upon graduation and opted for an artillery commission instead of one in the engineers.[1377]

He was commissioned a brevet 2nd Lieutenant in the Third U.S, Artillery at Fort Independence, Rhode Island.[1378] He was promoted to 2nd Lieutenant on 12 December 1851.[1379] In 1852 Alexander Moore Piper (509) served at Fort Adams, Rhode Island, and Fort Snelling, Minnesota. In August 1853, he returned to West Point as Assistant Professor of Geography, History, and Ethics, but he remained only until April 1854 when he went to Fort Monroe, Virginia.[1380] In 1854, Alexander Moore Piper (509) was ordered to the far West for frontier duty at Fort Yuma, California; Fort Vancouver, Washington; and Fort Dalles, Oregon also known as The Dalles. His command opened up Oregon and Washington and protected the pioneers by establishing roads and building many block houses.[1381] He was promoted to 1st Lieutenant on 31 Jan 1855.

He participated in several expeditions against the Indians. He commanded L Company of the 3rd Artillery as part of Major Edward J. Steptoe's force.[1382] After a series of attacks by the Yakimas, Chinooks and Klickitats on settlements in Oregon, Lieutenant Piper was detached to support Lieutenant Philip H. Sheridan and captured a group of Chinooks on Bradford's Island on 27 March 1855. on 27 March 1855.[1383] In 1856 and 1857 he was at Fort Walla Walla, Washington and Fort Umpqua, Oregon, and in 1860 went on an expedition to Upper Klamath Lake, Oregon.[1384] In October 1860, Piper reported to West Point for another tour of duty as an instructor.

In February of 1861, the War Department directed Lieutenant Charles Griffin (USMA, 1847), the chief artillery instructor at West Point, to organize a battery composed of artillery officers, soldiers, and equipment from the training detachment at the Military Academy. With the approach of Lincoln's inauguration, the battery was ordered to Washington, D.C. to help secure the capital from secessionist elements. Known as the West Point Battery, Piper was among the officers selected to be part of the new unit and accompanied it to the nation's capital in February 1861.[1385] On 14 May 1861, he was offered an appointment by the President as Captain in the Eighteenth Infantry but declined and was commissioned Captain in the Third Artillery the same day. He never joined the unit but stayed with the West Point battery in defense of Washington.[1386]

He was detached from the battery when General McDowell assigned him as the Acting Assistant Adjutant-General on the staff of Colonel William Tecumseh Sherman's 3rd brigade of the First Division of McDowell's Army. In the Manassas Campaign, he was engaged in action at Blackburn's Ford on 18 July 1861, and at Bull Run on July 21st. Sherman, a former Third Artillery officer, reported on July 25th that "Lieutenants Piper and McQuesin of my personal staff were under fire all day, and carried orders to and fro with as much coolness as on parade".[1387] On 11 September 1861 Alexander Moore Piper (509) was ordered to return to West Point as Principal Assistant Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology. On 15 June 1862, he took command of the Light Artillery Battery at West Point and was ordered to the front.[1388] He reported to Major General Pope and, at the age of 34, became Chief of Artillery for Pope's Army of Virginia. He earned a promotion to Brevet Major for gallant and meritorious service during the campaign in Northern Virginia on 30 Aug 1862.[1389] In September 1862, Alexander Moore Piper (509) was detailed as the Assistant Inspector of Artillery in Washington.[1390]

On 7 January 1863, Piper received an appointment as Colonel of the 10th New York Heavy Artillery Volunteers, which was raised and organized from the neighborhood of Sackett's Harbor, New York. This regiment was raised in response to Lincoln's call for 300,000 men on 2 August 1862. He led these raw recruits to the defense of Washington and drilled them into shape, and "out of chaos came order.[1391]" On 27 May 1864, his "heavies" took transports for Port Royal on the Rappahannock and were soon part of General Grant's Army at Cold Harbor. Despite the artillery name, they often fought as infantry.

They served credibly in the siege of Petersburg where Piper received a second brevet. The 10th New York later operated in the Shenandoah Valley with Phil Sheridan, Piper's old comrade from the Indian fighting in the Pacific Northwest. Piper commanded the regiment in the Battle of Cedar Creek, October 19, 1864. The 10th was also at the Siege of Richmond and Petersburg at the close of the War. From 23 July 1864 to 10 November 1864, he was Chief of Artillery of the 18th Army Corps. From December 1864 to July 1865, Colonel Piper ended the war as Chief of Artillery of the Middle Military Division.

He mustered out of volunteer service with his regiment at Madison Barracks, New York on 6 July 1865. He was a loved commander, and his "...firm, unswerving discipline made even those whom he punished admire him." The regiment presented him with a "very handsome watch, and he never failed to show with pride this token of appreciation." They also commissioned the portrait by Theodore Gegoux.[1392]

Alexander Moore Piper (509) was commissioned into the 4th Artillery and served as Principal Instructor of Artillery Tactics at the Military Academy, 24 July 1865 to 28 August 1872.[1393] In 1872, he took a leave of absence from the military, after Adelaide's unsuccessful pregnancy, then returned to active duty. On his return, unsolicited, General Grant offered him a promotion to Major in the Paymaster's Department, but he declined to leave the artillery.

He was promoted to Major on 20 December 1875 while in command of a company at Ft. Hamilton, Brooklyn. He returned to the Military Academy as Principal Instructor of Artillery Tactics from September 1876 to August 1881.[1394] Alexander Ross Piper notes in his manuscript "Alexander Piper" that:

> "His ideas of right and wrong and strict obedience to orders were well illustrated during his last tour of duty at the Academy, when Gen. O. O. Howard, the Superintendent of the Academy, issued an order that no soldier should walk on the sidewalk in front of the officer's quarters. Col. Piper promptly took the middle of the roadway and walked there until called upon for an explanation, when he stated that he was a soldier, and proud of it, though he was also an officer. The order was rescinded.[1395]"

He was in command of Ft. Trumbull, Connecticut when he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel, 1st Artillery on 8 November 1882. He was transferred to 3rd Artillery 10 November 1882 and was placed in command of the Artillery Regiment and St. Francis Barracks, Florida, 25 December 1882 to January 1884. He was transferred to 1st Artillery January 1884 for duty at the Presidio of San Francisco, California and was in command of the Artillery Regiment and Presidio of San Francisco, where he was promoted to Colonel, 5th Artillery on 10 August 1887. He then commanded Ft. Hamilton, New York from October 1887 until he retired at his own request on 1 July 1991.[1396]

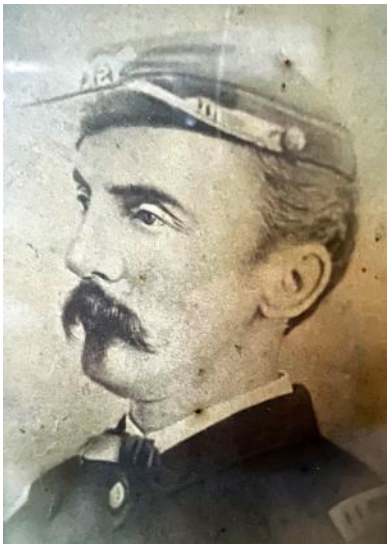
Alexander Moore Piper (509) and Adelaide Cozzens (508) lived in the Park Avenue Hotel, New York City, New York, USA, after he retired. A fire originated in the 71st Regimental Armory across the street and spread to the hotel. He was overcome by smoke and lost his life. She survived the fire.

Adelaide Cozzens

Adelaide COZZENS (508) was born in 1834. She died on 23 November 1922 at 7522 Ridge Boulevard in Brooklyn, New York, USA. She was buried on 27 November 1922 at the United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA. Location XXII, A, 05. She was known by her family and friends as Addie (508).

The only known child of Alexander Moore Piper (509) and Adelaide Cozzens (508) was:

i. Adelaide PIPER (1226) was born on 17 December 1871. She died on 18 December 1871. She was buried on 18 December 1871 in United States Military Academy Cemetery, West Point, Orange, New York, USA, (Location XXIX, A, 03).



James Wilson Piper, c 1863

302. James Wilson PIPER (102) was born on 26 September 1832 in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Sarah VanDyke Berier Ross (106), daughter of Lieutenant Edward Coke Ross (349) and Catharine Van Dyke Berier (350), on 6 August 1863 in Fort Hamilton, New York, USA, by the Reverend Currie.[1397] He died on 30 October 1876 in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 44. His funeral was held at Captain Erkuries Beatty's residence.[1398] He was buried at the Ashland Cemetery in Carlisle, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[1399]

He was a charter member and Recording Secretary of the Freemont Club, established to support the Union Electoral ticket and oppose James Buchanan. He worked for his brother-in-law, Erkuries Beatty (1190) at the Carlisle Weekly Herald where he was the office foreman.[1400]

Piper left civilian life for the Army at the outbreak of the Civil War where he served with his friend Captain Smead, United States Military Academy Class of 1854, who was tasked to recruit and form a voluntary battery of artillery. He received a commission as a first lieutenant in the 5th Artillery on 14 May 1861 and went to the field immediately with Smead's battery, which was part of the Artillery Reserve for the Army of the Potomac in the Virginia Peninsular Campaign.

During the Seven Days Battles (June-July 1862) he was severely wounded during the Battle of Mechanicsburg on 28 June 1862. He received a brevet promotion to Captain for gallant and meritorious service during that battle. When Captain Smead was killed in the Second Battle of Bull Run on 30 August 1862, Piper assumed command of the battery.[1401,1402,1403]

After the end of the Civil War, he was an instructor at the Artillery School in Fort Monroe, Virginia, USA. He was assigned at Columbia, South Carolina, but returned home to Bedford County, where he was "Rusticating.[1404]" He was again assigned to the Artillery School at Fort Monroe. After the Civil War, he was the Regimental Adjutant, 5th U.S. Artillery, Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, New York, USA. He was required to retire on sick leave and returned to Carlisle, Pennsylvania with "a shattered and broken constitution." He came down with pneumonia early in October, which caused his death. Alexander Ross Piper (19), at age 11, rode for the doctor.[1405]

Sarah Van Dyke Berier Ross, c 1864

Sarah VanDyke Berier ROSS (106) was born on 25 November 1846 in Gambia, Ohio, USA. She died on 31 March 1886 in Cincinnati, Hamilton, Ohio, USA, at age 39. She was buried at the Wesleyan Cemetery in Cincinnati, Ohio, USA. Her husband was seriously ill before his death in October 1876 because of wounds suffered during the Civil War. When he passed, Sarah was seized “with an attack of nervous prostration” for which her physicians prescribed alcoholic stimulants. This resulted in a significant family drama.

The use of alcohol as a treatment led to an "inordinate appetite for strong drink", and subsequently her commitment to the Fort Hamilton Inebriates' Home in June 1878 under order of the Supreme Court of New York. Her uncle Major Francis E. Berier was appointed as her "committee," like a trustee, for "her person and estate."

When admitted to the home she was suffering from delirium tremens. Under the care of the physicians of the home, she rapidly recovered and within a month or so was pronounced cured. However, her uncle Major Berier refused to permit her discharge unless she was recommitted to some Catholic or Protestant institution, usually the "Refuge of Fallen Women". Mr. Willetts, the Superintendent of the Fort Hamilton Inebriates' Home, claimed her uncle wanted to restrain her because "she was volatile and frivolous." Major Berier threatened to send her to an insane asylum. John M. Ross, her brother, wrote to Miss Annie E. Piper (1188), her late husband's sister, of Washington DC, in a letter dated 14 Jan 1879, that: "I fear her mind has been so affected that she is more fit for an insane than an inebriate asylum." Sarah was so frightened that she sent for two physicians to judge her mental condition.

Superintendent Willetts and the home's Resident Physician, Dr. Lewis D. Mason, were both in favor of her release before Christmas 1878. She was given liberty from the Fort Hamilton Inebriates' Home to visit friends she had made at Fort Hamilton, which started the movement to release her.

The court received affidavits from a variety of sources, including Superintendent Willetts and Dr. Mason who pronounced her cured and "possessed of strong will power to abstain from the use of liquor," and from friends who met her frequently at the Warm Springs in Perry County, Pennsylvania in 1876 before her husband's death as to her "gentle and refined behavior". Annie Elder Piper (1188) asserted to the court that Major Berier was unfit to be Sarah's "committee." Sarah asserted to the court that her uncle was under the influence of liquor when he visited her, and was "irritable, abusive, and unjust", that his threats to have her committed to an asylum were "unjust aspersions on her character," and that he intended to keep her in restraint "to keep her from all further enjoyment of life and society." Sarah further asserted that that she had "recovered from her appetite for strong drink," that she was able to abstain and never expected to return to it, and that she was recovered by July 1878.

After the court's decision to release her, Major Berier who had possession of all her property, amounting to $448, and her pension of $24/month, paid the cost of her board and restored all property. (Quotations above are directly taken from the source.).[1406]

He died on 15 February 1936 in Tyrone, Blair, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 70.[1432] He was buried at the Eastlawn Cemetery in Tyrone, Blair, Pennsylvania, USA.[1433]

He graduated from the Collegiate Institute, at York, Pennsylvania, in 1886, after which he taught school for two years and then entered Hahnemann College, Philadelphia, where he graduated in 1892 and in the same year located at Tyrone. From the source:

> "Here he is in the enjoyment of a large practice and has repeatedly been shown the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens. He is a member of the Blair County Medical Society and of the American Institute of Homeopathy and is one of the trustees of the State Homeopathic Society. He is identified also with Tyrone Lodge, F. & A. M., Council, Chapter and Shrine; the Odd Fellows, and the Junior order of A. M.[1434]

From his obituary:

> He was a prominent physician and surgeon at Tyrone, was born on the old Piper homestead on which his great-grandfather, John Piper, had settled and in which he erected what was known as Piper's Fort, a strong building used as a place of refuge from the Indians.

1952 at Peppeneghek in South Salem, Westchester, New York, USA, at age 87. He was buried on 24 November 1952 at United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA, (Location I, A, 24).[1454]

Alexander Ross Piper wrote his own obituary, which was published after his death by the Association of Graduates, United States Military Academy in their magazine "The Assembly". Much of the following comes from the obituary either paraphrased or quoted directly. Some minor edits were made for clarity.[1455]

Until 1876, he lived at several Army posts, principally at Fort Hamilton, New York Harbor; Columbia, South Carolina; and Fort Monroe, Virginia.[1456] After his father's death in 1876, he lived with his uncle Alexander Piper (509) (Colonel, 5th U.S. Artillery) and Aunt Addie (508), and with his cousin (by marriage) and future wife Marie Susan Cozzens (56) at West Point, New York. Beginning in 1881, he lived with his uncle William Kirkpatrick Piper (1158) at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, USA, where he went to public school and worked in his uncle's stationary shop until he received his appointment to the Military Academy.

He received his nomination to the Military Academy in 1885 from Congressman Singiser of Idaho which was not admitted to the Union until 1890 when it became the 43rd state. David Livingston unraveled the mystery by discovering that his nomination came from Theodore Frelinghuysen Singiser (1845-1907) who was the Representative of the Territory of Idaho in the 48th U. S. Congress, 1883-1885. Singiser was born in Cumberland County and served in the Pennsylvania military during the Civil War. From there he may have known the Piper family and was willing to forward the nomination to the Secretary of War and the President.[1457]

Alexander Ross Piper (19) graduated from the United States Military Academy in the Class of 1889 as the 3,310th graduate. From his obituary:

> "As a cadet he held the various offices of Corporal, Sergeant and Cadet Lieutenant of Company A. With the Academic Course he had little trouble so far as the mathematical studies were concerned, put the languages and memory studies kept him up late at night."

He considered himself a "goat," because after an accidental explosion damaged one eye, he needed to be tutored during his senior year. And he was ranked 29 in a class of 49, technically putting him in the bottom half. Afterwards, he marked his correspondence with a rubber stamp of a goat.[1458]

Alexander Ross Piper (19) was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant, 8th U.S. Infantry and stationed in Fort Robinson, Nebraska, USA. From October 1890 to February 1891, because his commander Captain Corliss had a severe eye disease, he was in the field in Command of Company C, 8th Infantry, during the Sioux Indian War. His unit was assigned the role of the "home guard" defending the Ogallala (also spelled Oglala) School at the Pine Ridge Agency. (Note: Lieutenant Piper's disappointment with not being part of the action in what became known as the Battle of Wounded Knee is documented in his letters to his wife, which were published in the referenced endnote. In retrospect, his commander did him a favor by keeping him back.).[1459] At the close of the Sioux Campaign, he was transferred to the 2nd Infantry, stationed at Fort Ohama, Nebraska. From 1 June 1892, until 20 June 1896, he served as Professor of Military Science and Tactics in Gordon Institute, Barnesville, Georgia, USA. On 16 July 1896 he was promoted to 1st Lieutenant, 15th Infantry and stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. After nine weeks, his regiment was transferred to Fort Bayard, New Mexico. He was in G Company, commanded by Captain George K. McGunnegle. At Fort Bayard on February 7, 1897, he lost his right arm due to a gunshot wound in a hunting accident and returned to duty on March 15th. He remained at Fort Bayard until his company was sent to Fort Apache, Arizona in April 1898. At Fort Apache,

> "...owing to the scarcity of officers, he was the Post Adjutant, Commissary, Canteen Officer, Company Commander, and finally as a last straw, Post Surgeon. The hospital steward was a German devoid of humor, and started to obey literally his instructions to give all patients that reported at morning hospital call a dose of castor oil. His attention was called to the steward's failing when a corporal who had a broken leg protested.[1460,1461]"
> "On May 14th he was relieved from his various duties at Apache by an order appointing him Captain and Commissary of Subsistence of Volunteers with orders to report at Chickamauga Park. At Chickamauga he was assigned to the 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, 1st Corps, and as the Division Commissary had not been appointed he performed his duties.

> His Brigade, (Hains's, 4th Ohio, 4th Pennsylvania, and 8th Illinois) was landed at Arroyo, Puerto Rico, August 3d, and with little resistance pushed on to Guayama. October 21st, he was assigned as Depot Commissary at Ponce, and there made the pleasant acquaintance of the 1st Engineers. Through their amiability and engineering skill he finally secured a Commissary storehouse that was a joy. That it was well built was proven by its trip to sea intact when the flood came in the Spring. He still holds and prizes the certificate given him by General Griffin the night the 1st Engineers sailed for home, stating that the Commissary Department had given his regiment its full rations and all the money called for by the Regimental Surgeon for the purchase of delicacies for the sick.

> Owing to illness, he was ordered to New York at the end of January. He left Ponce with the thermometer at 105 degrees and arrived in New York to find the thermometer discouraged and down to 9 degrees below zero, February 9th.
> He was assigned to duty in New York City as Purchasing Commissary for Transports, and so served until he was promoted Captain of Infantry and retired from active service, July 11, 1899.[1462,1463]"

As a "Captain, Assistant Commissary of Subsistence", he was awarded the Silver Star for Gallantry in Action. [NOTE: the award certificate, signed by the Secretary of War, was not issued until 1927.]

On 11 July 1899, he, his wife, and their 4 children at the time, moved to Sing Sing (now Ossining-on-Hudson), New York.[1464]

> "He entered commercial life, first with the Seamless Metal Ware Company as manager, and then for a short time was manager and treasurer for the Mobile Company of America and treasurer of the Cosmopolitan. With the advent of the Low Administration, he was appointed Superintendent of Final Disposition, Department of Street Cleaning, City of New York, and so served until October 21, 1902, when he was appointed Second Deputy Police Commissioner. During his incumbency he installed the "Block System", "One-Way" street traffic; and the use of mounted police in regulating traffic. The "Block System" is now used in cities all over the world.

> On 1 January 1904, Tammany returned to power, and his services were no longer required."

He also developed the Traffic Regulations and Rules of the Road.[1465]

In 1902, Alexander Ross Piper (19) and Marie Susan Cozzens (56) first moved to Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, NY and moved again into 7522 2nd Avenue, Bay Ridge, where they lived from 1907 until 1942. In about 1904,

> "At the solicitation of the City Club of Chicago, he made an investigation of the Police of Chicago, and since then all investigations in Chicago have been dubbed “Piperizing”. A similar investigation of the Police of Schenectady was made by Captain Piper, assisted by Honest Dan Costigan. During the investigation the Chief of Police died of a heart attack (?), and the Chief of Detectives disappeared."

The report of the investigation became known as the "Piper Report", which is discussed in the endnote.[1466]

From his obituary,

> "[On] March 2, 1904, Piper became General Superintendent of the American Railway Traffic Company, a subsidiary of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company and subsequently President and General Freight Agent of the South Brooklyn Railway Company. He was President of the South Brooklyn Railway Company for 24 years and also in charge of the Medical and Welfare Departments of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Corporation. He was [eventually] retired with pension, July 1, 1940 by the South Brooklyn Railway Company and B.-M.T. Corp.
> At the outbreak of World War I, the South Brooklyn Railway Company and the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Corporation gave him a leave of absence with full pay.[1467]"

He and Marie Susan Cozzens (56) finally moved to their country home at Peppeneghek in South Salem, Westchester, New York, USA, in 1942.

Marie Susan Cozzens

Marie Susan COZZENS (56) was born on 7 September 1867 in Schooley's Mountain, Morris, New Jersey. She died on 12 June 1944 in Danbury, Connecticut, USA, at age 76. She was buried on 14 June 1944 at United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA, (Location I, A, 25). Note: Schooley's Mountain has been misspelled as Schoolies. Schooley's Mountain was named after a Quaker family who acquired the land in the 1790's.

Her mother died when she was four. After her mother died, she lived with her Aunt Addie (508) and Uncle Alec Piper (509), and with her cousin (by marriage) and future husband, Alexander Ross Piper (19). She was sent to boarding school - where she hated it - and refused to consider boarding school for her children.

The six known children of Alexander Ross Piper (19) and Marie Susan Cozzens (56) were as follows:

316 i. Marie Adelaide PIPER (57) was born on 31 May 1891 in Fort Robinson, Nebraska, USA. She married Frank Richardson Oates (101), son of Harry Hankins Oates (132) and Hannah Richardson (131), on 18 November 1914 at Christ Church, Bay Ridge, in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. She died on 25 September 1955 in Mount Kisco, Westchester,

New York, USA, at age 64. She was buried on 27 September 1955 in West Stockbridge, Berkshire, Massachusetts, USA.

ii. Alexander Stanley PIPER (120) was born on 13 August 1893 in Barnesville, Georgia, USA. He died on 13 February 1895 in Barnesville, Georgia, USA, at age 1. A reportedly inebriated doctor gave Stanley an adult dose of paregoric for diarrhea.

317 iii. Marjorie Wheaton PIPER (13) was born on 14 December 1894 in Barnesville, Lamar, Georgia, USA. She married Herman Siefke Jr (14), son of Herman Siefke (133) and Wilhelmina Dorothea von Dohlen (134), on 9 June 1920 at Christ Protestant Episcopal Church in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. She married Frank Richardson Oates (101), son of Harry Hankins Oates (132) and Hannah Richardson (131), on 27 August 1957 in St John's Episcopal Church, South Salem, Westchester, New York, USA. She died on 20 November 1971 in Norwalk, Connecticut, USA, at age 76. She was buried at the West Stockbridge Cemetery in West Stockbridge, Berkshire, Massachusetts, USA.

318 iv. Anne Alexandra PIPER (121) was born on 8 September 1896 in Fort Sheridan, Illinois, USA. She married Hollis Samuel Smith (123), son of Alden Smith (135) and Edna Barrett (136), on 29 June 1924 at St. John's Protestant Cathedral in Shanghai, China. She died on 21 February 1945 in Somerville, New Jersey, USA, at age 48. She was buried on 24 February 1945 at the Christ Church Bay Ridge in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.

319 v. Emily Cozzens PIPER (122) was born on 31 March 1901 in Ossining-On-Hudson, New York, USA. She married Phillip Keep Reynolds Jr. (124), son of Phillip Keep Reynolds (126) and Flora Ann Wightman (1563), on 19 December 1925 at Christ Church Bay Ridge in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. She married Edmund Alexander Workman (125), son of Linwood Leighton Workman (2798) and Mary Alexander (2799), on 6 December 1957 in Wellesley, Massachusetts, USA. She died on 3 May 1971 in Chamberlain, Maine, USA, at age 70. She was buried at the New Harbor Cemetery in New Harbor, Lincoln, Maine, USA.

320 vi. Alexander Ross PIPER Jr (127) was born on 24 August 1909 at 7522-2nd Ave, Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, in New York City, Kings, New York, USA. He married Ruth Evelyn Fitch (128), daughter of Joseph Dionysius Fitch (130) and Mary Helena Conzen (129), on 26 January 1935 at Christ Episcopal Church in Brooklyn, New York, USA. He died on 22 May 1978 in Ft. Myers, Florida, USA, at age 68. He was buried at the Sleepy Hollow Cemetery in Tarrytown, Westchester, New York, USA.

313. Colonel William Keim PIPER (2912) was born on 15 June 1822 in Smithsville, Fayette, Pennsylvania, USA.[1472] He married Hannah Marie Moore (3001), daughter of Johnston Moore (3006), in 1853.[1473] He died on 2 December 1885 in Gaysport, Blair, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 63.[1474] He was buried at the Lloyd Cemetery in Ebensburg, Cambria, Pennsylvania, USA.[1475]

In 1870, Colonel William Keim Piper (2912) and Hannah Marie Moore (3001) lived in Ebensburg, Cambria, Pennsylvania, USA.[1476] Colonel William Piper built Fenwycke Hall and was a horseman of much renown in his time.[1477]

Hannah M Moore

Hannah Marie MOORE (3001) was born in April 1833 in Ebensburg, Cambria, Pennsylvania, USA.[1478] She died on 13 March 1920 in Olean, Cattaraugus, New York, USA, at age 86.[1479] She was buried at the Lloyd Cemetery in Ebensburg, Cambria, Pennsylvania, USA.[1480] She was known by her family and friends as Anna (3001).

Frank Richardson Oates (101), his 3 sisters Lillian, Dora and Mabel and his parents emigrated to the USA, sailing from Liverpool for New York on the SS Nevada on the 18 July 1891 and landing in New York on the 28th, ten days later. He and his sisters were raised in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, New York, USA.[1497] He received a mechanical engineering degree from Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, USA, in 1910.[1498] He began working on the Niagara Power Scheme for the Toronto Electric Light Company.[1499] Frank and Adelaide were married in 1914, set up home in Toronto and their first child, Alexandra ('Alex') was born in Toronto in 1915. In 1917, as the US declared war with Germany, their parents wanted them back home and they returned to Bay Ridge, where their second child, Adelaide ('Sister') was born on New Year's Day 1920.[1500] He worked on the New York City subway construction and then as an assistant sales manager for the Cheek-Neal Coffee Company, the makers of Maxwell House.[1501] In 1924, he began working for Technicolor in Boston with MIT and, for the next seven years, the family was settled in Brookline, Boston Massachusetts, where their third child, Elizabeth ('Bizzy'), was born.

In 1931, he was appointed to supervise Technicolor's Hollywood film processing plant and he and his family were relocated to Los Angeles California on the train.

In 1936, he was chosen to establish and run Technicolor's new plant in England on the Bath Road opposite the future London Heathrow Airport and his family settled in Gerrards Cross, Buckinghamshire for three years, during which two of their three daughters met their future husbands, before another world war had them relocating home again in 1939.

The family settled in Pleasantville, New York and after the war moved into Brooklyn (81 Columbia Heights) across the river from Technicolor's New York offices and plentiful jobs and shops for the girls.

Finally, he worked for The American Sugar Refining Company (e.g. 'Domino Sugar') overseeing the Construction Department (e.g. a new refinery in Trinidad) and latterly as a consultant for them. He retired in 1958, aged 70.[1502]

Anne Alexandra Piper, c 1920

318. Anne Alexandra PIPER (121) was born on 8 September 1896 in Fort Sheridan, Illinois, USA.[1524] She married Hollis Samuel Smith (123), son of Alden Smith (135) and Edna Barrett (136), on 29 June 1924 at St. John's Protestant Cathedral in Shanghai, China. She died on 21 February 1945 in Somerville, New Jersey, USA, at age 48. She was buried on 24 February 1945 at the Christ Church Bay Ridge in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.

She graduated from the Brooklyn Heights Seminary and prepared for missionary work in the New York Training School for Deaconesses in Brooklyn, New York. In 1922, she volunteered for missionary work in China.[1525]

Anne Alexandra Piper (121) and Hollis Samuel Smith (123) met at the Language School at Changsha University in China where they studied the Wu dialect for two years.[1526] After a brief honeymoon in Japan, she and Hollis Samuel Smith (123) began their lives together as missionaries at Saint Bartholomew's Church and Mission in Changshu (Zanhzok), China.[1527] Even after getting married and starting a family, she continued her mission. (Note: One of her letters back to the church was excerpted in the Christ Church Bay Ridge bulletin and included in the church history, which is cited in the endnote.).[1528]

Hollis Smith, c 1917

Hollis Samuel SMITH (123) was born on 21 May 1894 in Binghamton, New York, USA. He died on 4 March 1980 in Somerville, New Jersey, USA, at age 85. He attended Saint Stephens College and General Seminary (now known as Bard College) in New York, New York, USA.[1529] He served as a noncombatant motorcycle courier during WWI, delivering messages between units in the battle zones in Belgium, the Argonne Forest Campaign and at San Mihiel.[1530]

Hollis Samuel Smith (123) graduated on 26 June 1922 in The General Theological Seminary, New York City, New York, USA. He was ordained at Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church in Binghamton, New York and a month later was on a ship sailing to China. He preached in Chinese and there was no English including in the liturgy.

Hollis Samuel Smith (123) was serving as a missionary when the Japanese attacked, damaging missionary facilities. His family had moved to Shanghai earlier so the children could attend the American schools. After the attacks he brought his family back to the United States on a furlough in February 1939.[1531] Although they had planned to go back to China, in 1940 the U. S. State Department ordered American women and children out of the country, so his wife and children decided to live in Brooklyn, and he went back to his post in China. After the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the Japanese cracked down on Americans.

In 1942, he was initially imprisoned in his home, then later with 1,500 others was moved to a prison camp in Shanghai. In 1943, he was part of a prisoner exchange involving 1200 Americans, 250 Canadians, and 80 Latin Americans for 1500 Japanese citizens.

Alexander Ross Piper Jr.

320. Alexander Ross PIPER Jr (127) was born on 24 August 1909 at 7522-2nd Ave, Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, in New York City, Kings, New York, USA. He married Ruth Evelyn Fitch (128), daughter of Joseph Dionysius Fitch (130) and Mary Helena Conzen (129), on 26 January 1935 at Christ Episcopal Church in Brooklyn, New York, USA. He died on 22 May 1978 in Ft. Myers, Florida, USA, at age 68. He was buried at the Sleepy Hollow Cemetery in Tarrytown, Westchester, New York, USA.

He was known by his family and friends as Alec (127). Alec was a small but quick boy, likely too small to consider following his father to West Point, but quick enough to frequently medal in track at Union College in Schenectady, NY. Although he never graduated, he did return to Brooklyn and soon after married his backyard neighbor, Ruth Piper.[1538] With the help of his father-in-law, Alex joined Paine Weber as a floor trader, buying a seat on the New York Stock Exchange and later becoming a Governor of the Exchange.

He moved out of Brooklyn in the 1950s to Chappaqua, NY and with his wife was an avid horseman. They spent summers at Basin Harbor off Lake Champlain, even after the death of their youngest son "Brucey" in the lake in a scuba diving accident. They hosted their grandchildren there most summers and in Fort Myers, Florida most winters.[1539]

New York City, New York, USA.[1545] She married Eric Gordon Outram (154), son of Harold William Sidney Outram (310) and Gladys Eunice Young (311), on 26 March 1942 in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Canada, in a civil ceremony. Their marriage was blessed at St Mark's Church, Mount Kisco, New York, USA on 3 Oct 1942.[1546] She died on 22 November 2011 in Ditchling Common, Sussex, England, at age 96.[1547] She was buried on 2 December 2011 in Chobham, Surrey, England, UK, with her husband Eric (154) in his plot.[1548]

She was known by her family and friends as Cully, Alex and Sandra (153). While her family lived in Brookline, Boston, Massachusetts, USA (1924-1931), she recalled the cold winters, with ice being cut from the lake (no refrigerators yet) and the great fun she had with all the Irish children there.[1549] She was educated at Mills College, Oakland, California when her family lived in Hollywood, California (1931-1936).

She first met Eric Outram c1938 while living in Gerrards Cross, Buckinghamshire, UK (1936-1939). As war broke out, they maintained a correspondence as she returned to the USA, and he was posted to Canada. She worked for Sperry Gyroscope and for British Overseas Airways Ltd at The Atlantic Clipper and Marine Base, La Guardia Field, New York.[1550] She traveled by train to Moose Jaw to visit Eric, and their subsequent wedding was a happy surprise for her family in New York. Harold Outram, Eric's father, was able to attend the ceremony in New York, while on government business in the USA. They returned to Moose Jaw, then when reassigned, drove east across the United States (c1943, no trans-Canada highway yet) to Trenton, Ontario. While at Trenton, they were billeted with Randolph Hewton, the Canadian artist, and his wife Benedicta, 'Bené'. They were then posted back to the UK and lived in Pinner, Middlesex.

As war ended, they moved to 88 Beaufort St, Chelsea, London (1945-1948), where their first two children arrived, each taking one of the Hewtons' names. They then moved out of London to 'Longacres', Chobham, Surrey, which, at the time, was one of the 4% of UK homes with central heating, her requirement, and close to Woking with its very good rail service to the City of London, his requirement. They lived and raised their 6 children there for 23 years (1948-1971). She enjoyed ensuring that as many of her children as possible would always come with her to church, her social hub, every

Eric Gordon Outram

Eric Gordon OUTRAM (154) was born on 8 June 1914 in Mill Hill, London, England.[1552] He died on 8 September 1971 in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, England, at age 57.[1553] He was buried in Chobham, Surrey, England.[1554] He lived in Ingatestone, Essex and was educated at Brentwood School and then at City&Guilds, London, where he took Aeronautical Engineering. He worked as an engineer for Saunders Roe. His family moved to Gerrards Cross, South Buckinghamshire where he met his future wife.[1555] He earned his private pilot's license circa 1934 and started in the aviation insurance business with the British Aviation Insurance Company.

He joined the Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve and, as an experienced pilot, was assigned in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Canada, as a pilot instructor.[1556] He returned to England before the end of World War II and joined Stewart Smith Ltd, specializing in the aviation insurance business in London, where he handled accounts such as Boeing, Air France, and KLM. He was also a Member of Lloyd's of London.[1557] [1573]Interview with David Livingston (New York City, New York), by Alton Donnell, 24 March 2021.

David Livingston

David Jay LIVINGSTON (141) was born on 13 December 1931 in New York City, New York, USA. He died on 26 February 2026 at 4 Washington Square Village in New York City, New York, New York, USA, at age 94. He graduated from Brown University in 1953 and went on to attend Georgetown University School of Medicine. When the Korean War broke out, he chose to volunteer for the U.S. Army rather than wait to be drafted, serving from December 1954 to September 1956. Trained in Georgia as a military policeman - a role he disliked - he was assigned to Fort Sheridan near Chicago. After his father's death, he requested compassionate leave to visit his mother and was subsequently reassigned to Governors Island, where he worked in public information.

After leaving the Army, David attended the London School of Economics. He bought a Jaguar and traveled through Europe, embracing the opportunity to see the world. In London, he spent much of his free time at the "21 Club" bar and grill, and ultimately did not complete his degree.

David next moved to California to meet a friend who convinced him to stay and pursue a career in real estate. He attended night school to obtain his real estate license and began working in the field. Another friend later persuaded him to return to New York City, where he again attended night school to secure a New York real estate license. He then formed a company called Briazlon, Porter, and Whetlock.

David also became a one-third partner in a restaurant and bar called "The Tartan," located on 46th Street off Lexington Avenue in New York City. There he observed firsthand the realities of dealing with corrupt government officials. In the 1960's, he bought and leased property in the area that the City of New York ultimately selected as the site for Lincoln Center, later selling that property to the city.

With partner Jerry Whitford, David created a company called Systems Collaborative, through which he managed office development projects, including the build-out of space in the World Trade Center. He was also a good friend of Don Shirley, the pianist later portrayed in the film "The Green Book."

David researched and authored several manuscripts on the Cozzens and Piper families that are cited in this work, especially "Colonial Cozzens" and "Cozzens Hotels.[1574]"

Hollis Samuel Smith Jr

326. Hollis Samuel SMITH Jr (142) was born on 20 October 1929 in Shanghai, China. He married Phyllis Kay Baxter (143) on 4 October 1952 in Havre De Grace, Maryland, USA. He died on 30 October 2018 in Bettendorf, Scott, Iowa, USA, at age 89.

He was known by his family and friends as Sam (142). He and Marjorie Lynn Smith (139) lived with their family in China in 1931. He was educated in Rutgers University, New Brunswick, Middlesex, New Jersey, USA, with a degree in agriculture and was a member of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity. He served in the Army during the Korean War. He was employed by Allis Chalmers Manufacturing (West Allis, Wisconsin) as Sales and Marketing Manager, Tractor Division. Sam was instrumental in forming and overseeing the Lawn and Garden Division. Following retirement, Sam shared his years of experience and vast knowledge as an independent sales consultant for the Lawn and Garden Industry. He was a person of many and varied interests and loved an adventure. He enjoyed fishing from his boat on Lake Michigan, traveling, photography, and was a marathon runner; running in the Bix several times well into his 70s. He was an avid Green Bay Packer and Milwaukee Brewer fan.

Phyllis Kay BAXTER (143) was born on 5 January 1932 in Jacksonville, Illinois, USA. She died on 8 September 2020 in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, USA, at age 88.

The three known children of Hollis Samuel Smith Jr (142) and Phyllis Kay Baxter (143) were as follows:

351 i. George Michael SMITH (144) is still living.

352 ii. Hollis Randall SMITH (148) was born on 24 April 1956 in Medina, New York, USA. He married Karen Sue Dibble (149), daughter of Donald

Cozzens Family Crest

410. Leonard COZZENS (1097) was born in 1690 in Devises, England. Alexander Ross Piper cites Harmon Cozzens who quotes Leonard's family bible as "in the Parish of All Commings in Wiltshire, England near Devizes (about 6 miles away) 'the nearest market town.[1610]' " He married Margaret Taylor (1098), daughter of Robert Taylor (1908) and Deborah Peckham (1909), in July 1712. He married Sarah Wheatley (1231) on 6 April 1758 at Friends Meeting House in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1611] He died on 2 May 1769 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1612]

The Cozzens name comes from the Middle English as Cousin and Old French where it was Cusin. It is generally believed to be derived from the word meaning "relative." The name began to appear in England around the time of the Norman Conquest, 1066.[1613]

This effort on the Cozzens family relies heavily on the excellent work done by David Livingston, which he documented in several papers. The most important of these are "Cozzens' Hotels West Point and New York.[1614]" And "Colonial Cozzens.[1615]" My efforts here are not intended to duplicate David's detailed work, but rather to capture certain bits of information, and to provide pointers to the reader for more in-depth information.

From Frederick Swartwout Cozzens:

> "Most of the descendants of Leonard Cozzens were seafaring men, and in colonial times...[took charge] of the colony artillery ...having learned it on shipboard. ...Sea Quakers are adept in serving this kind of war tackle, as they are cool in the engagement, always put powder enough in the touch hole, and fire low; hence all marine weapons of any calibre beyond a musket were formerly called Quaker Guns.[1616]"

Leonard COZZENS emigrated in 1711 from Devises, England.[1617] Leonard Cozzens (1097) was a tailor. In fact, he was referred to as "Newport's finest tailor" which gave him entry to the social set in Newport.[1618] On 3 May 1715, he was admitted as a "freeman of the Colony of Rhode Island.[1619]"

Margaret TAYLOR (1098) was born on 5 July 1689.[1620] She died on 10 September 1751 at age 62.[1621]

The 13 known children of Leonard Cozzens (1097) and Margaret Taylor (1098) all born in Newport, Rhode Island, USA, were as follows:

416. Deborah COZZENS (1096) was born on 17 March 1724 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1637] She died on 28 April 1803 in Providence, Rhode Island, USA, at age 79.[1638]

In "Colonial Cozzens," David Livingston comes to the important conclusion about the parentage of Issachar Cozzens (105) (excerpts of which are extracted below – I have marked (I) to show the father from Providence and Newport and (II) to indicate the father of Issachar Cozzens):

> "Deborah Cozzens and Issachar Pollock (II) were never married. Issachar Pollock (II) was already married and had a wife and at least one son in New York at the time Deborah was supposed to have secretly married him. There is a listing in the American Genealogical - Biographical Index of an Issachar Pollock born in 1750 in New York, Vol. 138, page 216.

I believe this to be the son of Issachar Pollock (I) of Providence and Newport.

Issachar (II) returned to New York, his signature appears on an oath of loyalty to King George III drawn in Queen's County (New York) 21st October 1776. … The evidence I have of an Issachar Pollock transacting business in New York in the 1780's and 90's are probably referring to what I believe is his son, [Issachar (II)] born in 1750. … The 1790 Federal Census of New York City and County, Dock Ward, lists Issachar Pollock (II) as head of a household of five. …

I have no doubt that Issachar Pollock was the father of a son by Deborah Cozzens that she named Issachar. The story that they were secretly married in 1752 was probably made up in an attempt to bring some legitimacy to the birth…My theory, and I confess it is only that, is Deborah, well into her twenties and unmarried, …was seduced by Issachar Pollock, and not suspecting that he was already married, moved into his rooms in Providence, fully expecting to become his wife and mother of his child.

When Issachar (II)... was confronted after an extended absence from Rhode Island, by a son, he realized the problems, including expulsion from the Colony, not to mention his religious family, he ran, leaving Deborah to fend for herself. Leonard and Margaret took their daughter and her child back into their home, and he was raised as their grandchild, and automatically, assumed the name Cozzens.[1639]"

The only known child of Deborah Cozzens (1096) and Issachar Pollock (1099) was:

426 i. Issachar COZZENS (105) was born on 21 August 1754 in Providence, Rhode Island, USA, the son of Issachar POLLOCK (1099) and Deborah Cozzens (1096). He married Mary Daniels (355), daughter of Peter Daniels (1228) and Tabatha Hayward (1229), on 1 November 1778 at Second Congregational Church (now the Beneficent Congregational Church) in Providence, Rhode Island, USA. He married Susanna Green (1143) on 20 October 1799. He died on 18 January 1840 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 85. He was buried at the Moravian Burial Ground in New York, New York, USA.

[1639]David Livingston, Colonial Cozzens, p. 50.

417. Matthew COZZENS (1107) was born on 4 July 1726 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1640] He married Sarah Easton (1952) in 1752 at Trinity Church in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1641] He married Elizabeth Tillinghast (1175) in 1754 at Trinity Church in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1642] He died in 1779 in Charlestown, South Carolina, USA.

Matthew Cozzens (1107) was a successful sailor and member of the Newport Marine Society.[1643] In 1756, Matthew Cozzens (1107) was a privateer, commissioned by King George II, operating and owning a share of the ship "Defiance" a brigantine, out of Newport. in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1644] Matthew Cozzens (1107) was exiled under provisions of the "Test Act" promulgated by the Assembly of Newport, which required loyalty to the American Revolution. His early business interests, including as a privateer, would make that difficult. The entire story is described in "Colonial Cozzens."

This is likely the same Matthew Cozzens who freed Richard Cozzens, the musician in the Colonial Army, as described by David Livingston, in "Richard - Another Cozzens.[1645,1646]"

There were no known children of Matthew Cozzens (1107) and Sarah Easton (1952).

Elizabeth TILLINGHAST (1175) was born in 1730.[1647] She died on 25 March 1805.

The three known children of Matthew Cozzens (1107) and Elizabeth Tillinghast (1175) were as follows:

i. Matthew COZZENS Jr (1951) was born circa 1759. He died in 1810.

ii. Henry COZZENS (1950) was born in 1771. He died in 1818.

iii. Mary COZZENS (1949) was born in 1775. She died in 1821.

418. William COZZENS (1108) was born on 16 January 1728 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA. He married Sarah Casey (1176), daughter of John Casey (1166) and Mary (?) (1960), in 1752. He died on 9 January 1799 at age 70.[1648] He was buried at the Island Cemetery in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.

Sarah CASEY (1176) died on 21 July 1795.[1649] She was buried at the Island Cemetery in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.

The two known children of William Cozzens (1108) and Sarah Casey (1176) were as follows:

i. Mary COZZENS (1961) died on 10 July 1782.

ii. Elizabeth COZZENS (1962) died on 27 February 1782.

419. Gregory COZZENS (1110) was born on 5 June 1730 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA. He married Mary Fry (1956) in 1756. He died on 26 November 1818 at age 88.

He was a sea Captain. In 1776, he was involved in a naval encounter in Narragansett Bay, where two British warships, a "brig" and a sloop were at anchor. The brig and the sloop, loaded with provisions and salt, were captured by the American revolutionaries from under the nose of the British warship. He was the Captain of the sloop, and assumed to be under British control, or commandeered by them.[1650] In 1777, Gregory Cozzens (1110) was Captain of the "George", where because of an apparent mutiny, his ship was seized, sailed to North Britain, and he was "imprisoned on the prison ship 'Revenue' in Glascow." The ship was sold at auction. Later, he was chartered to sail a ship to support the revolutionary forces at Charleston in April 1780.[1651]

Mary FRY (1956) died circa 1800.

The only known child of Gregory Cozzens (1110) and Mary Fry (1956) was:

i. Margaret COZZENS (1957) was born in 1760.

Generation Three

420. Sarah FEKE (1930) was born circa 1747 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA. She married John Thurston (1931) on 15 October 1767. She died circa 1768.

426. Issachar COZZENS (105) was born on 21 August 1754 in Providence, Rhode Island, USA, the son of Issachar POLLOCK (1099) and Deborah Cozzens (1096).[1659] He married Mary Daniels (355), daughter of Peter Daniels (1228) and Tabatha Hayward (1229), on 1 November 1778 at Second Congregational Church (now the Beneficent Congregational Church) in Providence, Rhode Island, USA. He married Susanna Green (1143) on 20 October 1799. He died on 18 January 1840 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 85. He was buried at the Moravian Burial Ground in New York, New York, USA.[1660]

In Newport, Rhode Island, USA, in June 1775, a British Loyalist named Doane bought flour to provide to the British forces in Halifax. A near riot ensued and the flour was seized and guarded until it could be removed to Roxbury. The commander of the guard was Issachar Cozzens (105), presumably serving under Captain Tew.[1661] He fought in the nine-month's campaign ending with the Battle of Bunker Hill in Captain William Tew's Company, Colonel Spencer's Regiment of Seconnet, under the command of General Nathaniel Greene. He was a Sergeant in the expedition against Newport with Captain Abimelack Rigg's Company, Colonel John Mathewson's Regiment of Rhode Island, ending his service in 1778. At some time, he was part of General Washington's security detail. (Note: There is considerably more background in Livingston's "Colonial Cozzens" or Frederick Swartwout Cozzens autobiographical sketch or David Livingston's "Issachar Cozzens Revolutionary War at https://archive.org/details/issachar-cozzens-revolutionary-war_202408).[1662]

Issachar Cozzens Jr

430. Issachar COZZENS Jr (1085) was born on 15 December 1780 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1673] He married Mary Ann Spinks (1135) in 1810. He died on 17 April 1865 in Guttenberg at age 84.[1674]

He served in the army, and like many of his compatriots, was attracted to, and became a member of the Tammany Society, which at the time was meeting at a tavern owned by Abraham Martling.

Issachar, Jr. was to become one of the officers of the Society, serving as "Wiskinski" (doorkeeper) in 1811. He fought in the War of 1812 and continued to serve Tammany. The society, which had strong connections with the city government often managed to gain employment for its members.[1675] On 6 April 1808, Issachar Cozzens Jr (1085) was a member of the Tammany Hall Committee that erected the Prison Ship Martyrs Monument in Brooklyn, New York. Coincidently, Lieutenant Colonel James Piper (1741) was one of the martyrs.[1676] He was an inspector of horse manure, a position which he likely obtained from his Tammany Hall connections. He is mentioned in the minutes of the City Council of the City of New York, dated 1 October 1821.[1677]

Issachar Cozzens Jr (1085) was a member of the Lyceum of the Natural History of New York, which was later to become the New York Academy of Sciences, and eventually merged into the New York Historical Society which today has a grand museum on New York's Central Park West, and has the Issachar Cozzens portfolio, a collection of all of his papers, in its archives. He became the Librarian and Superintendent of the Lyceum and served in that capacity from 1839 to 1844.

He was a well-known chemist, naturalist, geologist, and mineralogist, and a "New York distiller.[1678]" He authored a "Geological History of Manhattan or New York Island". Capt. A.W. Vogdes, of San Juan, Puerto Rico, wrote in the American Geologist in 1899:

> "...still considered an authority on this subject. The author first undertook to make a geological map with sections for his own amusement and study, to which he added historical facts, anecdotes and reminiscences of the city, so that the book might be interesting to the general reader, and 'might induce some to read and become interested in the greatest of all sciences.[1679]"

The five known children of Issachar Cozzens Jr (1085) and Mary Ann Spinks (1135) were as follows:

436 i. Deborah COZZENS (1237) was born circa 1811. She married Robert Barnard (1281). She died in 1898.

ii. Mary Anne COZZENS (1238) was born circa 1814. She married Edward Earle (1283). She died circa 1888.

iii. Eliza COZZENS (1234) was born circa 1816. She died on 22 June 1838 trying to save her sisters Susana and Issachena from drowning in the Hudson River near Buttermilk Falls. She was buried on 3 July 1838.

iv. Susana COZZENS (1235) was born circa 1819. She drowned on 22 June 1838 in the Hudson River near Buttermilk Falls. She was buried on 3 July 1838.

v. Issachena COZZENS (1236) was born circa 1824. She drowned on 22 June 1838 in the Hudson River near Buttermilk Falls. She was buried on 3 July 1838.

431. Mary COZZENS (1137) was born on 3 March 1784 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA.[1680] She married Philip J Brant (1138) in 1798. She died in 1822.

The three known children of Mary Cozzens (1137) and Philip J Brant (1138) were as follows:

i. Jane BRANT (1945) was born after 1800.

ii. Caroline BRANT (1946) was born after 1800.

iii. Sarah BRANT (1947) was born after 1800.

433. William Brown COZZENS (104) was born on 24 September 1787 in Newport, Rhode Island, USA. He married Sarah Martling (1091), daughter of Abraham Martling (1093), circa 1810. He married Jane Davidson (107) circa 1818. He died on 13 March 1864 in Highland Falls, Orange, New York, USA, at age 76. He was buried at the Church of the Holy Innocents in Highland Falls, Orange, New York, USA.

He moved from Newport, Rhode Island to Albany, New York with his parents in about 1788. Circa 1806, he enrolled in a volunteer company of the 11th Artillery Regiment of the City of New York in the hostilities leading up to the War of 1812.[1683] He was a partner of his father-in-law who was the keeper of the "Old Tammany Hall," and took up residence with him circa 1810.[1684]

In 1812, William Brown Cozzens (104) was stationed with his company on Staten Island. The same year he was promoted to sergeant and served at Bedlow's Island, and in 1814 at the Battery at Castle Garden and at the Old North Battery. He was commissioned in the Army June 21, 1815 as Lieutenant from Daniel D. Tompkins then Governor of the State of New York and resigned to return to civilian life March 22, 1816.[1685]

William Brown Cozzens (104) was asked by Tammany Hall to help with the building of a new facility called "The Wigwam" to which he invested $500. The proprietor who was hired failed and in May 1813 he consented to become the keeper where he attracted a large group of patrons, including many members of the military.[1686]

William Brown Cozzens (104) was the purveyor to the Cadet Mess circa 1828 in West Point, Orange, New York, USA. William Brown Cozzens (104) was the builder and first manager (1829 - 1837) of the West Point Hotel and a good friend of Sylvanus Thayer, founder and father of the modern military academy in West Point, Orange, New York, USA. After 1837, William Brown Cozzens (104) was the owner of the American Hotel in New York City, considered the most elegant hotel in the city at the time. Because of Cozzens experience at West Point, the American Hotel attracted a number of prominent military figures, including General Winfield Scott who kept a residence at both the West Point Hotel and the American Hotel.[1687] He ran for Mayor of New York City on the Native American Party, finishing third, in 1846.

William Brown Cozzens (104) was the builder, owner, and manager of the Cozzens West Point Hotel located in Buttermilk Falls (Highland Falls, New York) outside the West Point gate. Despite an initial failure during construction in 1847, the hotel opened to guests on 7 June 1849. After the original wooden structure burned on 1 March 1861, despite the efforts of the Corps of Cadets to douse the flames, he rebuilt the hotel of stone and steel.

He was a friend of Generals Scott, Lee, and Grant and hosted a meeting between Scott and President Lincoln during the Civil War. The Cozzen's Hotel was sold in 1876 to Henry Cranston who renovated the hotel and changed the name to "Cranston's". Within two years he filed for bankruptcy and the property was eventually owned by James Pierpont (J. P.) Morgan and managed by the Goodsell Brothers.

It was sold to the Catholic Diocese and the Franciscan Sisters established Ladycliffe College. The property was eventually absorbed into West Point's South Post.[1688,1689]

William Brown Cozzens (104) deeded the land on which the Church of the Holy Innocents was established on 30 June 1847 in Highland Falls, Orange, New York, USA. Circa 1850, William Brown Cozzens (104) was the builder of the new Parry House, near Buttermilk Falls.

Sarah MARTLING (1091) was born in 1793. She married (?) Wener (1092). Sarah Martling died in 1813, perhaps associated with childbirth.

The two known children of William Brown Cozzens (104) and Sarah Martling (1091) were as follows:

438 i. Abraham Martling COZZENS (1094) was born on 3 June 1811 in Manhattan, New York, New York, USA. He married Marion Anne Curtis (1284), daughter of Thomas D Moore (3364), circa 1834. He married Susan Antoinette Kelley (1315) in January 1859. He died on 6 February 1868 in Manhattan, New York, New York, USA, at age 56. He was buried at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.

Charles Levi Cozzens

435. Charles Levi COZZENS (2086) was born in 1831 in Utica, New York, USA. He married Abigail Butler Bidwell (2087) in 1854.[1693] He married Angie Chapman (2089) circa 1893.[1694] He married Mary I Wilcox (2092). He died on 18 November 1904 in Yonkers, Westchester, New York, USA.[1695]

He grew up in Utica, was educated in the local school system and lived there until the late 1860's, when he came to New York City and obtained a position with the Bleecker Street Bank which was to become The Bank for Savings. He served as paying teller for thirty-five years. His second wife Angie inherited her father's business, the Redding Masonic Supply Company. Upon her death, in 1898, Charles Cozzens became the owner, and worked at the bank and ran the company until daughter Evangeline became old enough to take over.[1696]

Abigail Butler BIDWELL (2087) was born in 1832. She died in 1892.

Frederick Swartwout Cozzens (1089) was an American humorist, born in New York City. He became in early life a wine merchant, and later editor of the Wine Press. He had previously contributed humorous poems and articles to magazines, and in 1853 he issued his first volume, Prismatics, under the pen name "Richard Haywarde." Then came the Sparrowgrass Papers, first published in The Knickerbocker, and in 1856 as a widely read volume. They dealt with the trials of a city man who undertakes to run a country home (near Yonkers). Three years later (1859) he published a volume of travel sketches, Acadia; or a Sojourn among the Blue Noses. Soon after the American Civil War he failed in a business promoting the sale of native wines, and retired from Yonkers, New York to Rahway, New Jersey.[1699]

Susan (?) (4176) was born on 24 January 1821.[1700] She died in Yonkers, Westchester, New York, USA.[1701]

Abraham Martling Cozzens

438. Abraham Martling COZZENS (1094) was born on 3 June 1811 in Manhattan, New York, New York, USA.[1702] He married Marion Anne Curtis (1284), daughter of Thomas D Moore (3364), circa 1834.[1703] He married Susan Antoinette Kelley (1315) in January 1859.[1704] He died on 6 February 1868 in Manhattan, New York, New York, USA, at age 56.[1705] He was buried at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.[1706]

He chose not to go into the hotel business, but instead took a position with Thomas D. Moore, an importer and dealer of fine glassware.[1707] Abraham Cozzens had become a respected and moderately wealthy merchant at a young age. And through connections and friendships he must have established earlier, he became associated with an informal group, the Sketch Club, which consisted of some of the literary and artistic notables of the city at the time. He was later a member of a similar organization, called the Century Club.[1708]

The American Art Union (AAU) was formed in 1849. A number of prominent citizens were named to the Committee of Management. In addition to their function as an administrative body, they were the ones to receive, review, and recommend the acceptance and purchase of any art works to be purchased, displayed and ultimately distributed. Abraham Martling Cozzens was named to this Committee in 1840, and he served until 1850 when he became President, an office he held until the Union was dissolved in 1853. David Livingston's discussion in the endnote reference is worth the read.[1709]

On 16 January 1863, an announcement appeared in New York papers, announcing the formation of the New York Kerosene Oil Company. Cozzens was one of the officers. He owned most of the shares and became President of the company, now named Cozzens Kerosene Oil. After a fire in 1865 that destroyed their production facility in Blissville, Long Island, Abraham and his son Thomas attempted to rebuild the company.[1710] The Cozzens Kerosene Oil Company eventually failed as did Abraham Martling Cozzens (1094).[1711] He died about a week after lawsuits were started against him after his business failed. His doctor claimed death was caused by the failures and the anxiety over the lawsuits.

Cozzens was not held personally liable for the debts of the company, but he was still personally insolvent, and within a month of his death, his property was sold at auction. All the etchings that he had been issued as a subscriber to the American Art Union, and his private library, which consisted of 367 lots of both individual and multi-volume editions, were sold April 22 and 23, 1868, at the Clinton Hall Book Sale Rooms & Art Galleries, on Astor Place. The Catalogue of the book auction described it as "Comprising a Very Choice and Elegant Collection of Books in Various Departments of Literature, in Fine Bindings and best Editions, many very scarce and valuable." The event was very well attended, as Cozzens was recognized as one of the finest collectors of American Contemporary Art at the time.[1712]

USA, at age 66. He was buried at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. Plot 201186.[1719]

In 1856, Sylvanus Thayer Cozzens (103) and John Broome Cozzens (1194) were managing the Brandreth Hotel on the corner of Broadway and Canal Street, in New York City.[1720] He and Susan Allen Wilson (356) lived in 1860 at 3rd Division, 20th Ward, in New York City, New York, USA. Sylvanus, Susan Allen, her three children by her first marriage, and Stanley Thayer were counted in the 1860 census.[1721]

After selling the Cozzen's hotel to the Cranstons, he took over the management of the Saint George Hotel in New York City.

In 1889, he was the "steward" of the Gerlach apartment house, on West Twenty-seventh Street, when he took the freight elevator to the second floor. There, it is surmised, that as he prepared to leave, his left foot became jammed between the platform and the shaft, and that he tried to release himself by a sudden jerk and dashed his head against the elevator fracturing his skull. He was taken insensible to the New York Hotel where he died at 12:30 in the morning.[1722]

Susan Allen WILSON (356) was born on 29 May 1830 in Rochester, New York, USA. She married William Henry Hendrix (1198) on 14 May 1848. She died on 16 July 1872 in Englewood, New Jersey, USA, at age 42. She was buried on 21 July 1872 at the Mount Hope Cemetery in Rochester, Monroe, New York, USA. The headstone is misspelled Widdson. Her first husband is buried in the same cemetery. Section S Lot 112.[1723] She was also known as Willson, Widdson (356).

The five known children of Sylvanus Thayer Cozzens (103) and Susan Allen Wilson (356) were as follows:

455 i. Stanley Thayer COZZENS (510) was born in 1859. He married Marguerite Harvey (1326) on 4 August 1885 in Ohio, USA. He married Sarah C Harvey (1328) on 4 June 1901 in New York City, New York, USA. He died on 13 December 1929 at 655 Park Avenue in New York, New York, USA.

He married Emily M Barton (2257), daughter of Leander Barton (4460) and Eliza Tebo (4461), on 1 August 1894 in Worcester, Massachusetts, USA. He died on 2 May 1931 in Brooklyn, Kings, New York, USA. He was buried at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.

456 iii. William Brown COZZENS (512) was born on 30 June 1866 in Schooley's Mountain, Morris County, New Jersey. He married Eva Burns (1329) in 1894. He died in 1957.

457 iv. Marie Susan COZZENS (56) was born on 7 September 1867 in Schooley's Mountain, Morris, New Jersey. She married Alexander Ross Piper (19), son of James Wilson Piper (102) and Sarah VanDyke Berier Ross (106), on 20 June 1890 in Church of the Holy Innocents, Highland Falls, Orange, New York, USA, by the Reverend W. R. Thomas, archdeacon of Orange County. She died on 12 June 1944 in Danbury, Connecticut, USA, at age 76. She was buried on 14 June 1944 at United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA, (Location I, A, 25).

458 v. Percy Lamb COZZENS (511) was born in 1872. He married Mary Gamble Young (1334).

Mary Ann MACNAMARA (1197) was born in 1853. She died on 19 February 1922 at the home of her daughter Mrs. R. H. Burdick in Port Washington, Long Island, New York, USA.[1724] She was buried at the Holy Cross Cemetery in Brooklyn, Kings, New York, USA. Plot: St. John, Range N, Grave 109.[1725]

The four known children of Sylvanus Thayer Cozzens (103) and Mary Ann MacNamara (1197) were as follows:

i. Grace COZZENS (1339) was born in 1881. She died in 1888.

ii. Marguerite Ann COZZENS (1340) was born in 1883. She died in 1966.

iii. Adelaide Marie COZZENS (1341) was born on 30 May 1885 in New York, New York, New York, USA. She married Reginald Houghton Burdick (1342) on 10 April 1907. Theodore Cozzens

442. Theodore COZZENS (1195) was born on 12 November 1826 in Cornwall, Orange, New York, USA.[1726] He married Elizabeth Kirtland (1223), daughter of Ambrose Kirtland (2425) and Charlotte Ellen McCarty (2426), on 17 April 1846 in Cornwall, Orange, New York, USA.[1727] He died on 28 March 1873 in Paris, City of Paris, Ile-de-France, France, at age 46.[1728] He was buried at the United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA. Location XXIX, A, 009.[1729]

He regained the management of the West Point Hotel on the academy grounds in 1869. At the time, President Grant's son Fred was a cadet and the President, his wife, and daughters would spend time at the West Point Hotel. The Academy rules prohibited the sale of wines or liquors, but Theodore Cozzens kept a private room in the basement of the hotel with a choice supply for chosen friends, where the President "repaired" if he wanted to chat in comfort.[1730]

Elizabeth KIRTLAND (1223) was born on 15 May 1822 in Coxsackie, Greene, New York, USA.[1731] She died on 14 November 1889 in Manhattan, New York, New York, USA, at age 67.[1732] She was buried on 16 November 1889 at the United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA. Colonel Alexander Moore Piper, c 1865

Alexander Moore PIPER (509) was born on 11 May 1828 in Carlisle, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[1739] He died on 22 February 1902 at the Park Avenue Hotel in New York City, New York, USA, at age 73.[1740] He was buried on 26 February 1902 in United States Military Academy Cemetery, West Point, Orange, New York, USA, Location XXII, A, 06. His first school years were spent at Mr. Alfred Armstrong's Academy, and he was for a short time at Dickenson College. His last years were with Captain Alden Partridge's Pennsylvania Military Institute. (Captain Partridge had graduated from the Military Academy in 1806, was the Superintendent of the Military Academy from 1814 to 1816, and was court martialed for refusing to leave when his replacement Colonel Sylvanus Thayer arrived.) While a pupil at this school, he received his appointment to the Military Academy on 1 March 1847 by Representative Alexander Ramsey of Pennsylvania.

Captain Partridge said that he was academically prepared to enter the Second (Junior) class, which was not allowed. He was admitted on 1 July 1847 at the age of 19.[1741] On 1 July 1851 Alexander Moore Piper (509) graduated from the United States Military Academy. He was the 1498th graduate. He ranked number five in his class upon graduation and opted for an artillery commission instead of one in the engineers.[1742]

He was commissioned a brevet 2nd Lieutenant in the Third U.S, Artillery at Fort Independence, Rhode Island.[1743] He was promoted to 2nd Lieutenant on 12 December 1851.[1744] In 1852 Alexander Moore Piper (509) served at Fort Adams, Rhode Island, and Fort Snelling, Minnesota. In August 1853, he returned to West Point as Assistant Professor of Geography, History, and Ethics, but he remained only until April 1854

when he went to Fort Monroe, Virginia.[1745] In 1854, Alexander Moore Piper (509) was ordered to the far West for frontier duty at Fort Yuma, California; Fort Vancouver, Washington; and Fort Dalles, Oregon also known as The Dalles. His command opened up Oregon and Washington and protected the pioneers by establishing roads and building many block houses.[1746] He was promoted to 1st Lieutenant on 31 Jan 1855.

He participated in several expeditions against the Indians. He commanded L Company of the 3rd Artillery as part of Major Edward J. Steptoe's force.[1747] After a series of attacks by the Yakimas, Chinooks and Klickitats on settlements in Oregon, Lieutenant Piper was detached to support Lieutenant Philip H. Sheridan and captured a group of Chinooks on Bradford's Island on 27 March 1855. on 27 March 1855.[1748] In 1856 and 1857 he was at Fort Walla Walla, Washington and Fort Umpqua, Oregon, and in 1860 went on an expedition to Upper Klamath Lake, Oregon.[1749] In October 1860, Piper reported to West Point for another tour of duty as an instructor.

In February of 1861, the War Department directed Lieutenant Charles Griffin (USMA, 1847), the chief artillery instructor at West Point, to organize a battery composed of artillery officers, soldiers, and equipment from the training detachment at the Military Academy. With the approach of Lincoln's inauguration, the battery was ordered to Washington, D.C. to help secure the capital from secessionist elements. Known as the West Point Battery, Piper was among the officers selected to be part of the new unit and accompanied it to the nation's capital in February 1861.[1750] On 14 May 1861, he was offered an appointment by the President as Captain in the Eighteenth Infantry but declined and was commissioned Captain in the Third Artillery the same day. He never joined the unit but stayed with the West Point battery in defense of Washington.[1751]

He was detached from the battery when General McDowell assigned him as the Acting Assistant Adjutant-General on the staff of Colonel William Tecumseh Sherman's 3rd brigade of the First Division of McDowell's Army. In the Manassas Campaign, he was engaged in action at Blackburn's Ford on 18 July 1861, and at Bull Run on July 21st. Sherman, a former Third Artillery officer, reported on July 25th that "Lieutenants Piper and McQuesin of my personal staff were under fire all day, and carried orders to and fro with as much coolness as on parade".[1752] On 11 September 1861 Alexander Moore

Piper (509) was ordered to return to West Point as Principal Assistant Professor of Chemistry, Mineralogy, and Geology. On 15 June 1862, he took command of the Light Artillery Battery at West Point and was ordered to the front.[1753] He reported to Major General Pope and, at the age of 34, became Chief of Artillery for Pope's Army of Virginia. He earned a promotion to Brevet Major for gallant and meritorious service during the campaign in Northern Virginia on 30 Aug 1862.[1754] In September 1862, Alexander Moore Piper (509) was detailed as the Assistant Inspector of Artillery in Washington.[1755]

On 7 January 1863, Piper received an appointment as Colonel of the 10th New York Heavy Artillery Volunteers, which was raised and organized from the neighborhood of Sackett's Harbor, New York. This regiment was raised in response to Lincoln's call for 300,000 men on 2 August 1862. He led these raw recruits to the defense of Washington and drilled them into shape, and "out of chaos came order.[1756]" On 27 May 1864, his "heavies" took transports for Port Royal on the Rappahannock and were soon part of General Grant's Army at Cold Harbor. Despite the artillery name, they often fought as infantry.

They served credibly in the siege of Petersburg where Piper received a second brevet. The 10th New York later operated in the Shenandoah Valley with Phil Sheridan, Piper's old comrade from the Indian fighting in the Pacific Northwest. Piper commanded the regiment in the Battle of Cedar Creek, October 19, 1864. The 10th was also at the Siege of Richmond and Petersburg at the close of the War. From 23 July 1864 to 10 November 1864, he was Chief of Artillery of the 18th Army Corps. From December 1864 to July 1865, Colonel Piper ended the war as Chief of Artillery of the Middle Military Division.

He mustered out of volunteer service with his regiment at Madison Barracks, New York on 6 July 1865. He was a loved commander, and his "...firm, unswerving discipline made even those whom he punished admire him." The regiment presented him with a "very handsome watch, and he never failed to show with pride this token of appreciation." They also commissioned the portrait by Theodore Gegoux.[1757]

Alexander Moore Piper (509) was commissioned into the 4th Artillery and served as Principal Instructor of Artillery Tactics at the Military Academy, 24 July 1865 to 28 August 1872.[1758] In 1872, he took a leave of absence from the military, after Adelaide's unsuccessful pregnancy, then returned to active duty. On his return, unsolicited, General Grant offered him a promotion to Major in the Paymaster's Department, but he declined to leave the artillery.

He was promoted to Major on 20 December 1875 while in command of a company at Ft. Hamilton, Brooklyn. He returned to the Military Academy as Principal Instructor of Artillery Tactics from September 1876 to August 1881.[1759] Alexander Ross Piper notes in his manuscript "Alexander Piper" that:

> "His ideas of right and wrong and strict obedience to orders were well illustrated during his last tour of duty at the Academy, when Gen. O. O. Howard, the Superintendent of the Academy, issued an order that no soldier should walk on the sidewalk in front of the officer's quarters. Col. Piper promptly took the middle of the roadway and walked there until called upon for an explanation, when he stated that he was a soldier, and proud of it, though he was also an officer. The order was rescinded.[1760]"

He was in command of Ft. Trumbull, Connecticut when he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel, 1st Artillery on 8 November 1882. He was transferred to 3rd Artillery 10 November 1882 and was placed in command of the Artillery Regiment and St. Francis Barracks, Florida, 25 December 1882 to January 1884. He was transferred to 1st Artillery January 1884 for duty at the Presidio of San Francisco, California and was in command of the Artillery Regiment and Presidio of San Francisco, where he was promoted to Colonel, 5th Artillery on 10 August 1887. He then commanded Ft. Hamilton, New York from October 1887 until he retired at his own request on 1 July 1991.[1761]

Evangeline Cozzens

447. Evangeline Chapman COZZENS (2090) was born on 13 June 1895 in New York City, New York, USA. She died on 17 August 1979 in Brunswick Convalescent Center, Maine, USA, at age 84 after a long illness. She was buried at Hillside Cemetery in Damariscotta, Maine, USA.

The January 9, 1932 edition of the New Yorker Magazine, has a story in the "Talk of the Town" section which states the following:

> "Miss Evangeline C. Cozzens owns and runs the Redding Company now. She came into the business in a rather complicated way. It was founded in 1859 by Moses W. Redding, a prominent Mason. He sold Masonic books, regalia, gavels, etc. When he died, he left the business to his wife. She married again--a Mr. Cozzens. Miss Cozzens is the child of the second marriage. She inherited the business from her mother."

The article continues:

> "Besides gavels, she sells all kinds of Masonic doodads. You can walk right in and buy a skull, for example; a West Indian one for ten dollars, a North American one for twenty-five. Caucasians come pretty high. You get a reduction on skulls damaged by shark's teeth. The Masons use these in their ceremonies. You can also get an imitation grave, a sort of grass mat, for six dollars and a half. Also all sorts of Masonic emblems and fezzes."

She retired from the company in 1952. At about that time, she moved permanently to Maine.[1763] She spent a lifetime in the pursuit of art and studied under several masters in New York City and New England. Her paintings have been exhibited in and purchased by the Metropolitan Museum of Art. She has also exhibited at the Brooklyn Museum, the Kraushaar Gallery of New York City, which handled her work for several years, and, in Maine, at the Pemaquid Point Gallery and the Wiscasset Gallery.

Details can be found in David Livingston's "Evangeline C. Cozzens," from which much of this has been lifted with permission.[1764]

Frederick Schiller Cozzens

448. Frederick Schiller COZZENS (1090) was born on 11 October 1846 in New York City, New York, USA.[1765] He died on 29 August 1928 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 81.[1766] He was buried at the Fairview Cemetery in Castleton Corners, Richmond, New York, USA.[1767]

Frederic S. Cozzens was a prominent maritime artist known for his illustrations of sailing ships, yachts and marine scenes. His first portfolio, "American Yachts, Their Clubs and Races," a series of 27 chromolithographs accompanied by a book, proved so successful that he went on to produce four more series on maritime themes. Cozzens studied at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Upstate New York, but was basically a

Her mother died when she was four. After her mother died, she lived with her Aunt Addie (508) and Uncle Alec Piper (509), and with her cousin (by marriage) and future husband, Alexander Ross Piper (19). She was sent to boarding school - where she hated it - and refused to consider boarding school for her children.

In 1902, Marie Susan Cozzens (56) and Alexander Ross Piper (19) first moved to Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, NY and moved again into 7522 2nd Avenue, Bay Ridge, where they lived from 1907 until 1942. She and Alexander Ross Piper (19) finally moved to their country home at Peppeneghek in South Salem, Westchester, New York, USA, in 1942.

Alexander Ross Piper, c 1910

Alexander Ross PIPER (19) was born on 1 March 1865 in Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, New York, USA.[1770] He was baptized in Church of the Holy Innocents, Highland Falls, Orange, New York, USA. He died on 21 November 1952 at Peppeneghek in South Salem, Westchester, New York, USA, at age 87. He was buried on 24 November 1952 at United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA, (Location I, A, 24).[1771]

Alexander Ross Piper wrote his own obituary, which was published after his death by the Association of Graduates, United States Military Academy in their magazine "The Assembly". Much of the following comes from the obituary either paraphrased or quoted directly. Some minor edits were made for clarity.[1772]

Until 1876, he lived at several Army posts, principally at Fort Hamilton, New York Harbor; Columbia, South Carolina; and Fort Monroe, Virginia.[1773] After his father's death in 1876, he lived with his uncle Alexander Piper (509) (Colonel, 5th U.S. Artillery) and Aunt Addie (508), and with his cousin (by marriage) and future wife Marie Susan Cozzens (56) at West Point, New York. Beginning in 1881, he lived with his uncle William Kirkpatrick Piper (1158) at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, USA, where he went to public school and worked in his uncle's stationary shop until he received his appointment to the Military Academy.

He received his nomination to the Military Academy in 1885 from Congressman Singiser of Idaho which was not admitted to the Union until 1890 when it became the 43rd state. David Livingston unraveled the mystery by discovering that his nomination came from Theodore Frelinghuysen Singiser (1845-1907) who was the Representative of the Territory of Idaho in the 48th U. S. Congress, 1883-1885. Singiser was born in Cumberland County and served in the Pennsylvania military during the Civil War. From there he may have known the Piper family and was willing to forward the nomination to the Secretary of War and the President.[1774]

Alexander Ross Piper (19) graduated from the United States Military Academy in the Class of 1889 as the 3,310th graduate. From his obituary:

> "As a cadet he held the various offices of Corporal, Sergeant and Cadet Lieutenant of Company A. With the Academic Course he had little trouble so far as the mathematical studies were concerned, put the languages and memory studies kept him up late at night."

He considered himself a "goat," because after an accidental explosion damaged one eye, he needed to be tutored during his senior year. And he was ranked 29 in a class of 49, technically putting him in the bottom half. Afterwards, he marked his correspondence with a rubber stamp of a goat.[1775]

Alexander Ross Piper (19) was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant, 8th U.S. Infantry and stationed in Fort Robinson, Nebraska, USA. From October 1890 to February 1891, because his commander Captain Corliss had a severe eye disease, he was in the field in Command of Company C, 8th Infantry, during the Sioux Indian War. His unit was assigned the role of the "home guard" defending the Ogallala (also spelled Oglala) School at the Pine Ridge Agency. (Note: Lieutenant Piper's disappointment with not being part of the action in what became known as the Battle of Wounded Knee is documented in his letters to his wife, which were published in the referenced endnote. In retrospect, his commander did him a favor by keeping him back.).[1776] At the close of the Sioux Campaign, he was transferred to the 2nd Infantry, stationed at Fort Ohama, Nebraska. From 1 June 1892, until 20 June 1896, he served as Professor of Military Science and Tactics in Gordon Institute, Barnesville, Georgia, USA. On 16 July 1896 he was promoted to 1st Lieutenant, 15th Infantry and stationed at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. After nine weeks, his regiment was transferred to Fort Bayard, New Mexico. He was in G Company, commanded by Captain George K. McGunnegle. At Fort Bayard on February 7, 1897, he lost his right arm due to a gunshot wound in a hunting accident and returned to duty on March 15th. He remained at Fort Bayard until his company was sent to Fort Apache, Arizona in April 1898. At Fort Apache,

> "...owing to the scarcity of officers, he was the Post Adjutant, Commissary, Canteen Officer, Company Commander, and finally as a last straw, Post Surgeon. The hospital steward was a German devoid of humor, and started to obey literally his instructions to give all patients that reported at morning hospital call a dose of castor oil. His attention was called to the steward's failing when a corporal who had a broken leg protested.[1777,1778]"
>
> "On May 14th he was relieved from his various duties at Apache by an order appointing him Captain and Commissary of Subsistence of Volunteers with orders to report at Chickamauga Park. At Chickamauga he was assigned to the 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, 1st Corps, and as the Division Commissary had not been appointed he performed his duties.
>
> On July 26th, he departed for Puerto Rico via Newport News. The loading and rationing for forty days of 6,600 troops in thirty six hours at Newport News was still fresh in his mind as the thermometer registered 126 degrees under the metal sheds on the docks.
>
> His Brigade, (Hains's, 4th Ohio, 4th Pennsylvania, and 8th Illinois) was landed at Arroyo, Puerto Rico, August 3d, and with little resistance pushed on to Guayama. October 21st, he was assigned as Depot Commissary at Ponce, and there made the pleasant acquaintance of the 1st Engineers. Through their amiability and engineering skill he finally secured a Commissary storehouse that was a joy. That it was well built was proven by its trip to sea intact when the flood came in the Spring. He still holds and prizes the certificate given him by General Griffin the night the 1st Engineers sailed for home, stating that the Commissary Department had given his regiment its full rations and all the money called for by the Regimental Surgeon for the purchase of delicacies for the sick.
> Owing to illness, he was ordered to New York at the end of January. He left Ponce with the thermometer at 105 degrees and arrived in New York to find the thermometer discouraged and down to 9 degrees below zero, February 9th.

> He was assigned to duty in New York City as Purchasing Commissary for Transports, and so served until he was promoted Captain of Infantry and retired from active service, July 11, 1899.[1779,1780]"

As a "Captain, Assistant Commissary of Subsistence", he was awarded the Silver Star for Gallantry in Action. [NOTE: the award certificate, signed by the Secretary of War, was not issued until 1927.]

On 11 July 1899, he, his wife, and their 4 children at the time, moved to Sing Sing (now Ossining-on-Hudson), New York.[1781]

> "He entered commercial life, first with the Seamless Metal Ware Company as manager, and then for a short time was manager and treasurer for the Mobile Company of America and treasurer of the Cosmopolitan. With the advent of the Low Administration, he was appointed Superintendent of Final Disposition, Department of Street Cleaning, City of New York, and so served until October 21, 1902, when he was appointed Second Deputy Police Commissioner. During his incumbency he installed the "Block System", "One-Way" street traffic; and the use of mounted police in regulating traffic. The "Block System" is now used in cities all over the world.
> On 1 January 1904, Tammany returned to power, and his services were no longer required."

He also developed the Traffic Regulations and Rules of the Road.[1782] In about 1904,

> "At the solicitation of the City Club of Chicago, he made an investigation of the Police of Chicago, and since then all investigations in Chicago have been dubbed "Piperizing". A similar investigation of the Police of Schenectady was made by Captain Piper, assisted by Honest Dan Costigan. During the investigation the Chief of Police died of a heart attack (?), and the Chief of Detectives disappeared."

The report of the investigation became known as the "Piper Report", which is discussed in the endnote.[1783]

In 1905, Alexander Ross Piper (19) was called to testify before the "Committee on the Police Problem. Although he was not involved in the study, he was asked to testify based on his experience. (Note: His name appears in the report multiple times and his testimony begins on pg. 162.)[1785]

He, with two others, bought what is commonly called "The Farm" or "Peppeneghek" in South Salem, Westchester, New York, USA, in 1911.

Cunningham Ancestors

Descendants of Daniel Cunningham (576)

Cunningham Family Crest

473. Daniel CUNNINGHAM (576) was born in 1731 in Dublin, Ireland.[1795] He married Sarah Winslow (2162), daughter of Joseph Winslow (4561), on 28 January 1755 in Rombout, Dutchess, New York, USA.[1796] He married Abigail Richmond (577), daughter of Cyrus Richmond (580) and Phebe Mott (2163), on 13 May 1764 at the Rombout Presbyterian Church in Rombout, Dutchess, New York, USA.[1797] He died in Richmond, Virginia, USA.[1798]

"The surname Cunningham is territorial in origin from the name of a place in Ayrshire. It is a hybrid name from Gaelic (cuinneag, "milk pail", Ir cuinneog), to which the 12th century scribe added - ham, "village.[1799]""

> "Clan Cunningham is a Scottish clan. The traditional origins of the clan are placed in the 12th century. However, the first contemporary record of the clan chiefs is in the thirteenth century. The chiefs of the Clan Cunningham supported Robert the Bruce during the Wars of Scottish Independence. In > Fredric van Bassen stated that in the year 1059, King Malcolm rewarded Malcolm, son of Freskin with the Thanedom of Cunninghame. The progenitor of the family known as Cunningham was Warnebald, who received a grant for the land of the Manor Cunningham between 1135 and 1140. The story that related to King Malcolm says that the son of Friskin, obtained the lands from Malcolm III of Scotland after he had sheltered him under hay in a barn and this is said to have given rise to the family's coat of arms which is of a shake-fork, as well as the motto "Over Fork Over". Sir George Mackenzie states that the coat of arms allude to the office of Master of the King's Stables.[1800]"

So how did Daniel, this line's progenitor, get to Ireland. That's not at all clear despite a significant immigration of both British and Scottish settlers into Ireland, some of it pushed by the creation of the Plantations.

And there is some argument that there are original Irish Cunninghams who emigrated to Scotland. "The Cunningham perch of south-west Scotland is sometimes thought to have originated in Gaelic Ireland." ...

Later, it is clear that there were a significant number of Scottish immigrants in Ireland. "Of the 50 Scottish undertakers of the Ulster plantation, five were named Cunningham, all of whom were granted lands in Co Donegal.[1801]

The Daniel Cunningham Legend has been documented in several places and was cited in Cliff Cunningham's work.[1802] The following is by the unknown author of "Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte". I have added a few of my own notes at the end.

> "Many years ago a small boy, perhaps about twelve years old, was standing on the quay side of the River Liffy, in Dublin, watching the dock hands and sailors load cargo on the lighters which were 'to convey it out to the vessels lying in mid-channel. One of the sailors picked up the boy and took him on the lighter, which put off for the ship's side. The little fellow, whose name was Daniel Cunningham, thought the trip a delight, and was in great glee when the man suggested his going on board. When discovered by some of the crew, Daniel was not unnaturally regarded by the captain as a stowaway; and stowaways were of frequent occurrence and had to be dealt with after a summary fashion. The captain compromised matters in a way that was quite the custom in those days. He decided that to pay the passage money he would sell the boy as. an apprentice, when the ship reached New York. A Friend stood by and saw the boy while the sale progressed. He conceived a liking for his hand some features and well-bred bearing, and felt great pity for his distressed condition. He bid, and fortunately for Daniel, bid the highest price.

Daniel, at first, was placed among the other servants, but his superior nature and breeding could not but be recognized by the good Friend and his wife. They decided to take him from the kitchen and rear him with their own family, which consisted of an only daughter. When Daniel was received at the board of his master and friend, he began the romance of his life. Having received a good education, and being endowed with a clever brain and a bright mind, he won, not the affections alone, but the confidence of his master, and thrived prosperously in business, being made a partner in the firm. If his progress in the well won esteem of his master was great, his hold on the affections of his master's daughter proved strong enough for her to become his wife; but she did not live for many years after her marriage, but died in giving birth to her only child, Charles.

After the death of his young wife, Daniel Cunningham is again lost sight of, until it is found recorded in the history of the Richmond Family that he married Abigail Richmond. It says : "Abigail Richmond, daughter of Cyrus Richmond, who, in the fourth generation, was a direct descendant from John Richmond, was born in Stonington, Conn., in 1743. She married Daniel Cunningham, who was born in Ireland ; and she died in December 1819. They removed to Canada in 1795, and lived in Hallowell, Prince Edward County. He was one of the survivors of the massacre at Fort Henry."

Daniel Cunningham, owing to the rules of the Friends' Society, went to Connecticut to marry his second wife. Some few years later, the Revolutionary War broke out, and Daniel was pressed to take up arms. But no matter what threat, what deprivation he suffered, he would not carry the " instruments of war." His aggressors might tie and lash' the arms to his body, but he would not voluntarily carry them; and under no consideration could he be made to use them. Seeing that these endeavours were utterly hopeless, it was thought that by placing him on board a man-o'-war he could be compelled to participate actively in some form of warfare. But he does not seem, even then, to have violated his principles, > for after sailing for some time along the American coast he was imprisoned in the gaol [jail] at Richmond, Virginia, where he died after a couple years' confinement."

From the website Suitcase of Memories":

> "We aren't told what year Daniel Cunningham was born...or what year he came to America. In fact we can't corroborate much of this story – it must be based on family traditions handed down and collected by whoever wrote or edited "Pioneer Life on the Bay of Quinte."
>
> The last two paragraphs above are rather disjointed, as though perhaps someone was telling the story and kept remembering things they should have mentioned earlier, while someone else was writing it down verbatim.
>
> The only way I can make sense of it is to rearrange the events thus – the dates are mostly firm:
> Daniel Cunningham had been a survivor at Fort Henry in 1757. (But what was a pacifist Quaker doing in the fort?). ... In the War of Independence (1775-1783) Daniel refused to fight (on the American side), was placed on board a warship, still refused and eventually died in [jail] in Richmond, Virginia."

Alton Donnell added: The Massacre at Fort William Henry (near Lake George, New York) occurred during the French and Indian Wars (against the British) in 1757. The French with their Indian allies lay siege to the fort and forced the surrender of the British force and their colonial militia allies. As the British were marching away, the Indians, not happy with the French terms of surrender, attacked the British. The Indians brutally killed and scalped many of the British soldiers and then took hundreds of prisoners to Canada where they were held for ransom. Total killed was about 185. It appears likely that Daniel was supporting the English or a Colonial militia.

After the death of his first wife, Daniel and Abigail Richmond (577) were married in the Rombout Presbyterian church after she was expelled from the Quakers. As such, it is unlikely that he was officially a Quaker and the assertion about pacifism must be questioned.

Some speculation. If Daniel was providing supplies to the British in 1757, it would not be surprising that he was doing the same during the American Revolution twenty years later. In the Fall of 1777, Colonial forces and British forces (allied with German and Quebec forces) clashed at Saratoga. The British surrendered and with their Allies formed the "Convention Army" which were to be returned to Europe. The Colonial Congress revoked the convention and imprisoned the Convention Army. Many were sent to the Albemarle Barrack in Virginia. There are no records that I could find of Daniel Cunningham as a prisoner in Virginia.

There is no evidence that Daniel emigrated to Canada with the rest of his family. Daniel's last child was born before the Battle of Saratoga which supports the theory that he died in prison.

There is no mention of Daniel or Abigail in the West Lake Quaker reports. Their son William applied to join the Quakers in Adolphustown where they appear prominently in the records after he was accepted in 1808.

So they either were not Quakers in New York, or the death of Daniel prevented a transfer certificate to the Quakers in Canada.[1803,1804]

According to The Richmond Family Daniel Cunningham (576) and Abigail Richmond (577) emigrated to Canada in 1795 from Dutchess, New York, USA. This contradicts the claim that Daniel died in Richmond, Virginia. However, if he had survived prison, it is doubtful that he would have waited more than 10 years to move to Canada. The date in the source is the same year that his son William emigrated, so the author may have just assumed Daniel emigrated with them.[1805]

Sarah WINSLOW (2162) died during or after the birth of her son.[1806]

The only known child of Daniel Cunningham (576) and Sarah Winslow (2162) was:

i. Charles CUNNINGHAM (579) was born in 1760.

Abigail RICHMOND (577) was born on 16 July 1743 in Stonington, Connecticut, USA.[1807] She died in March 1819 at age 75.

She was dismissed from the Nine Partners Quakers at the Nine Partners Monthly Meeting, 18 November 1762: "Abigail, daughter of Cyrus Richmond, defiled by a man and brought forth a child." The father was a married man in the same group of Quakers and was also expelled. He died later in a mill accident. There is no record of what happened to the child.[1808]

474. William CUNNINGHAM (574) was born on 11 December 1769 in Dutchess, New York, USA.[1809] He married Francis Fanny Ann White (575), daughter of William White (3392) and Hannah Tomkins (3393), on 25 October 1801 in Sydney, Ontario, Canada.[1810] He died on 22 March 1851 in Hallowell, Prince Edward County Municipality, Ontario, Canada, at age 81.[1811] He was buried at the Hicksite Friends Cemetery in Bloomfield, Prince Edward County Municipality, Ontario, Canada.[1812]

He was not a United Empire Loyalist, but he was sympathetic with the British. As a result, he moved to Canada after the American Revolution when he was 32 years old. in 1795.[1813] In 1798, William Cunningham (574) was was in Upper Canada by 1798, before the White family arrived around 1799-1801. He reportedly married Frances (Fanny) White at her brother Reuben White's home in Sidney, after which guests were rowed across the Bay of Quinte to Hallowell; the same account notes that Cunningham drove one of the White family wagons to Upper Canada, implying the families knew each other in New York.

In 1803 he first sought membership among the Quakers but was judged not "sufficiently advanced," and further requests in 1806 were also declined; he was finally accepted in 1808, followed soon after by Fanny, and he thereafter served actively on Quaker

In 1821 he took part in a movement to reform banking so that farmers, rather than merchants alone, could obtain loans. In 1835 he became involved in a land dispute in Hallowell with Ara Ferguson over 43 acres at the rear of his lot; although he prevailed in the dispute, he lost the acreage but received 2,000 acres in compensation in St. Vincent Township in Grey County (near present day Collingwood), where several younger children later settled, likely within the emerging Quaker community there. in Hallowell Township, Prince Edward County Municipality, Ontario, Canada.[1814] He and Francis Fanny Ann White (575) built a white house about a mile west of Picton, Ontario in 1802.

Howard Cunningham, c 1965

506. Howard Arthur CUNNINGHAM (10) was born on 15 December 1912 at Ganonoque Hospital in Ganonoque, Leeds, Ontario, Canada. He married Winifred Margaret Reed (11), daughter of Walter Leonard Reed (88) and Margaret Nash (89), on 26 December 1944 at the Methodist Church in Cottenham Park, Wimbledon, Surrey, England.[1962] He died on 19 February 1993 at Cornwall General Hospital in Cornwall, Ontario, Canada, at age 80. He was buried at Albert Street Cemetery in Arnprior, Renfrew, Ontario, Canada. In Section C, C-192, plot 973.[1963]

He was educated circa 1934 at Taber Business College. When he enlisted in the Canadian Army in 1939, he was working as a "boxboard tyer."

Howard Arthur Cunningham (10) was an accomplished athlete and was inducted into the Cornwall, Ontario Sports Hall of Fame for boxing in 1974. While at high school, in track and field, he won both junior and senior championships; he also won six events for the Stormont Dundas & Glengarry Highlanders at Barriefield Camp in 1938 and rounded out the day by competing in both boxing and wrestling matches. Howard played both junior and senior hockey in his hometown of Arnprior, senior hockey in Temiskaming and for the Cornwall Canadians. In football, he played half-back for junior and senior teams and attended the Ottawa Rough Riders training camp in 1937; he was offered a playing contract, but the salary in those days was poor, so he turned it down.

He won the "catch weight" boxing title and the Canadian Golden Gloves Championship in Montreal in the Light-Heavyweight Division in 1940. He signed up early in WWII and in 1940 was Royal Canadian Army Heavyweight Champ. His record as an amateur was 41 wins and only 2 losses. Boxing professionally, he won 6 matches and suffered only 2 defeats. He has the distinction very few boxers enjoy in the fact that he was never knocked out. His career as a boxer ended in 1943 because of a fractured elbow while in Europe.[1964]

Based on his different papers, and with the help of AI, the following summarizes his military service:

> He enlisted in 1939, initially through the Non-Permanent Active Militia (NPAM) with either the Lanark and Renfrew Regiment or the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, he transferred to the Royal Canadian Artillery (RCA) and trained as a gunner. He joined during the mobilization of the 1st Medium Battery, RCA, based out of the Craig Street Armoury in Montreal.
>
> He later served with the 7th Field Battery, RCA, and in 1943, his military specialty was changed from Bombardier to Military Police. This reassignment likely placed him in a provost or field security role, essential for discipline, traffic control, and prisoner-of-war processing during Canadian operations in Europe.
>
> Despite his MP role, he remained on RCA strength and was not formally transferred to the Canadian Provost Corps. On 25 September 1944, he landed at Bény-sur-Mer, France, as part of operations under II Canadian Corps. Following the landing, his unit advanced to Cap Gris-Nez during the campaign to liberate the Channel coast.
>
> He was discharged in August 1945 with the rank of Lance Bombardier, Royal Canadian Artillery.
> He remained active in postwar veteran associations, including participation in reunions of the 1st Heavy Anti-Aircraft Battery Association in the 1980's.

On 27 December 1944, at Howard and Pat's wedding reception, the Cockney "Kid Adkins," a pro boxer (without a sterling record) and a gambler, and his wife "Dolly" passed the hat for the newlyweds. "Kid Adkins" and Howard likely knew each other through boxing. The dances were the "Lambeth Walk" and the Cockney classic "Knees Up Mother Brown."

Howard Arthur Cunningham (10) and Winifred Margaret Reed (11) moved to Cornwall, Ontario, Canada circa September 1945.

After the war, he was a paper researcher at the DOMTAR Cornwall plant, and in 1959 was the President of the Cornwall Chess Club.[1965]

Howard Arthur Cunningham (10) was a bridge Life Master, and bridge columnist, director, and teacher. He was best known for teaching and directing bridge. He became a Life Master of bridge in 1975 eventually reaching the level of Silver Life Master. He was a founding member of the first Cornwall District Bridge Club and was president for four years. He ran the Community Bridge Club for four years. He was the only Master Rank teacher with the American Contract Bridge League (ACBL) in Cornwall. He wrote the "Bridge Corner" for the Standard Freeholder for more than twenty years. He taught bridge lessons for the Cornwall Senior Citizen Center and was President of the Cornwall Senior Citizen Club from 1991 until he became ill in October 1992.

Other achievements include honorary member of the International Bridge Press Association and Goodwill Committee of the ACBL. He was a life member of the Royal Canadian Legion and the Masonic Order. For years he was the DOMTAR Santa Claus.

She finished school at age 14, worked in a gown shop, was a window dresser and worked in sales in London until the start of World War II. In 1939, at the age of 17, she volunteered and started working at P.E.T.E. Aircraft which was a subsidiary of Hawker Aircraft. They made the Hurricane and Spitfire fighter planes. She learned to use air drills and to hammer in rivets. She worked on the wings and flaps. She worked straight nights for one year; seventy-two hours per week, 8:00 PM to 8:00 AM with only one day off in every eight days. They worked in teams of two at a tall bench and were on their feet the whole shift. After that, she was a conductress on the double-decker busses.[1967] On 2 May 1945 Winifred Margaret Reed (11) sailed on the Athlone Castle landing in Halifax, Nova Scotia after 12 days at sea, dodging German U-Boats, and dropping depth charges. They celebrated VE Day, May 8th, 1945, at sea on the first troop ship carrying war brides and soldiers to Canada. The lower decks contained returning Canadian soldiers, mid decks had the war brides, and the upper decks had British air crews enroute to western Canada to train for the war in the Pacific. On VE day, the war brides were given one bottle of beer to celebrate; more went to the Canadian and British service men. The Athlone Castle was the first Victory Ship to arrive at Pier 21 in Halifax on May 12, 1945, where they were greeted with a band and celebration.[1968] After a couple of days on a train, she met her mother-in-law on the platform in Arnprior where they lived briefly. Circa 1950, Winifred Margaret Reed (11) visited Margaret Nash (89) in Cornwall, Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry, Ontario, Canada, for several months before returning to London after she decided she did not like Canada. She did floral arrangements for weddings, sold Avon, acted in theater, and taught and was the choreographer of dancing for the Senior Show at the Senior Center. Her line dance group danced for special occasions and entertained at nursing homes.[1969]

541. Winifred Margaret REED (11) was born at home on 18 February 1922 at 16 Claremount Avenue in New Malden, Surrey, England.[2033] She married Howard Arthur Cunningham (10), son of Harold Willoughby Cunningham (84) and Luella Beatrice Orser (85), on 26 December 1944 at the Methodist Church in Cottenham Park, Wimbledon, Surrey, England.[2034] She died on 23 May 2022 at the Cornwall Community Hospital in Cornwall, Ontario, Canada, at age 100.

She finished school at age 14, worked in a gown shop, was a window dresser and worked in sales in London until the start of World War II. In 1939, at the age of 17, she volunteered and started working at P.E.T.E. Aircraft which was a subsidiary of Hawker Aircraft. They made the Hurricane and Spitfire fighter planes. She learned to use air drills and to hammer in rivets. She worked on the wings and flaps. She worked straight nights for one year; seventy-two hours per week, 8:00 PM to 8:00 AM with only one day off in every eight days. They worked in teams of two at a tall bench and were on their feet the whole shift. After that, she was a conductress on the double-decker busses.[2035]

On 27 December 1944, at Howard and Pat's wedding reception, the Cockney "Kid Adkins," a pro boxer (without a sterling record) and a gambler, and his wife "Dolly" passed the hat for the newlyweds. "Kid Adkins" and Howard likely knew each other through boxing. The dances were the "Lambeth Walk" and the Cockney classic "Knees Up Mother Brown." On 2 May 1945 Winifred Margaret Reed (11) sailed on the Athlone Castle landing in Halifax, Nova Scotia after 12 days at sea, dodging German U-Boats, and dropping depth charges. They celebrated VE Day, May 8th, 1945, at sea on the first troop ship carrying war brides and soldiers to Canada. The lower decks contained returning Canadian soldiers, mid decks had the war brides, and the upper decks had British air crews enroute to western Canada to train for the war in the Pacific. On VE day, the war brides were given one bottle of beer to celebrate; more went to the Canadian and British service men. The Athlone Castle was the first Victory Ship to arrive at Pier 21 in Halifax on May 12, 1945, where they were greeted with a band and celebration.[2036] After a couple of days on a train, she met her mother-in-law on the platform in Arnprior where they lived briefly.

Winifred Margaret Reed (11) and Howard Arthur Cunningham (10) moved to Cornwall, Ontario, Canada circa September 1945. Circa 1950, Winifred Margaret Reed (11) visited Margaret Nash (89) in Cornwall, Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry, Ontario, Canada, for several months before returning to London after she decided she did not like Canada. She did floral arrangements for weddings, sold Avon, acted in theater, and taught and was the choreographer of dancing for the Senior Show at the Senior Center. Her line dance group danced for special occasions and entertained at nursing homes.[2037]

Howard Cunningham, c 1965

Howard Arthur CUNNINGHAM (10) was born on 15 December 1912 at Ganonoque Hospital in Ganonoque, Leeds, Ontario, Canada. He died on 19 February 1993 at Cornwall General Hospital in Cornwall, Ontario, Canada, at age 80. He was buried at Albert Street Cemetery in Arnprior, Renfrew, Ontario, Canada. In Section C, C-192, plot 973.[2038] He was educated circa 1934 at Taber Business College. When he enlisted in the Canadian Army in 1939, he was working as a "boxboard tyer."

Howard Arthur Cunningham (10) was an accomplished athlete and was inducted into the Cornwall, Ontario Sports Hall of Fame for boxing in 1974. While at high school, in track and field, he won both junior and senior championships; he also won six events for the Stormont Dundas & Glengarry Highlanders at Barriefield Camp in 1938 and rounded out the day by competing in both boxing and wrestling matches. Howard played both junior and senior hockey in his hometown of Arnprior, senior hockey in Temiskaming and for the Cornwall Canadians. In football, he played half-back for junior and senior teams and attended the Ottawa Rough Riders training camp in 1937;

he was offered a playing contract, but the salary in those days was poor, so he turned it down.

He won the "catch weight" boxing title and the Canadian Golden Gloves Championship in Montreal in the Light-Heavyweight Division in 1940. He signed up early in WWII and in 1940 was Royal Canadian Army Heavyweight Champ. His record as an amateur was 41 wins and only 2 losses. Boxing professionally, he won 6 matches and suffered only 2 defeats. He has the distinction very few boxers enjoy in the fact that he was never knocked out. His career as a boxer ended in 1943 because of a fractured elbow while in Europe.[2039]

Based on his different papers, and with the help of AI, the following summarizes his military service:

> He enlisted in 1939, initially through the Non-Permanent Active Militia (NPAM) with either the Lanark and Renfrew Regiment or the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, he transferred to the Royal Canadian Artillery (RCA) and trained as a gunner. He joined during the mobilization of the 1st Medium Battery, RCA, based out of the Craig Street Armoury in Montreal.
>
> He later served with the 7th Field Battery, RCA, and in 1943, his military specialty was changed from Bombardier to Military Police. This reassignment likely placed him in a provost or field security role, essential for discipline, traffic control, and prisoner-of-war processing during Canadian operations in Europe.
>
> Despite his MP role, he remained on RCA strength and was not formally transferred to the Canadian Provost Corps. On 25 September 1944, he landed at Bény-sur-Mer, France, as part of operations under II Canadian Corps. Following the landing, his unit advanced to Cap Gris-Nez during the campaign to liberate the Channel coast.
>
> He was discharged in August 1945 with the rank of Lance Bombardier, Royal Canadian Artillery.
> He remained active in postwar veteran associations, including participation in reunions of the 1st Heavy Anti-Aircraft Battery Association in the 1980's.

After the war, he was a paper researcher at the DOMTAR Cornwall plant, and in 1959 was the President of the Cornwall Chess Club.[2040]

Howard Arthur Cunningham (10) was a bridge Life Master, and bridge columnist, director, and teacher. He was best known for teaching and directing bridge. He became a Life Master of bridge in 1975 eventually reaching the level of Silver Life Master. He was a founding member of the first Cornwall District Bridge Club and was president for four years. He ran the Community Bridge Club for four years. He was the only Master Rank teacher with the American Contract Bridge League (ACBL) in Cornwall. He wrote the "Bridge Corner" for the Standard Freeholder for more than twenty years. He taught bridge lessons for the Cornwall Senior Citizen Center and was President of the Cornwall Senior Citizen Club from 1991 until he became ill in October 1992.

Other achievements include honorary member of the International Bridge Press Association and Goodwill Committee of the ACBL. He was a life member of the Royal Canadian Legion and the Masonic Order. For years he was the DOMTAR Santa Claus.

From Keith's article:

>
> Because of the flu epidemic I was not allowed to start to school in 1918. I can remember Uncle Charlie, who was by this time a well qualified medical doctor, bringing the mail and other necessities and putting them out at the gate. My parents conversed with him at a distance, and we escaped the flu that year. The next year we all had the flu. I remember how sick we all were, but we all lived.
>
> I started to school in 1919 at Alexander in the second grade. I had no problems in missing the first grade, for my mother had seen to it that I was well taught.
>
> In 1921 my mother was hired to teach the Alexander School.
> In December 1924 our parents moved to Canyon where we children might be able to get an education. With that move my happy and innocent childhood ended. I was thrust into a completely new and different world. I graduated from Canyon High School in 1929 and immediately started to college. I had been editor of the high school paper the last two years, and my love was languages and journalism. Knowing there was not going to be any way I could finance 4 years of college in those depression years, I > was advised to major in primary education and get a permanent certificate to teach school. In 1931 I went to the Johnson School in the Bauer community to teach....

> When I came there to teach, he [Clarence (39)] lost no time in getting to know the new teacher, and we were soon dating. We were married in my parents' home on November 11, 1932 by the Reverend John R. Sharp, the same minister who had married my parents."

The college at the time was West Texas State Teachers College. (Note: The name started as West Texas Normal College in 1909, was changed to West Texas State Teachers College (1923–1949), West Texas State College (1949–1963), West Texas State University (1963–1990), and in 1990 to West Texas A&M, part of the Texas A&M University System.).[2142] From Keith's article

> For the next 8 years we lived on a section of land belonging to Grandpa Bauer....
> We were looking for land where we could irrigate and have a home of our own. Our search brought us to Swisher County. We purchased land, did extensive work on the house, and moved on November 2, 1940....Those were such happy years for us marred only by the sadness of World War II. There are no happier years than those when your children are growing up and lifelong friendships are formed. In 1947 we moved into our first new home....We sold the farm to D. S. Burelsmith in 1955 and moved into Tulia where we built another new home.
> The day after [Vance's] graduation we came to Bentonville, Arkansas and bought the property... It may never again be my privilege to live in Texas. Arkansas has been good to us, we love it here. I was born a Texan, and I will die a Texan! My heart remains in Swisher Co., for there I spent the happiest years of my life.[2143]

First Lieutenant Howard Carey Brewster (53) received his degree from Louisiana Technical College in 1941.[2192] On 6 January 1941, he enlisted in the National Guard and became a Sergeant in the Coast Artillery Corps.[2193] He was awarded his wings in 1942 after basic pilot training in San Antonio, Texas. He moved to Dalhart, Texas for glider pilot training where he met Kate, who was teaching Home Economics at the Dalhart High School.[2194] First Lieutenant Howard Carey Brewster (53) and Kate Eileen Donnell (38) were moved from base to base - from Sedalia, Missouri to Fort Wayne, Indiana, back to Sedalia, then to Fort Pope, North Carolina, then back to Fort Wayne. Kate is quoted as "We had our clothes, a few pots and pans, and our youth. So moving was no chore.[2195]" On their first wedding anniversary, he deployed to England and was attached to the 82nd Airborne Division for further training.[2196]

First Lieutenant Howard Carey Brewster (53) was a glider pilot with the 437th Troop Carrier Group of the 9th Air Force and was the operations officer for the 84th and 86th Squadrons.

The account of his final mission has been researched at Fold 3 at Ancestry.com and is summarized below:

> On D-Day, June 6, 1944 during Mission Detroit, Mission #28 his CG4 Waco-type glider ... departed Ramsbury, United Kingdom, being towed by C47-A flown by pilots Lt Myers and Lt Frederick.
>
> His co-pilot was Flight Officer Leslie A. Reynolds also of the 84th Troop Carrier Squadron. The passengers were Sgt. Raynor M. Wilson and Pvt. Lecil A Drummond, both of the 80th Anti-aircraft Battalion.
>
> Their mission was to transport a jeep, anti-tank ammunition, and other equipment to Ste-Mère-Eglise, about 5 miles inland from Utah Beach.
>
> In an investigation (Missing Air Crew Report #10890), the tow pilots believed Carey Brewster's glider was either "...released or shot off about 16 miles from the landing zone. This meant that the glider landed in enemy territory with few, if any, friendly troops in the vicinity."
>
> The report also states that the landing glider struck the top of an apple tree at the landing, killing the pilot. The copilot was hospitalized and eventually returned to England with amnesia. The enlisted men were both killed in combat within 10 days of D-Day.[2197]

Kate Gamble, 2005

Kate Eileen DONNELL (38) was born on 17 April 1920 at the Donnell Home in Swisher, Texas, USA.[2198] She married DeWitt Clinton Gamble III (81), son of DeWitt Clinton Gamble Jr. (116) and Clytie Pearl Beck (117), on 4 October 1947 in Pampa, Texas, USA. She died on 20 January 2008 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 87. She was buried on 24 January 2008 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA. She graduated from Canyon High School in 1937 and West Texas State Teachers College in 1941. She taught English in the Dalhart and Canyon schools.[2199] She worked for the Extension Service as county extension agent in Hutchinson, Randall, and Hale counties. She was president of the agents' association while in Hale County.

She was always active in First Presbyterian Church where she served as deacon and elder. She was the first president of the University Study Club and was later elected an honorary member.

She also worked for the department of Public Services as a day care licensing representative.[2200] She and Bessie Fay Donnell (2690) were fourth cousins, going back to brothers who were born in the Nottingham Colony in North Carolina in the 1700's.

Kate and Bessie Fay's husband Charles Marshall both served as a deacon and an elder at the First Presbyterian Church in Canyon, Texas at roughly the same times.

They almost certainly knew each other, but whether they knew they were related is not clear.

In 1931, he was appointed to supervise Technicolor's Hollywood film processing plant and he and his family were relocated to Los Angeles California on the train.

In 1936, he was chosen to establish and run Technicolor's new plant in England on the Bath Road opposite the future London Heathrow Airport and his family settled in Gerrards Cross, Buckinghamshire for three years, during which two of their three daughters met their future husbands, before another world war had them relocating home again in 1939.

The family settled in Pleasantville, New York and after the war moved into Brooklyn (81 Columbia Heights) across the river from Technicolor's New York offices and plentiful jobs and shops for the girls.

Finally, he worked for The American Sugar Refining Company (e.g. 'Domino Sugar') overseeing the Construction Department (e.g. a new refinery in Trinidad) and latterly as a consultant for them. He retired in 1958, aged 70.[2214]

He had been widowed in 1955 and, in 1957, he married again with Marjorie Siefke née Piper (13), a widow for 33 years (with now grown-up children and their families) living at "Peppeneghek", "The Farm", South Salem, New York where they lived together until she died in 1971.[2215] He married again with Marjorie Johnson née Andrews (951) in 1977. They lived together in West Stockbridge Massachusetts until she died around 1981.

Soon afterwards, he decided to join his three families in Europe – England, France and Denmark. He had left England aged 3 and returned aged 93. For the next 6 years, he visited each family for several months each and finally settled in Windlesham, Surrey, England and when he died in 1987, he was buried in Windlesham's churchyard.[2216]

Generation One

634. Alden SMITH (135) was born circa 1870 in Binghamton, New York, USA. He married Edna Barrett (136), daughter of Hollis A Barrett (3375) and Juliet Tyler (3376), on 23 February 1889 in Binghamton, New York, USA. He died circa 1900.

Edna BARRETT (136) married (?) West (957) circa 1896. She died circa 1955.

The only known child of Alden Smith (135) and Edna Barrett (136) was:

635 i. Hollis Samuel SMITH (123) was born on 21 May 1894 in Binghamton, New York, USA. He married Anne Alexandra Piper (121), daughter of Alexander Ross Piper (19) and Marie Susan Cozzens (56), on 29 June 1924 at St. John's Protestant Cathedral in Shanghai, China. He died on 4 March 1980 in Somerville, New Jersey, USA, at age 85.

Generation Two

Hollis Smith, c 1917

635. Hollis Samuel SMITH (123) was born on 21 May 1894 in Binghamton, New York, USA. He married Anne Alexandra Piper (121), daughter of Alexander Ross Piper (19) and Marie Susan Cozzens (56), on 29 June 1924 at St. John's Protestant Cathedral in Shanghai, China. He died on 4 March 1980 in Somerville, New Jersey, USA, at age 85.

He attended Saint Stephens College and General Seminary (now known as Bard College) in New York, New York, USA.[2220] He served as a noncombatant motorcycle courier during WWI, delivering messages between units in the battle zones in Belgium, the Argonne Forest Campaign and at San Mihiel.[2221]

Hollis Samuel Smith (123) graduated on 26 June 1922 in The General Theological Seminary, New York City, New York, USA. He was ordained at Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church in Binghamton, New York and a month later was on a ship sailing to China.

Hollis Samuel Smith (123) and Anne Alexandra Piper (121) met at the Language School at Changsha University in China where they studied the Wu dialect for two years.[2222] After a brief honeymoon in Japan, he and Anne Alexandra Piper (121) began their lives together as missionaries at Saint Bartholomew's Church and Mission in Changshu (Zanhzok), China.[2223] He preached in Chinese and there was no English including in the liturgy.

Hollis Samuel Smith (123) was serving as a missionary when the Japanese attacked, damaging missionary facilities. His family had moved to Shanghai earlier so the children could attend the American schools. After the attacks he brought his family back to the United States on a furlough in February 1939.[2224] Although they had planned to go back to China, in 1940 the U. S. State Department ordered American women and children out of the country, so his wife and children decided to live in Brooklyn, and he went back to his post in China. After the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the Japanese cracked down on Americans.

In 1942, he was initially imprisoned in his home, then later with 1,500 others was moved to a prison camp in Shanghai. In 1943, he was part of a prisoner exchange involving 1200 Americans, 250 Canadians, and 80 Latin Americans for 1500 Japanese citizens.

After embarking the Teia Maru, the exchange was conducted in Goa where they were placed onboard the Swedish Exchange Ship Gripsholm. The trip lasted 72 days and 18,000 miles by way of Borneo, India, South Africa, and Brazil, finally landing in New Jersey.

In 1944 he became the Rector of Saint John's Episcopal Church in Somerville, New Jersey where he stayed until his retirement in 1965.[2225]

Marie Alexandra OATES (153) was born on 25 July 1915 in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.[2265] She was christened in April 1916 at Christ Church, Bay Ridge, in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA.[2266] She died on 22 November 2011 in Ditchling Common, Sussex, England, at age 96.[2267] She was buried on 2 December 2011 in Chobham, Surrey, England, UK, with her husband Eric (154) in his plot.[2268] She was known by her family and friends as Cully, Alex and Sandra (153). While her family lived in Brookline, Boston, Massachusetts, USA (1924-1931), she recalled the cold winters, with ice being cut from the lake (no refrigerators yet) and the great fun she had with all the Irish children there.[2269] She was educated at Mills College, Oakland, California when her family lived in Hollywood, California (1931-1936).

She first met Eric Outram c1938 while living in Gerrards Cross, Buckinghamshire, UK (1936-1939). As war broke out, they maintained a correspondence as she returned to the USA, and he was posted to Canada. She worked for Sperry Gyroscope and for British Overseas Airways Ltd at The Atlantic Clipper and Marine Base, La Guardia Field, New York.[2270] She traveled by train to Moose Jaw to visit Eric, and their subsequent wedding was a happy surprise for her family in New York. Harold Outram, Eric's father, was able to attend the ceremony in New York, while on government business in the USA. They returned to Moose Jaw, then when reassigned, drove east across the United States (c1943, no trans-Canada highway yet) to Trenton, Ontario. While at Trenton, they were billeted with Randolph Hewton, the Canadian artist, and his wife Benedicta, 'Bené'. They were then posted back to the UK and lived in Pinner, Middlesex.

As war ended, they moved to 88 Beaufort St, Chelsea, London (1945-1948), where their first two children arrived, each taking one of the Hewtons' names. They then moved out of London to 'Longacres', Chobham, Surrey, which, at the time, was one of the 4% of UK homes with central heating, her requirement, and close to Woking with its very good rail service to the City of London, his requirement. They lived and raised their 6 children there for 23 years (1948-1971). She enjoyed ensuring that as many of her children as possible would always come with her to church, her social hub, every Sunday. After Eric died, she lived on at 'Longacres' for another 6 years before moving to Windlesham (1977-2011), living 'on her own' for 40 years.[2271]

The six known children of Eric Gordon Outram (154) and Marie Alexandra Oates (153) were as follows:

He moved in Lock Haven, Pennsylvania, USA, after the end of the Revolutionary War.[2296]

The only known child of David Lusk (2904) and Elizabeth McKinley (3913) was:

i. Esther LUSK (2917) was born on 6 August 1776. She married Thomas Reed (2918). She died on 16 January 1870 at age 93.

658. Elizabeth Jane LUSK (345) was born on 2 September 1748 in Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[2297] She married Major General John Michael Piper (344), son of James Piper (491) and Margaret P Cleland (492), in 1770 in Shippensburg, Pennsylvania, USA. She died on 20 August 1822 in Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 73.[2298] She was buried at the Piper Cemetery in Cypher, Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA.[2299]

She was also known as Catharine Elizabeth (345).[2300]

Major General John Michael PIPER (344) was born on 30 December 1729 in the North of Ireland.[2301] He died on 31 January 1816 in Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 86.[2302] He was buried at the Piper Cemetery in Cypher, Bedford, Pennsylvania, USA.[2303]

Circa 1738, he emigrated with his family from Ireland and lived for a time at Shippensburg. He was a Lieutenant in the Second Battalion of the Pennsylvania Provisional Regiment during the French and Indian Wars (1754-1763). He had previously been with Colonel Armstrong at the Battle of Kittenany.[2304] On 20 June 1763, he was commissioned a lieutenant in the Second Battalion of the Pennsylvania Provincial Regiment after he served conspicuously during the French and Indian War. He had previously been with Colonel Armstrong at the battle of Kittanning. From the source:

> "Prior to 1771 he moved to Bedford County and settled upon the stream now known as Piper's Run. A log fort was erected at the southern end of Black Oak Ridge, near Piper's house, and at various times during the revolution was occupied by troops sent to protect the settlers.[2305]

He was one of the Provincial Justices of Bedford County in 1773. At the outset of the War for Independence he was an outspoken patriot and represented Bedford County in the Provincial Conference held at Carpenter's Hall, Philadelphia which called the first constitutional convention on 18 June 1776.[2306]

In July 1776, he commanded the 1st Battalion of Bedford Associators and was in active service. On the 21st of March 1777, he was commissioned Lieutenant of the County, a position he filled for a period of three years, during the most trying period of the war. The Committee of Safety, on 21 October appointed him one of the Commissioners to seize the effects of traitors.[2307]

In 1777 (as is supposed from a date upon a brick in the chimney) Piper erected a substantial stone house (known as Fort Piper) of two stories, to which many settlers, at various periods, fled for refuge. John Piper lived there until his death in 1816. Fort Piper was believed to have been burned by arson in 1926.

From 27 November 1779, he represented Bedford County in the Supreme Executive Council. Major General John Michael Piper (344) was a member of the General Assembly from 1785 to 1789 and was opposed to the calling of the Convention of that year to which he was elected a member.[2308] On 6 November 1787, his residence in Philadelphia which he occupied while attending the Assembly, was stoned by a mob to show their opposition to the Constitutional Party of which he was a member.[2309] Under the Constitution of 1790, of which he was one of the framers, he was commissioned a Justice of the Peace, and on 2 June 1796, one of the Associate Judges of Bedford County.[2310] In 1797, Major General John Michael Piper (344) was selected a Presidential Elector.[2311] On 25 April 1801, Major General John Michael Piper (344) was commissioned a Major General of the Pennsylvania Militia.[2312] On 3 November 1801, Major General John Michael Piper (344) was elected a member of the State Senate from the Huntington, Bedford and Somerset District. He was reelected in 1803.

At the time of his death a local paper gave this testimony:

> "Mr. Piper was firmly attached to the principles of the Revolution, in which he bore his share with great credit as an officer, and the cause of political freedom, which was based on the revolution, found him an undeviating and ardent supporter. ... As a father he was peculiarly affectionate and indulgent, as a friend he was generous and sincere, and as a companion, polite, sociable and cheerful.[2313]"

Edward Coke Ross, c 1848

675. Lieutenant Edward Coke ROSS (349) was born on 23 May 1800 in Milford, Pike, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Anna DeWitt Clinton (1669), daughter of Major General James Clinton (1681) and Mary Little (1682), on 9 November 1830 in Newburg, Orange, New York, USA.[2362] He married Catharine Van Dyke Berier (350), daughter of Second Lieutenant Francis Nathaniel Berier (353) and Sarah Van Dyke (354), on 23 July 1835 at the Narrows by Reverend R. C. Currie.[2363] After a week's illness, he died of pleurisy, on 16 May 1851 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 50.

In 1821, he graduated from the United States Military Academy (268th Graduate). He served as an Acting Assistant Professor of Mathematics as a First Class cadet. He was promoted to Second Lieutenant in the 4th Artillery upon graduation and on 23 July 1821 was immediately appointed Assistant Professor of Mathematics

From 5 June to 6 October 1824, he was an Instructor of Mathematics at the Artillery School for Practice at Fort Monroe, Virginia. Then he returned to West Point and a year later became the Principal Assistant Professor of Mathematics. On November 27, 1826 he was promoted to First Lieutenant of the 4th Artillery. In 1831, Lieutenant Edward Coke Ross (349) completed the translation of Bourbon's "Elements of Algebra" from the original French. This was significant because it freed the cadets from the necessity of studying French in order to read their mathematics texts.[2364] On 23 November 1833, he was appointed Principal Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

Sarah Van Dyke Berier Ross, c 1864

678. Sarah VanDyke Berier ROSS (106) was born on 25 November 1846 in Gambia, Ohio, USA. She married James Wilson Piper (102), son of Alexander Moore Piper (343) and Anne Espy Elder (346), on 6 August 1863 in Fort Hamilton, New York, USA, by the Reverend Currie.[2374] She died on 31 March 1886 in Cincinnati, Hamilton, Ohio, USA, at age 39. She was buried at the Wesleyan Cemetery in Cincinnati, Ohio, USA.

Her husband was seriously ill before his death in October 1876 because of wounds suffered during the Civil War. When he passed, Sarah was seized "with an attack of nervous prostration" for which her physicians prescribed alcoholic stimulants. This resulted in a significant family drama.

The use of alcohol as a treatment led to an "inordinate appetite for strong drink", and subsequently her commitment to the Fort Hamilton Inebriates' Home in June 1878 under order of the Supreme Court of New York. Her uncle Major Francis E. Berier was appointed as her "committee," like a trustee, for "her person and estate."

When admitted to the home she was suffering from delirium tremens. Under the care of the physicians of the home, she rapidly recovered and within a month or so was pronounced cured. However, her uncle Major Berier refused to permit her discharge unless she was recommitted to some Catholic or Protestant institution, usually the "Refuge of Fallen Women". Mr. Willetts, the Superintendent of the Fort Hamilton Inebriates' Home, claimed her uncle wanted to restrain her because "she was volatile and frivolous." Major Berier threatened to send her to an insane asylum. John M. Ross, her brother, wrote to Miss Annie E. Piper (1188), her late husband's sister, of Washington DC, in a letter dated 14 Jan 1879, that: "I fear her mind has been so affected that she is more fit for an insane than an inebriate asylum." Sarah was so frightened that she sent for two physicians to judge her mental condition.

[2374]William Henry Egle, Egle's Genealogies, p. 203.

Superintendent Willetts and the home's Resident Physician, Dr. Lewis D. Mason, were both in favor of her release before Christmas 1878. She was given liberty from the Fort Hamilton Inebriates' Home to visit friends she had made at Fort Hamilton, which started the movement to release her.

The court received affidavits from a variety of sources, including Superintendent Willetts and Dr. Mason who pronounced her cured and "possessed of strong will power to abstain from the use of liquor," and from friends who met her frequently at the Warm Springs in Perry County, Pennsylvania in 1876 before her husband's death as to her "gentle and refined behavior". Annie Elder Piper (1188) asserted to the court that Major Berier was unfit to be Sarah's "committee." Sarah asserted to the court that her uncle was under the influence of liquor when he visited her, and was "irritable, abusive, and unjust", that his threats to have her committed to an asylum were "unjust aspersions on her character," and that he intended to keep her in restraint "to keep her from all further enjoyment of life and society." Sarah further asserted that that she had "recovered from her appetite for strong drink," that she was able to abstain and never expected to return to it, and that she was recovered by July 1878.

After the court's decision to release her, Major Berier who had possession of all her property, amounting to $448, and her pension of $24/month, paid the cost of her board and restored all property. (Quotations above are directly taken from the source.).[2375]

James Wilson PIPER (102) was born on 26 September 1832 in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, USA. He died on 30 October 1876 in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 44. His funeral was held at Captain Erkuries Beatty's residence.[2376] He was buried at the Ashland Cemetery in Carlisle, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[2377] He was a charter member and Recording Secretary of the Freemont Club, established to support the Union Electoral ticket and oppose James Buchanan. He worked for his brother-in-law, Erkuries Beatty (1190) at the Carlisle Weekly Herald where he was the office foreman.[2378]

Piper left civilian life for the Army at the outbreak of the Civil War where he served with his friend Captain Smead, United States Military Academy Class of 1854, who was tasked to recruit and form a voluntary battery of artillery. He received a commission as a first lieutenant in the 5th Artillery on 14 May 1861 and went to the field immediately with Smead's battery, which was part of the Artillery Reserve for the Army of the Potomac in the Virginia Peninsular Campaign.

During the Seven Days Battles (June-July 1862) he was severely wounded during the Battle of Mechanicsburg on 28 June 1862. He received a brevet promotion to Captain for gallant and meritorious service during that battle. When Captain Smead was killed in the Second Battle of Bull Run on 30 August 1862, Piper assumed command of the battery.[2379,2380,2381]

After the end of the Civil War, he was an instructor at the Artillery School in Fort Monroe, Virginia, USA. He was assigned at Columbia, South Carolina, but returned home to Bedford County, where he was "Rusticating.[2382]" He was again assigned to the Artillery School at Fort Monroe. After the Civil War, he was the Regimental Adjutant, 5th U.S. Artillery, Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, New York, USA. He was required to retire on sick leave and returned to Carlisle, Pennsylvania with "a shattered and broken constitution." He came down with pneumonia early in October, which caused his death. Alexander Ross Piper (19), at age 11, rode for the doctor.[2383]

The three known children of Sarah VanDyke Berier Ross (106) and James Wilson Piper (102) were as follows:

i. Alexander Ross PIPER (19) was born on 1 March 1865 in Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, New York, USA. He married Marie Susan Cozzens (56), daughter of Sylvanus Thayer Cozzens (103) and Susan Allen Wilson (356), on 20 June 1890 in Church of the Holy Innocents, Highland Falls, Orange, New York, USA, by the Reverend W. R. Thomas, archdeacon of Orange County. He died on 21 November 1952 at Peppeneghek in South Salem, Westchester, New York, USA, at age 87. He was buried on 24 November 1952 at United States Military Academy Cemetery in West Point, Orange, New York, USA, (Location I, A, 24). (see # 312).

Descendants of William Biddis (4180)

Generation One

685. William BIDDIS (4180).

The only known child of William Biddis (4180) and Katherine Lensen (4181) was:

686 i. John BIDDIS Sr (499) was born in 1749 in Germantown, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Martha Britton (4182). He died in 1814 in Milford, Pike, Pennsylvania, USA.

Generation Two

686. John BIDDIS Sr (499) was born in 1749 in Germantown, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Martha Britton (4182). He died in 1814 in Milford, Pike, Pennsylvania, USA.

In 1763, John Biddis Sr (499) was a resident in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA.[2423] He served as a clerk in Captain James Irvine's 1st Company of the 7th Battalion of Philadelphia County Militia. From the source:

> He was a man of varied interests, talents, and great ambition, and during the Revolutionary period, he operated the Bonny Jockey Tavern in Chestnut Hill, where he tanned hides, and tinkered with inventions on the side. Upon his invention of a new white lead paint in 1783, he sold the tavern, moved into the city, and opened a paint factory and store just across Vine Street from General Washington's headquarters. His invention made Biddis something of a celebrity among artists and scene painters in the fledgling Philadelphia theater. In 1787, he became the city's first wallpaper manufacturer, and four years later received one of the first patents issued by the newly established US Patent Office for inventing a tar to be used in tanning made from gum extracted from the barks of various trees. This patent was signed by President Washington and sent over to the Secretary of State, Thomas Jefferson.[2424]

From the source:

> "[He] was of Welsh descent, bought the land where Milford now stands, in the year 1793, or thereabouts, had the town laid out into building lots, etc. He built a grist and saw-mill and carried on an extensive business.[2425]"

The five known children of John Biddis Sr (499) and Martha Britton (4182) were as follows:

687 i. Catherine BIDDIS (352) was born in 1774. She married Hugh Ross (351), son of Thomas Ross (497) and Jane Chapman (498). She died on 5 March 1881.

ii. Edward BIDDIS (3975).

iii. Sarah BIDDIS (3976) married James Barton (3977).

iv. George BIDDIS (3978).

v. John BIDDIS (3979).

Generation Three

687. Catherine BIDDIS (352) was born in 1774. She married Hugh Ross (351), son of Thomas Ross (497) and Jane Chapman (498).[2426] She died on 5 March 1881.

Hugh ROSS (351) was born on 13 February 1777. He died on 17 August 1842 at age 65.[2427] He was buried at the Milford Cemetery in Milford, Pike, Pennsylvania, USA.[2428] He studied law at Easton and on being admitted to the bar returned to Newtown, later went to Trenton, New Jersey and finally settled in Milford, Pike County, Pennsylvania.[2429] He was considered an "eccentric preacher and lawyer.[2430]"

The two known children of Catherine Biddis (352) and Hugh Ross (351) were as follows:

i. Lieutenant Edward Coke ROSS (349) was born on 23 May 1800 in Milford, Pike, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Anna DeWitt Clinton (1669), daughter of Major General James Clinton (1681) and Mary Little (1682), on 9 November 1830 in Newburg, Orange, New York, USA. He married Catharine Van Dyke Berier (350), daughter of Second Lieutenant Francis Nathaniel Berier (353) and Sarah Van Dyke (354), on 23 July 1835 at the Narrows by Reverend R. C. Currie. After a week's illness, he died of pleurisy, on 16 May 1851 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 50. (see # 675).

ii. Louisa Ann ROSS (1680) was born on 14 March 1802. She married John Heiner Brodhead (3974). She died on 20 April 1866 at age 64. She was

688. Augustin Etienne DE BERLIER (2217) married Honorée Emmanuelle de Renom (2218).[2431]

He was Royal Counselor at the Court of Justice of Draguignan (Conseiller Royal à la Sénéchaussée).[2432]

The three known children of Augustin Etienne de Berlier (2217) and Honorée Emmanuelle de Renom (2218) were as follows:

i. François Felix Etienne DE BERLIER (2220) was born in 1743.

689 ii. Chevalier Francois DE BERLIER (501) was born circa 3 October 1747 in Draguignan, Var, Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur, France. Memos written by de Berlier and his brother about Francois' birthdate differ by a year, 1747 v 1748. He married Margaretta Farrand (500), daughter of Daniel Farrand (896) and Margaret (?) (897), circa 1792 in Newark, New Jersey, USA, at the home of Judge (Uncle) Ferrand. He died in 1821 in Draguignan, Var, Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur, France.

689. Chevalier Francois DE BERLIER (501) was born circa 3 October 1747 in Draguignan, Var, Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur, France. Memos written by de Berlier and his brother about Francois' birthdate differ by a year, 1747 v 1748.[2433] He married Margaretta Farrand (500), daughter of Daniel Farrand (896) and Margaret (?) (897), circa 1792 in Newark, New Jersey, USA, at the home of Judge (Uncle) Ferrand. He died in 1821 in Draguignan, Var, Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur, France.[2434]

From the source:

> "The Chevalier de Berlier became a cadet in the Royal Artillery Corps June 16, 1762. He was then 15. He then became a student at the Ecole de la Fère (a military academy). Appointed 1st Lieutenant in the Regiment of Metz July 11, 1766, he left for America with the 2nd Battalion of this regiment on August 25, 1777.
>
> On May 9, 1778 he is appointed 2nd Captain of the workmen and Director of the (munitions) park in the Windward Isles (Isles du Vent.). He is entitled to a pension for 19 wounds received in America (December 17, 1780.) He becomes Captain of a Company of Sappers - still in the Metz Regiment in America.
> He returns to France where he becomes 1st Captain and Second Inspector at the Armament Manufactory in Saint Etienne (April 19, 1782) On December 14, 1783 the king made him Chevalier de Saint Louis (a high military honor - equivalent to the Silver Star.)
>
> On June 25, 1791 he is appointed Captain of an artillery company at Cete (west of Marseilles.) He becomes Lieutenant-Colonel, 2nd-in-Command of Artillery at Huningue (near Mulhouse in Alsace) August 28, 1792. He is in command of the Artillery at Antibes June 11, 1793.
>
> After Toulon is captured by the English (August 21, 1793) he was sent by the "Représentants Directeurs", on mission with the Army in Italy. He was discharged by the Directorate. he had 35 years' active service in the army. It is not at all certain that he joined his post in Italy.[2435]"
> "In fact, his trace was lost (by the War Department in France) during 20 years (from 1794 to 1814). Everything leads to believe that, wishing to avoid the police, he wanted to return to North America. There he discovered Margaret Farrand whose family he probably had known during the American Revolutionary War some fifteen years before. They were married by Judge Farrand, an uncle, in Newark, New Jersey in 1791 or 1792. The records are inexact. But this can be explained by the fact that an independent country had just been born and the new civil servants were not yet experts in their new functions.[2436]"

"At the beginning of the Restoration, when Napoleon fell in 1814, [he] left the United States for France. He never came back. He was 67 at this time and suffered from his many wounds. He appealed to King Louis XVIII for a pension. But his attitude between 1789 and 1793 (the French Revolution during the reign of Terror) made his request difficult. Because of this, his younger brother, the Abbé de Berlier, vicar of Saint Roch in Paris, wrote rather reluctantly to the king for him and the pension finally was granted. (needless to say, the king was a renowned bigot.)

In 1819 we find him living in his property of Eyguières near Orgon (Bouches du Rhône) in Provence. He was now Mayor of Eyguières and of Roquemartine. He died two years later in Draguignan.

Related to the important families in southern France, he was highly protected at the court of Versailles (by Gribeauval, the Duke of Fransac, François de Couzié, Archbishop of Tours.) He signed his letters "le Chevalier de Berlier" before the French Revolution, "Citizen Berlier" during the Revolution, and "le Chevalier de Berlier La Rémolle" during the Restoration.

In his requests to Louis XVIII, he never mentioned his marriage in America. This may be explained by the fact that during this bigoted period, the existence of a Protestant wife would not have helped him obtain a pension.

Our family tradition in America has not given François Augustin a very good reputation. But we should not forget that the Chevalier de Saint Louis, 19 times wounded, was the ancestor of a long series of Army officers who continue to represent the family at West Point to the present day.[2437]"

Alton Donnell's note: Berlier was born in Draguignan, Var, Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur, the self-proclaimed "Capital of Artillery." It has been the home of "Ecole nationale d'artillerie" (Artillery School) since 1976.

The 2nd battalion of the Metz Regiment took part in the Siege of Savannah from 16 September–18 October 1779 and retreated from the area to join the army of Nathanael Greene, which it remained with until it moved to Yorktown to join the Expédition Particulière, led by Général Jean-Baptiste Donatien de Vimeur, Comte de Rochambeau.

[2436]Adelaide Piper Oates, François Augustin de BERLIER.
[2437]Adelaide Piper Oates, François Augustin de BERLIER.

DeBerlier qualified for a pension because of wounds he received well before the Siege of Yorktown and around the time he took over the Sapper Company. Sappers were used extensively to prepare the gun emplacements for the allied artillery during the siege of Yorktown in October 1781. Often the term "miners" is used with sappers; they dig into and undermine the enemy's fortifications.

After the fall of Yorktown, the Army of Rochambeau moved north to Virginia until the conclusion of the war.

One of Berlier's protectors was Lieutenant General Jean-Baptiste Vaquette de Gribeauval (15 September 1715 – 9 May 1789), a French artillery officer and engineer who revolutionized the French cannon. As the senior French artillery officer and commander of the Chevalier de Saint Louis since 1765, he was certainly aware of Berlier's award of the Chevalier de Saint Louis and the actions on which it was based.

Margaretta FARRAND (500) was born in 1761 in New Haven, Connecticut, USA. She died in 1845.

The only known child of Chevalier Francois de Berlier (501) and Margaretta Farrand (500) was:

690 i. Second Lieutenant Francis Nathaniel BERIER (353) was born on 5 June 1794 in New York, USA. Catharine Van Dyke Berier Ross, c 1848

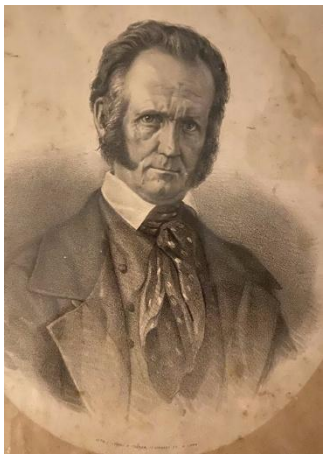
691. Catharine Van Dyke BERIER (350) was born on 14 February 1817. She married Lieutenant Edward Coke Ross (349), son of Hugh Ross (351) and Catherine Biddis (352), on 23 July 1835 at the Narrows by Reverend R. C. Currie.[2443] She died on 7 March 1851 in Brooklyn, Kings, New York, USA, at age 34.

She was known by her family and friends as Kate, Catherine (350).



Edward Coke Ross, c 1848

Lieutenant Edward Coke ROSS (349) was born on 23 May 1800 in Milford, Pike, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Anna DeWitt Clinton (1669), daughter of Major General James Clinton (1681) and Mary Little (1682), on 9 November 1830 in Newburg, Orange, New York, USA.[2444] After a week's illness, he died of pleurisy, on 16 May 1851 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 50. In 1821, he graduated from the United States Military Academy (268th Graduate). He served as an Acting Assistant Professor of Mathematics as a First Class cadet. He was promoted to Second Lieutenant in the 4th Artillery upon graduation and on 23 July 1821 was immediately appointed Assistant Professor of Mathematics

From 5 June to 6 October 1824, he was an Instructor of Mathematics at the Artillery School for Practice at Fort Monroe, Virginia. Then he returned to West Point and a year later became the Principal Assistant Professor of Mathematics. On November 27, 1826 he was promoted to First Lieutenant of the 4th Artillery. In 1831, Lieutenant Edward Coke Ross (349) completed the translation of Bourbon's "Elements of Algebra" from the original French. This was significant because it freed the cadets from the necessity of studying French in order to read their mathematics texts.[2445] On 23 November 1833, he was appointed Principal Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

In 1833, he requested that he join his regiment, the 4th Artillery. From 1834 to 1836, he was stationed at Fort Hamilton, New York on engineer duty. Starting in 1836 through 1839, he was in the Florida War in operations in Creek Nation; against the Seminole Indians; engaged in the Combat of Locha-Hatchee on 24 January 1838; and in the Cherokee Nation while transferring the Indians to the West.[2446] He resigned his commission on 1 Jul 1839 and, after teaching privately, in 1840 accepted the position of Professorship of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio. In 1842, he received an A. M. (unknown acronym) degree from Geneva College, New York. In 1849, he earned a Doctor of Law degree at Kenyon College after he had left employment there. On 1 November 1848, Lieutenant Edward Coke Ross (349) was appointed Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in Free Academy, New York, New York, New York, USA.

The eight known children of Catharine Van Dyke Berier (350) and Lieutenant Edward Coke Ross (349) were as follows:

i. Lieutenant Edward ROSS (1673) was born on 25 July 1836 at Fort Hamilton in New York, New York, New York, USA. He died on 23 July 1862 in Washington, District of Columbia, USA, at age 25. He was buried at Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA, Lot 5736, Section 95. (see # 676).

ii. Catharine Florida ROSS (1672) was born on 14 February 1839. She married Thompson Elath (4187) on 3 June 1858 at New Utrecht Church in Brooklyn, New York City, New York, USA. She died on 24 March 1897 at age 58. She was buried at the New York City Marble Cemetery in East Village, New York, New York, USA. (see # 677).

He married Mary Weygand (2835), daughter of John Albert Weygand (2860) and Dorothy Vandeeren (2861), in 1781 in New Jersey, USA. He died on 31 March 1793 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 43.

Generation Two

Major James Chrystie

708. Major James CHRYSTIE (2828) was born on 13 January 1750 at Hales Quarry in Edinburgh, Midlothian, Scotland.[2493] He married Mary Weygand (2835), daughter of John Albert Weygand (2860) and Dorothy Vandeeren (2861), in 1781 in New Jersey, USA.[2494] He died on 31 March 1793 in New York City, New York, USA, at age 43.[2495]

He graduated in Edinburgh, Midlothian, Scotland.[2496] He and his brother Dr Thomas Chrystie (2831) emigrated in 1775 from Scotland and went to Philadelphia. They both enlisted as Lieutenants in the Regiment of his friend Colonel Craig.[2497] He served with Benedict Arnold's expedition to Canada (1775-1776), Colonel Anthony Wayne at Ticonderoga in 1776, and others.

Major Chrystie was the officer who General George Washington ordered to secure and inspect West Point after the discovery of Benedict Arnold's treason.

At Washington's Inauguration as President in New York City, on April 30, 1789, Major Chrystie was chosen to head the military parade.

Note: I have not tried to capture all of the related branches of Chrystie's tree, but will include them in notes where it makes sense.

> "The chief of the naval parade in the harbor on the same day was Commodore James Nicholson, the future father-in-law of Major Chrystie's son, the Rev. James Chrystie. Commodore Nicholson had been the commander-in-chief of the American Navy from 1777 to 1781. His brothers Samuel and John later held the same command. Samuel had fought under John Paul Jones and had commanded the frigate Constitution."

He was a confidant of Washington and member of New York and Pennsylvania Society of Cincinatti.[2498] The Pennsylvania Society of Cincinnati has a far more detailed outline of his "turbulent" career, which included two court martials. See https://pasocietyofthecincinnati.org/gallery_post/capt-james-chrystie/.[2499]

After the war, he and his wife moved to New York City where they ran a small China business on the ground floor of their house. He also worked part time as a Land Surveyor for the State of Pennsylvania.[2500]

He graduated in 1828 from Columbia College in New York City, New York, USA.[2524] An uncle of his wife, Lieutenant Augustus Conkling Ludlow, was with Captain James Lawrence on the Chesapeake when the dying Lawrence cried, "Don't give up the ship!" These words, in fact, were addressed to Ludlow. The Lieutenant was wounded, but returned to the fight and was sabered again, dying of his wounds. He is buried together with Lawrence in Trinity Churchyard (old Columbia ground) in Manhattan. Ludlow Street, not far from Chrystie Street in downtown New York, is named in his honor. Another brother, Robert Ludlow, was aboard the Constitution when it took the historic surrender of the Guerriere, August 12, 1812.[2525]

Colonel William Wallace Ricketts

720. William Wallace RICKETTS (2445) was born on 22 January 1837 in Rohrsburg, Columbia, Pennsylvania, USA.[2559] He died on 10 August 1862 in Orangeville, Columbia, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 25.[2560] He was buried at the Laurel Hill Cemetery in Orangeville, Columbia, Pennsylvania, USA.[2561]

William Wallace Ricketts (2445) was a Civil War Union Army Officer. He served during the Civil War as Colonel and commander of the 6th Pennsylvania Reserves.

He joined the war effort possibly straight out of medical school as he was a physician and enrolled as a captain, but was quickly promoted to colonel at the young age of 24.

He left the Army because of ill health and died young.[2562]

Captain Robert Bruce Ricketts

721. Robert Bruce RICKETTS (2444) was born on 29 April 1839 in Orangeville, Columbia, Pennsylvania, USA.[2563] He married Elizabeth Reynolds (2446) in 1868.[2564] He died on 13 November 1918 in Colley, Sullivan, Pennsylvania, USA, at age 79.[2565] He was buried at the Ricketts Family Cemetery in Ricketts Glen State Park, Sullivan, Pennsylvania, USA.[2566]

Robert Bruce Ricketts (2444) was a Union Army Officer in the Civil War. He served as Colonel of the 1st Pennsylvania Volunteer Light Artillery. R. Bruce Ricketts is best known for his battery's defense against a Confederate attack on Cemetery Hill on the second day of the Battle of Gettysburg.

From War and Tranquility: From Gettysburg to Glen with Robert Bruce Ricketts, published in Pennsylvania Heritage in 2014:

> Ricketts enlisted in the Union Army in July 1861 as a private and by the time the war ended four years later in spring 1865, he was a colonel and inspector of the artillery reserve for nearly the entire Army of the Potomac.
>
> By the time the opposing Union Army of the Potomac and Confederate Army of Northern Virginia smashed into one another at Gettysburg, Ricketts had already fought in some of the war's bloodiest engagements at the Second Battle of Bull Run, Antietam and Chancellorsville. Before his unit marshaled at noon on July 2, 1863 in Taneytown, Maryland, he had been promoted to captain and commanded a battery unit of the Pennsylvania Light Artillery that was a consolidation of Battery F and Battery G.

The order was clear. Capt. Robert Bruce Ricketts and his two companies of artillery were to hold the Union's left flank on East Cemetery Hill just beyond the outskirts of Gettysburg. "In case you are charged here," Ricketts' commanding officer Col. C.S. Wainwright told him, "...you will not limber up under any circumstances, but fight your battery as long as you can."

When Ricketts' six cannon took their position, Confederate artillery opened fire and the Union batteries returned their volleys. As the sun quietly touched the mountains to the west, troops from Confederate Gen. Harry Hays' famed Louisiana Tigers brigade charged the Union defenses. As written in the chapter on the Pennsylvania Light Artillery in Samuel P. Bates History of the Pennsylvania Volunteers, Ricketts' battery fired "four discharges per minute, throwing five hundred pounds of deadly missiles full in the faces of the foe. But these desperate [Confederate] men had never failed in a charge, and nothing daunted, they closed up where their line was blown away, and rushed forward with deafening yells." According to Ricketts, what Union infantry defended his and the other batteries on the hill behind a stone wall "commenced running in the greatest confusion to the rear, hardly a shot was fired, certainly not a volley, and so panic stricken were they that several ran into the canister fire of my guns and were knocked over."

Ricketts' troops were now exposed. The Louisianans opened fire, but perhaps because of the smoke and evening light, they aimed too high. "I remember well the roar of the torrent of bullets as they passed over our heads," Ricketts wrote 30 years later.

The fight was just beginning. "I do not remember ever to have heard of any member of my command having failed to do his whole duty," Ricketts recalled. "Only once, for a moment, when the [Union] infantry was falling back, some of my men gave back, but were instantly rallied with the cry 'Die on your own soil boys before you give up your guns.'"

The fighting descended into chaotic hand-to-hand combat, the men using handspikes, hammers, pistols, stones or anything they could find to inflict fatal damage on their enemy. "The situation had now become really desperate," Ricketts wrote.

reinforcements from the Union 2nd Corps, commanded by Hancock, rushed to Ricketts' right and drove the Confederates back.

Ricketts later saw action during the Wilderness Campaign and the Siege of Petersburg.[2567]

Robert Bruce Ricketts (2444) was discharged one month before Lee's surrender on June 3, 1865.

The Ricketts owned land at Lake Ganoga, the highest lake east of the Rockies. Ricketts then turned to land speculation for many years. He eventually owned 80,000 acres. His family eventually sold a large portion of the remaining land to the Pennsylvania Game Commission some of which became Ricketts Glen State Park.[2568]

Elizabeth REYNOLDS (2446) was born on 13 April 1842 in Kingston, Lucerne, Pennsylvania, USA.[2569] She died on 19 November 1918 in Pennsylvania, USA, at age 76.[2570]

The two known children of Robert Bruce Ricketts (2444) and Elizabeth Reynolds (2446) both born in Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne, Pennsylvania, USA, were as follows:

i. William Reynolds RICKETTS (2447) was born on 29 July 1869. He died on 14 October 1956 at age 87.

ii. Jean Holberton RICKETTS (2448) was born on 25 May 1873. She died on 5 February 1929 at age 55.
